attendance of the graduating classes 1960-67. Several letters were received from those who were not able to attend, some who are in the armed services.

Frank Storey was elected president and Margaret Baker of Portland was elected secretary of the 1960-67 group. Storey is attending Pacific University at Forest Grove and Miss Baker is attending nursing school at Good Samaritan in Portland.

Other distinguished guests were Stanley Frankum, construction supervisor; Dr. John Davis, professor of Central College, Ellensburg, Wn. Davis graduated with the class of 1952. Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Lumen of Salem, building supervisor, State Department of Education; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Covey, Marion County school office, Salem; Fred Paulus, legal advisor, Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Regal, Portland, former superintendent here and Mr. and Mrs. Evan Evenson, Lincoln City. The new facility has 27,000 square feet and is of masonry construction. An added attraction is a touch of foreign material, some from the Netherlands and all of the corking in the gym floor is from Portugal.

Landscaping of the grounds will get underway this fall. Supt. Dummer said Monday, there are 55 high school students in attendance, and that 15 seniors will graduate next May, the largest graduating class on record. With a noticeable touch of pride he said, "schools in Detroit, Mich., are out, but schools in Detroit, Oregon are in."

1967 Grade School Enrollment Same As Last Year

Verne Peterman, principal, said that enrollment at the Mill City Elementary and Gates primary was about the same as last year with a total of 363 students registered.

There are 49 first graders; 45 second graders; 43 third graders; 54 fourth graders; 38 fifth graders; 43 sixth graders; 39 seventh graders and 53 eighth graders.

Each grade level is divided into two classrooms with the seventh and eighth grades being semi-departmentalized. This means that each curricular area is taught by a teacher specialized in that specific field. Social studies is being taught by Al Glover; Science, Roger Mink; English, Patty Beets; Math, Mary Wright; Physical Education, Roger Mink and Marion White.

Teaching sixth grade this year are Herb Bastuscheck, Beulah Bowes and Leo Poole; Elaine Main and Wallace Hoovey instruct the fifth grade. Sigrid Grimstad and Audreyann Morley are the fourth grade teachers.

At the Gates Primary, Olive Barnhardt and Marge Parker teach the first grade and Gwen Schaer and Eva Benefiel the second with Marion Dorothy and Thelma Phelps instructing the third grades.

New Hiway Law Now In Effect

Slowpoke drivers who refuse to let other drivers pass will now face a penalty of up to $100 or 10 days imprisonment.

The new law, which took effect Wednesday, September 13, requires slow moving vehicles on two-lane roads to pull over at the first opportunity and let faster traffic pass. On multi-lane highways, such as free ways, slow moving vehicles must stay in the right lane—leaving the left lane clear for cars moving at faster speeds.

How do you know if you're a slow driver? Holly Holcomb, Superintendent of the Oregon State Police, says, "You will probably be considered a slow moving vehicle anytime you travel slower than the normal flow of traffic and cause a string of cars to pile up behind you. When this happens, it's time to pull over and let faster traffic pass you at the first safe spot to do so."

Holcomb said he expects the new law to curb the great number of accidents that occur when other drivers become impatient and take foolish chances in passing the slow driver. "While the slow driver doesn't always become involved in accidents himself," said Holcomb, "he does cause other drivers to have accidents."

The new law gives the slow driver a choice: He can drive with the prevailing speed of the other traffic, or he can pull over to let traffic pass.

You can see most all types of vehicles at the Mill City Postoffice. Not long ago we had a pony tied to the door. Last week this vintage Model T was driven to "get the mail" by Roy Gibson, who is pictured above with Connie Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams. Williams who owns the rig, had driven the venerable 1924 car from San Francisco. The Enterprise editor had to use the crank to help get it started before it could be driven away. Cokey Williams is still driving race cars, according to his daughter.—The Mill City Enterprise photo.

Vintage Car Makes Fast Trip to Calif.;

Shave Cream Blows Up
Mr. and Mrs. George "Cokey" Williams left Saturday for their home in Lorenzo, Calif., after visiting with Mill City relatives.

While here, their vintage car, a 1924 Ford roadster, was quite a "conversation piece." The car is in perfect shape with Williams restoring it to its original condition.

It really has quite a bit of speed and they rolled right along to their home, arriving without mishap. Mrs. Williams phoned her mother Mrs. Roy Gibson to let them know they got back home O. K. She said the only "blow-up" they had was a can of her husband's aerosol shaving cream!

Bee Sting Sends Detroit Woman to Santiam Hospital

DETROIT — Mrs. Bertha Loken of Detroit was taken to Santiam Memorial hospital in Stayton Friday evening for medical attention following a sting from a yellow jacket.

The sting was followed by a breaking out of a rash and considerable swelling.

Mrs. Loken said the doctor told her there is a capsule that can be taken immediately after the sting which will counteract the reaction; which otherwise might be fatal. It might be wise to have a few of these on hand since this is the time of year the ferocious little creatures are on the war path.

Hunting Ban Is Lifted

In emergency action Monday morning, the Oregon Game Commission lifted all hunting closures which opened up several big game seasons and an area for blue and ruffed grouse hunting, all of which were previously closed because of fire hazard. The directive became effective Tuesday morning, September 12.

The emergency measure opened up the High Cascade Buck Hunt, the Douglas, Jackson, and Josephine Agricultural Deer Season, the Wasco, Rogue, and Sixes Archery Seasons, and the blue and ruffed grouse season from the Cascade summit to Highway 97.

The Commission advised hunters that if the high fire hazard conditions return, hunting seasons may be closed to protect forests and rangelands.

Following is a list of seasons affected by the emergency opening. Hunters should note the extended season dates for the archery seasons and the High Cascade Buck Hunt
