MEHAMA—Marriage vows were exchanged Thursday night, Aug. 11 at the Mehama Community Presbyterian Church by Bettie Coles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Coles of Mehama and Don Cooper of Gleneden Beach, son of Mrs. Veronica Cooper of that city.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length fitted gown of polished cotton that tapered to a short train with a ruffle; a shoulder length veil of net draped from a tiara set with pearls.

The bride's sister, Brenda, was the bridesmaid and wore a blue summer gown fashioned like the bride's dress. Best man was Richard Mulkey of Gleneden Beach. Candle light was Jo Roberts of Mehama, also wearing a blue summer dress.

The church was decorated with white glads. Colors of blue and white were used for the wedding dinner and reception which followed.

Attending the guest book was Barbara Diester, and receiving gifts was Joan Owens. Rev. Richard Cole, formerly of Mill City, officiated at the double ring ceremony, with Hattie Gollit at the organ.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served to the guests and some from considerable distance. After the dinner the wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Ray Roberts and coffee and punch were served to all the guests.

Among out-of-state guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Antilla (Roxie McCarley) of Kalamazoo, Wash. Others coming from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Widmer, Karen, Susan, Craig and Frang Hallock of Springfield. Mrs. Veronica Cooper and Kay from Gleneden Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hallock from Lincoln City. All the other guests were local persons.

For the wedding the bride's mother wore a beige knitted suit and the mother of the groom chose a dark silk dress for the occasion.

For her going away costume the bride chose a yellow summer suit. The couple plan to spend a week in California and will be at home at Gleneden Beach.
