OBITUARIES

REV. HUGH GEARIN

EUGENE—The Rev. Hugh Gearin, a former district attorney of Curry County who entered the priesthood, died last Tuesday of a circulatory ailment at his home here.

The Office of the Dead was held at 8 p. m. Friday at St. Mary's Cathedral followed by the Requiem Mass of Concelebration at 10:30 a. m. Saturday. Interment was in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

Born in San Diego on Feb. 5, 1912, Father Gearin received his law degree from Georgetown University. He served as Curry County district attorney from 1947 to 1950.

Entering Mt. Angel Seminary in 1950, he was ordained six years later and served as assistant pastor of St. Rose Church in Kenmore, Wash.

Fr. Gearin was pastor here for about two years and made his home then in the Ressler house.

In Portland, Father Gearin was assistant pastor of the Holy Family Church from 1963 to 1966. At his death, he was pastor of St. Jude's Parish in Eugene, which he established.

During World War II, Father Gearin served with the Signal Corps in Africa.

He is survived by his sister, Mary Matilda Barker of Seaside, two nephews and three nieces.

Elk Season Next For Nimrods

It's the big one coming up for Oregon hunters. November 1 marks the opening of the Rocky Mountain elk season in eastern Oregon which is scheduled to extend through November 19. West side hunters will have a later season for Roosevelt elk, with this season scheduled from November 15 through November 23.

The Game Commission reminded hunters that they are restricted to hunting in one area or the other and must have the proper elk tag for that area. In other words, hunters after Rocky Mountain elk in eastern Oregon and the Mount Hood area must have the Rocky Mountain elk tag; those after Roosevelt elk in the Cascades and Coast ranges must have the Roosevelt elk tag.

Bag limit is one bull elk with antlers longer than the ears. Exception to this rule is in the Southeastern Elk Units where hunters may take either sex animals from November 1 through 14 and bull elk only for the remainder of the eastern Oregon season.

Regulations provide that hunters killing an animal must retain in their possession the antlers with scalp and eyes attached while the carcass is in the field or forests or in transit. Firearms regulations for elk hunting restrict the hunter to rifles of at least .25 inch caliber and developing 1220 foot pounds of energy at 100 yards. Rifles which do not meet both of these requirements are not legal for elk hunting.
