Mary Holthouse Writes for OSU Extension Service

Editor's Note — Miss Mary Holthouse, who has been connected with the Oregon State University Extension Service for a number of years, is a graduate of the former Mill City High school. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Holthouse were long-time residents of the area. Miss Holthouse has lived in Corvallis for many years, moving there with her mother after the death of her father.

Holidays mean tasty treats and entertaining, and the women's program scheduled in conjunction with the meeting of the Washington-Oregon Nut Growers Society in Salem recently, will offer exciting ideas for both.

Miss Nancy Haugland, home economist for PP&L featured filberts in a demonstration at the Marlon Hotel.

Cookies were baked in an electronic range. Other portable appliances such as the electric skillet, portable oven, and blender were used in demonstrating the use of filberts in steamed puddings, candies, fruit salad and other popular foods especially suited to Christmas and holiday parties.

Assisting Mrs. Haugland were "Polly Pacific" from Corvallis, Mrs. Cheri Mooney, who demonstrated some techniques for making Christmas yeast breads.

Copies of the holiday-type recipes and entertaining tips were given those attending the program.

Detroit Ranger Station To Receive Timber Bids

DETROIT—Sealed bids will be received by the Detroit District Ranger up to and not later than 10:00 A. M. December 31st, followed immediately by oral bidding on an estimated 18,000,000 board feet of federal timber in the Eagle Rock Fire No. 3 timber sale.

The sale involves 10,300,000 board feet of Douglas-fir logs and peeler blocks, an unestimated amount of Douglas-fir special cull logs and blocks, and 7,700,000 board feet of Western hemlock and other coniferous species logs. Advertised rate per thousand is Douglas fir $39.75, Douglas-fir special cull logs and blocks, $2.40 and Western-hemlock and other coniferous species logs $28.30 per thousand.

Douglas-fir special cull logs and blocks will be sold at a fixed rate. In addition there is within the sale area an estimated 613 acres of all species of substandard logs which the bidder may remove at a $1.00 per acre.

Bids may be submitted for either the standard timber alone or for the standard timber and substandard timber. The substandard timber, if included in the bid, will be sold at the advertised rate of a $1.00 per acre.

The stand of Willamette National Forest timber is located Northeast of Detroit, and is the last of four sales planned by the U. S. Forest Service to harvest timber from the Eagle Rock area damaged by one of the major fires of the disastrous 1967 fire season.

Several hundred acres of Douglas-fir and hemlock forest were destroyed by the lightning set blaze.
