Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly returned Monday evening from an interesting trip which took them to Glacier National Park where their son, John Kelly, has been employed as a dining-room waiter in the Many Glacier Hotel the past two summers. They left here Wednesday Morning, Aug. 28, stayed over night at their daughter's home in Pullman, Wash., arriving at Glacier on Thursday evening. Marion County Gets $2 Million From Social Security

A record $2,054,486 was paid out in social security cash benefits to 23,994 residents of Marion County for February, according to Clair I. Flaten, Salem Social Security District Manager, an increase of $395,627 over the amount paid out for December 1966.

In the upper North Santiam area in Marion County (Me-hama, Mill City, Gates, Detroit, Idanha) the February 1968 benefits totaled $33,000 to 383 beneficiaries.

"February 1968 was the first month in which increased benefit rates provided by the 1967 Amendments to the Social Security Act were payable," Flaten noted.

Nationally, the amount of monthly benefits exceeds $2 billion, an increase of more than $300 million above the December 1966 figure. More than 24 million men, women, and children, or nearly 1 out of every 8 Americans, are now receiving some type of monthly benefit.

About 18.4 million of those receiving benefits at the end of February were 62 or older. An additional 2.2 million were disabled workers under 62 and their young dependents.

About 3.4 million social security beneficiaries were young widowed mothers and their children, the district manager said, noting that a total of about $19 billion has been paid to orphaned children and their mothers since January 1940, when monthly survivors benefits became payable.

In the past 6 years alone, benefit payments to this "younger group" have amounted to 1 1/4 times as much as the amount paid out in this category during the preceding 21 years.

Many younger people also receive benefits due to disability. More than $2.2 million is being paid each month to disabled workers and their dependents—a rate that is 10 percent higher than that of December 1966.

"Most of the changes in the 1967 social security amendments provided more protection for younger people," Flaten noted. For instance, some 175,000 children are now eligible for benefits based upon the earnings of a mother who has died or is entitled to disability or retirement benefits. Previously, women needed to have worked for at least one and a half of the last three years. However, that requirement has been removed. Payments can now be made to the children of a woman worker who has died, become disabled, or retired if she has enough work credits—earned at any time—to be "fully insured."

Another change made 100,000 younger persons — disabled workers and their dependents

Major Battle Due Against Litter

There will be at least one more major battle against litter this summer, according to one leading Pacific Northwest litter-prevention and beautification spokesman.

Now that Labor Day is over State Highway cleanup crews throughout Washington and Oregon are readying themselves for the final major onslaught of vacationers on highways, parks, and beaches." Eugene B. Kasper, executive director of CLEAN and Beautiful, pointed out.

In addition, beautification groups in the Northwest are doing their best to plead the anti-litter cause, with vacationers cut for a final fling. "Unfortunately, it's litter that usually gets flung," Kasper said.

The leader of CLEAN and Beautiful, the business and industry-sponsored organization serving Washington and Oregon, said more than a half-million dollars are spent each year cleaning up the highways in the two states. Such organizations as the U. S. Forest Service and others also budget millions more to clean up litter.

—eligible for benefits.

The amount of social security work credits required for the payment of benefits to workers who become totally disabled before they reach 31 years of age has been reduced substantially—for those below 24 years of age, to as little as a year and a half of coverage.

Some 65,000 widows, unable to work because of severe disability, were able to get monthly benefits as early as age 50. Dependent disabled widowers also became eligible for payments, and in some cases, so did divorced wives of deceased workers.
