Annual Style Show Held Thursday at Santiam Auditorium

The new Santiam High Auditorium made the perfect setting for the annual Home Economics Style Show attended by many parents, students, and friends Thursday evening.

This year's theme for the affair was "Western Showdown of Fashions," with the clever stage-setting of an authentic buckboard wagon, several additional wagon wheels, saddles and bright saddle blankets on saw-horses, and even a section of an old rain fence carrying out the idea.

A highlight of the affair was the group of "bachelors," modeling the shirts they had made. Included were John Brannan, Gordon Plotts, Paul Freeman, Jerry Hutchinson, Leo Poole, and Kim Gabriel.

Co-ordinator for the well-presented show was Mrs. Sherry Leisinger, Home Economics instructor. Other helping "back instructor. Others helping "back at the ranch," according to the clever programs, were: Curtain, Mike Moffatt; Lights, Darrell Plotts, and Runners, Karen Davis and Debbie Barnhardt.
