WSCS Officers Are Re-Elected

LYONS — A 12:30 dessert luncheon preceded the meeting of the Womens Society of Christian Service with Mrs. Freda Grugett as hostess. Devotions were by Mrs. Ethel Huffman, who also presided over the business meeting.

The report of the nominating committee was heard and accepted with all officers to be re-elected for another year. The budget was also read and approved. It was voted for the society to finish payments on the organ for the church, and also to send 50 copies of The Upper Room to service men at Vietnam.

Attending the meeting were Mmes. Glenn Julian, W. E. McMahan, Paul Pennington, Wilson Stevens, Elmer Wilson, Lenard Cruson, Clyde Bressler, Mrs. Ethel Huffman and Mrs. Freda Grugett.

Santiam Rebekahs Welcome Member

Myrtle Hellman was welcomed as a new member into Santiam Rebekah lodge at ceremonies held Wednesday evening at the lodge hall. She is formerly of Yucca Rebekah lodge in Victorville, California.

Santiam members voted to sponsor a princess and enter a float in the annual 4th of July parade in Mill City. Melody Barnhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Barnhardt was selected for the honor.

The Rebekahs and Oddfellows will again serve a pancake breakfast before the annual Whitewater Challenge on Memorial Day.

Delegates appointed to attend the Rebekah Assembly of Oregon at Grants Pass in May were Antonia Thomas and Ruby Brisbin. Alternates were Ida Fleetwood and Ann Primeau.

Presiding during the business session Wednesday was Irene Lewin, noble grand.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by Gertrude Weidman and Carmen Barnhardt.

Lynda Lindemann Marries David Tunnell

LYONS—Miss Lynda Lindemann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lindemann of Lyons, became the bride of David Tunnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tunnell, also of Lyons, at Elko, Nevada at the Court House on Saturday, April 1.

Miss Lindemann wore a white knit suit with a green orchid corsage. Their attendants were her brother, Richard Lindemann and Mr. Tunnell's sister-in-law, Mrs. Marlene Tunnell. A wedding dinner was served at the Ranch Inn at 8:00 p.m.

Honored On 60th Wedding Anniversary

Members of Santiam Rebekah lodge and other friends honored Mrs. Walter Olmstead on the occasion of her 60th wedding anniversary, Tuesday, April 4th.

Mrs. Olmstead was unable to be present for the Reception at the lodge hall because of poor health.

Mrs. Olmstead was escorted to the center of the lodge hall by Claude Lewin, noble grand of the IOOF order. She was presented a corsage and a lovely "wedding" veil of net and flowers placed on her head.

Mrs. Claude Lewin, noble grand read a prayer and later many old time songs were sung by those present with Mrs. Walter Brisbin at the piano.

Decorations in the hall and dining room were attractively arranged and a large anniversary cake, punch, and coffee were served.

Furnishing entertainment for the evening were several tables of cards in play and a table of Bingo.

New Club Formed In Lyons Area

A group of women in the Lyons, Mehama and Mill City area have formed a Lyon's Junior Women's Club.

The club is to unite women between the ages of 18 and 40, who enjoy putting their talent and time to work for causes that benefit their families and communities, and to gain new friendships.

Members of the Lebanon Junior Women's Club have met with the women to help them organize. The Lyons Junior Women will be a member of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs, which has 83 clubs in Oregon.

Mrs. Walter Rich of Portland is President of Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Richard Schaefer of Lebanon is Oregon Junior Director.

Women of the area interested in becoming Charter Members of the group may contact Mrs. Robert Franklin, Lyons.

Leaving for Elko Friday morning for the wedding with Miss Lindemann were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lindemann, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lindemann of Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cramer of Sublimity, and Mr. and Mrs. John Tunnell attended from Elko.

The young couple are both graduates of Stayton Union High School and he is now employed with Stromberg Telephone company at Elko.

RAMBO'S RAMBLINGS

"A little knowledge is a dangerous thing"—thus goes the old adage and if that is the case I am a loaded bomb. Since my enforced vacation I have been indulging in my favorite hobby of reading.

At the present time my choice ranges from a Christian Agnostic to a real thrilling Who-dunit. All those little odds and ends that I might have done while worrying around walking on crutches remain undone. One thing I want to learn—how to knit. Is there anyone with a lot of patience who would like to teach me the art?

As I have said before there is something about the newspaper business that really gets in the blood—and after a much needed (as well as enforced) rest I find that the old plant really looks good to me. With so many of the small papers going off-set, those not working in "old-fashioned" plants lose a certain amount of a feeling of fulfillment on Press Day—but progress is here to stay!

To the many of you who have had accidents and injuries it is unnecessary for me to say this—but to those who have never been slowed down, let me tell you that you may feel sorry for the other guy but until you walk with his crutch, you never know the frustrated feeling. However, I think sometimes these things happen for a reason and slowing down gives one a chance to get a little perspective—and sort out the things of real value from the trash.

There is one gal here in town that never lets anything get her down—and like everyone else she has no doubt had things that could have. Also, something that a lot of people may not know—she made news quite a number of years ago all over the nation.

I am speaking of Irene Podrabsky who was featured in Ripley's Believe It or Not (Remember when?). Then known as Irene Palon (before Arey caught up with her) she was quite a basketball player at Scio high school and had scored 346 points in 12 games. She has a number of clippings on the pictured article and said at the time she had letters from people all over the country. Well, no wonder—that's really rolling 'em in.

This is the time of year when people get out their travel folders or at least THINK about where they hope to be spending a quiet (?) vacation this summer. Camping—so called, has become one of the most popular ways to spend the summer. In fact some who actually live in even smaller areas spend a considerable amount of time "camping out" and driving to and from work. What a difference now than the way it used to be. Getting back to nature now may find you listening to the camper next door rockin' and rollin' with a transistor—even though you are 50 miles from electricity. Then there is the status symbol—a portable TV. Yep, that's the life, sitting around the campfire and watching Bonanza.

Then there are folding chairs, hiking shoes, electric lanterns, air mattresses, ice chests and camping fees! Oh well, I can hear the younger generation saying—you mean there was another way?

Guess this must be old age catching up with me—it's easier to remember something that happened years ago than what I did last week.

On the lighter side, there was this woman whose husband was an extreme hypochondriac, and she had just about reached the end of her patience.

Thinking of some sure-fire method of curing him she decided to pretend to be ill herself, hoping he might become so concerned about her that he would forget his own ailments. One evening she greeted him with a recital of how miserable she felt. The husband was very quiet through dinner and the wife elatedly thought her ruse was working. But she was soon to be disillusioned.

"I don't know what's wrong with me," he groaned. "I think I must be coming down with what you've got."
