Carol Ann Ragsdale Marries Don Cree In Saturday Evening Ceremony

Pink and burgundy were the colors chosen by Miss Carol Ann Ragsdale for her wedding to Donald Lowell Cree on Friday evening at the First Christian church in Salem.

Rev. Larry Laird of Wakita, Okla., and Wishaw, Lanarkshire, Scotland, performed the double-ring ceremony at 8:30 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ragsdale, Sr., and Mr. Cree is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Cree all of Mill City.

Baskets of pink and burgundy gladiolas and white chrysanthemums decorated the church.

Lighting the candles were Miss Patty Ragsdale and Miss Connie Ragsdale, cousins of the bride from Newport. Both wore pink linen floor length dresses edged in lace and white gladiola corsages.

Mrs. Eugene Davenport was the organist and accompanied Herbert Bastuscheck, who sang "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white Peau de Soie made a line with a bold length lace bodice with long sleeves and lace appliques extending down the front. Her wattleau train falling from her shoulders also was applied with lace. Her pouff veil was held by a wedding ring crown of lace the same as her gown. The scalloped neckline of her gown was edged with a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladiolas.

The bridal gown was fashioned and hand made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ernest Ragsdale, Jr., of Bend, who is a native of Austria.

For something old the bride wore a dainty gold bracelet set with pearls, a gift from her aunt, which she brought with her from Austria.

Miss Bonnie Reis of Salem was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of rose colored linen edged in lace with matching shoes. Her head piece of net fell from a bow. She carried an arm bouquet of pink gladiolas tied with a burgundy bow.

Miss Dena Pearce was bridesmaid. Her floor length gown was made identical to that of the maid of honor. It was pink with matching headpiece and flowers.

Robert Ditter of Springfield served as best man. Ushers were Robert Boroughs from Eugene, Alan Haywood from Salem and Larry Ragsdale, the bride's brother. All wore burgundy dinner jackets.

The bride's mother chose a pink crepe street length dress with pink and white accessories for her daughter's wedding.

The groom's mother wore a pink lace over rose colored taffeta with pink and white accessories. Both wore burgundy rosebud corsages.

A reception followed in the social rooms of the church. Cutting and serving the cake was Mrs. Earl Ragsdale of Aumsville, an aunt of the bride. Pouring the coffee was Mrs. Lenthal Ragsdale of Newport and pouring the punch was Mrs. Donald Ragsdale of Salem, both aunts of the bride.

Mrs. Marcie Ragsdale, the bride's cousin from Aumsville, passed the guest book.

At the gift table were Mrs. Mark Peterson from Turner, the bride's cousin, Mrs. Henry Zurluh, of Scio, and Mike Ragsdale of Aumsville, also a cousin of the bride.

The young couple went to Crater Lake and Mt. Hood on their honeymoon. They will make their home in Mill City.

Both are graduates of Santiam Union High school. The bride graduated from Oregon College of Education last June. She will be teaching English at Scio High this year.

The groom attended Wenatchee Junior College and OCE. He is presently employed in the logging industry.

Sharon Evans Marries Michael Swaim Aug. 9

Mrs. Sharon Marie Evans became the bride of Michael Allen Swaim Saturday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Evans of Gates.

Rev. Charles Fultz of the Mill City Christian Church officiated at the 7:00 o'clock ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Swaim, also of Gates.

For her wedding, the bride chose a short A-line dress of pink organdy. The long sleeves were trimmed at the wrist with pastel multicolored braid which also bordered a panel on the dress front. She carried an old fashioned nosegay.

The bride's only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert J. Evans II of The Dalles. She wore a beige sheath dress trimmed with black applique across the bodice.

Bruce Blumenstein of Gates served as best man for Mr. Swaim.

Witnessing the rites, in addition to the immediate families of the couple, were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Robert L. Evans and Mrs. David Bartlett, both of The Dalles and grandparents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chubb of Oakridge. Other members of the family joined the group for a reception at the Evans home following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Sand Point High School, Sand Point, Ida. The bridegroom is a graduate of Santiam High School and attended O.T.I. last year. He is employed with Hoover's Repair. The couple is at home at 339 S.W. Cedar Apt. No. 3, Mill City.

Engaged

Mrs. George Stafford is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Delores Ann to Terry William Drake. Both are graduates of Santiam High school. Mr. Drake is an employee of the U. S. Forest Service and Miss Stafford is a graduate of Salem Community college. She is employed presently in a Salem office.

The young couple plan an October wedding.

Gates School Reunion Held Sunday, Aug. 17

The occasion of the ninth annual reunion of Gates High School alumni, faculty, former students and patrons was the source of much pleasant reminiscing and renewing of friendships Sunday at the Gates High School building. Though the use of the building is limited to the Mill City-Gates kindergarten in one room and the basement housing the cafeteria for the Gates Elementary now, it still provides a pleasant and sentimental meeting spot for the reunion each third Sunday in August since 1962.

Serving as president this year was Mrs. Joe Frichtl (Ruby Nystrom) of Corvallis and Ansel Hayward of Portland as secretary. By unanimous vote they were re-elected for next year's meeting.

The basement was attractively decorated in the school colors of orange and black, and other school memorabilia such as a school sweater, basketball uniform and many school annuals.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Jones of Gold Beach were introduced and welcomed. Mr. Jones was the principal for 14 years.

Ansel Hayward, secretary, announced he is compiling a history of the school and is enlisting the help of anyone who has information regarding the school in any way.

Mrs. Ferd Jones won the door prize, a hand painted china plate, done by Ruby Frichtl. The award for coming the farthest went to Daniel Romey of Troutdale. Kenneth Dike of Washington missed by coming in after the presentation. The class of 1925 was recognized as having the best percentage present.

It was interesting to note that among those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Schroeder of Mill City. Herb was one of the carpenters who worked on the high school in 1923, and both Herb and Mabel are long time boosters of the Canyon.

One of the highlights of the meeting were the many, many photographs brought by Herman Graf of Salem. The pictures were of the Santiam Canyon and its citizenry of the early 1900s.

Anyone able to add to the school's history, please contact Ansel Hayward at 2350 S. E. 176th Ave., Portland, Ore. 97233.

Today (Friday) I have just about enough strength left to write a so-called column. It doesn't take any physical strength and very little mental—which is a good thing. Yesterday, which turned out to be about the hottest day of the year, or so it seemed—my husband and I along with grandson, Steven, packed our daughter's belongings to ship to West Virginia. Mel is recovering from minor surgery and so I was on the pulling and tugging end of the deal—found out I still have what passes for muscles—at least today there are a number of twinges here and there.

But to the good side of the week—it is fun having a youngster around again, particularly a grandchild that we can spoil a little. However, Steve is such a good kid, we don't think a little spoiling will hurt him.

Don, George and I were talking (as usual) during coffee break this morning—saying that is a good thing we don't have a tape recorder around, as our talks are sometimes heated, funny, serious and at times plain ridiculous—anyhow it is something that I will miss when the time comes for me to take life a little easier.

Like everywhere for the past few weeks there has been considerable talk around here on the space program—and the moon landing. It was a vast, expensive undertaking but something that I felt a great deal of pride in.

Certainly the money could have been used "here on earth"—but a point as far as I'm concerned is that this new adventure is something the country NEEDED. It was a shot in the arm. It brought the most creative minds and personalities in the country together in a common effort. They are the kind of people like our ancestors who crossed deserts and mountains, built new railroads, crossed the Atlantic and advanced our boundaries in other ways.

The U. S. has needed a new frontier. We cannot solve our "earthly" problems without having national pride and confidence and I feel that the moon flight gave us that.

As far as social welfare, poverty, hunger and employment are concerned—they are not so easily solved by a computer. The human mind and heart refuses to be engineered like a rocket. The American people being the way they are I doubt that we will ever become robots—so our strife and strain and the problems with our way of life will no doubt continue to exist.

Any time we can ALL work toward a common goal—we will no doubt eradicate many of our problems, but if couples, families and cities all have different ideas on what their purposes and achievements should be—think we will not be "computerized" for some time.

Speaking of Americans, heavenly bodies and money—did you hear the one about the American who finally arrived at the "Pearly Gates" after a long and perilous journey. St. Peter met him at the gate. After telling the new arrival the rules of the place, he handed him a golden harp.

The American accepted it gingerly. "How much is the first payment?" he asked.
