Direct Dial for Overseas Possible

Direct customer dialing of telephone calls between the Continental United States and the U.S. Virgin Islands was formally inaugurated on September 19, enabling telephone subscribers in the continental United States and on the islands of St. Thomas, St. Croix and St. John to dial one another directly.

This step will mark the first time that U. S. mainland customers will be able to dial directly to an overseas telephone without placing the call through an operator. Also, with the introduction of the service, the Virgin Islands company becomes the first telephone firm abroad to initiate DDD service to the states.

To reach the Virgin Islands, the mainland customer will first dial the area code—809—and then the number desired in St. Thomas, St. Croix or St. John. Conversely, subscribers in the islands will be able to call the states by dialing the numeral "1", the code area—such as 12 for New York, 415 for San Francisco—and then the desired number.

GATES

By Mrs. Floyd Swaim

The Gates Women's club is sponsoring a jewelry party at the Gates Clubhouse November 3 from 12 to 4 p. m. Cookies and coffee will be served.

Friday night will be the last night invitations are open for the square dance beginners class at the Gates Clubhouse. This will be the last free lesson and it starts at 8 p. m.

Fred Stone underwent surgery at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland last Thursday. A pacemaker was placed in his heart to speed it up. It was thought his heart condition may have been a factor in his recent attack of pneumonia due to a lack of oxygen. It was reported Monday that the pneumonia has cleared up and he was recovering satisfactorily from the surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hennes did some bird hunting near Vale from Friday until Sunday. Mrs. Hennes said this was the first fall in the 20 years they have been going over that they got snowed on. They were overnight guests Sunday at the home of her brother and wife, the Reynold Hessemans, at the Sodhouse Bird Refuge at Burns. Glenn enjoyed taking refuge, which included deer movies of the wild life on the and antelope.

Ellen Rust was among the community youth attending a banquet and dance sponsored by the Catholic Daughters in Salem Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dennis and family spent last week on a hunting trip in Eastern Oregon. Also in the party were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dennis and Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCall and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dennis, all of Lebanon. Mrs. Dennis said they took their sled and had a grand time sledding in the several inches of snow. Since eight deer were taken, they obviously didn't spend all their time playing in the snow.

The Bill Hirtles motored to Corvallis Sunday to attend a birthday dinner for their granddaughter, Andria, at the home of their son and family, Capt. and Mrs. Douglas Hirte. Other guests were Mrs. Sharon Wooden and Jeff, Jim Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dolby, all of Corvallis, and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Brien of Sweet Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Moore and three children of Mulino were weekend guests at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Howell.

Bill Gabriel and Jack Evans hunted last week in the Two Springs area. Each got his buck, Bill's a five point.

Joe Bowes received a crushed foot last week when his tractor accidentally crawled forward, catching his foot and leg under a track. It was fortunate he was able to reach up and turn it off before it rolled completely over him.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bowes visited in Portland Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Charles Schobert and her nephew, Tom Schobert, who is attending Lewis and Clark college. He is staying at his grandmother's home, which is near the college.

Tuesday luncheon guests at the home of Mrs. Sarah Rains were Mrs. Fritzie Ward and Mrs. Alice Watson. Guests that evening were Mrs. Rains' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tilmon Rains of Stayton.

Mrs. Lang Stafford was a lucky huntress last Thursday when she brought down a forked horn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Marston of Gresham were visitors on Monday to Thursday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lang Stafford. Mrs. Stafford returned home with them to visit until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stier and Eric of Corvallis weekendend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Barnhardt. Mr. and Mrs. Clare Rush enjoyed a hunting trip near Sisters Saturday.

Sunday visitors at the Clare Rush home were his uncle and cousin, Axel Robertson and Ralph Robertson, Mrs. Elizabeth Wright and their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Rush and children, all of Salem.

Mrs. Dean Sharp attended the wedding of her cousin, Marvin Studebaker and Miss Maria Craigmyle in Stayton Saturday.

Gunter Cline and Doug hunted in the Sisters area Saturday.

Dinner guests at the Cline home Saturday were their son-in-law and daughter, the Allen Tourvilles and family of Salem. Mrs. Cline's birthday anniversary was celebrated. The Clines were dinner guests at the Tourville home in Salem Sunday.

Mrs. Velma Carey was honored with a belated surprise birthday party by members of the Santiam Cooks following their last meeting at the Stayton High school.

John Taylor, Irvin Tucker and Bob Kelle enjoyed a weekend of goose hunting at Summer Lake. They reported having real good luck.

Returning October 18 from a three weeks, 4514-mile vacation trip to Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Montana and Washington were Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Geston. In Danbury, Wis., they visited her aunt, Mrs. Nellie Rixman, an uncle, Earl Chapin, and five sisters. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Almen in Grafton, N. D., Mr. Geston's nephew, Magnus Geston at Fargo, N. D., and his brother, Joe Geston, and Mrs. Gesture Gestin at Edensburg, N. D. and Mrs. Geston's brother, Allen Carpener in Butte, Mont. At Richland, Wn., they were the guests of his nephew, Donald Geston. A sister-in-law and other relatives were visited in Milwaukee before coming home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd St. John and Lee St. John of Salem were Sunday visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Barnhardt who were celebrating their 59th wedding anniversary.

Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mrs. Bessie Novak were Mrs. Mary Haun and her daughter, Mrs. Louise Stevens of Salem.

Charles Blackburn spent last weekend bird hunting near Vale. He got his limit of quail, pheasants and ducks.

Mrs. John Roten has started a Bluebird group for third grade girls. They meet Mondays after school from 2:30 to 3:30 at the Gates school. Members are Babbett Arrance, Lisa Barnhardt, Laurie Bethel, Lynn Bodeker, Renee Brown, Jeannie Drynan, Pam Edwards, Brenda Galleon, Sally Jenkins, Katherine Lunsford, Joanna Murray, Bonnie Shepherd, Shelly Smith and Terry Wettergreen.

The James Cuthberts, Laurie and Jimmie of Salem were Sunday dinner guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Johnson. The men hunted in the afternoon.

Clare Hennes spent last weekend pheasant hunting near Wamic.

Many Visitors Sign At Local Dams

An average of just under 10,800 visitors a day toured U. S. Corps of Eng. Reservoirs in western Oregon during September. A total of 323,900 visitors were counted, compared to 316,100 in September 1965 and 600,900 the previous month.

Visitors to the Corps of Engineers' reservoirs through September this year total 3,198,300—surpassing last year's record total of 3,089,500 for 12 months.

Detroit and Big Cliff Reservoirs east of here drew 57,100 visitors in September to lead all other Willamette River Basin projects. This was above the figure of 53,200 recorded last September, said project engineer Donald Westrick.

Work Smarter... Not Harder

Children will be children and quarreling seems part of the way of life. A mother's first thought may be to step in and solve the problem herself.

However, Mrs. Roberta Frazier, Extension family life specialist at OSU, urges you, to help them solve their problem themselves. Then, you'll be teaching them a skill they can apply to other situations.

Make oven cleaning easier by asking yourself three questions.

What can you leave out? That's easy—leave out the hard scrubbing. This you can do if you wipe out the lining of the oven after each use, before the grease gets baked on. Leave the door ajar after roasting or broiling so that the oven will cool quickly. The open door can also remind you that there's one more cleaning job to do.

Next, ask what cleaners will help. A chemical cleaner will help, especially for the times you're likely to neglect the oven. Or you can spray ammonia on the lining and wash off later. After the oven is clean, spray with one of the silicone products which gives a slick finish and shuns grease.

Third, can you save time with a different tool? Try a dish mop with a handle about a foot long for reaching hard-to-get-at places. Besides being convenient, you'll also save yourself a possible kink in the shoulder.

Broken dishes can be made whole again if you have all the pieces. Epoxy gules will do the trick. We recently mended a sherbet glass. It has gone through the dishwasher cycle many times since, and is still in one piece.

The epoxy glue package includes two separate tubes. You mix small quantities of each just before using. It's useful with many types of materials.

There are other useful mending glues and cements.
