LABOR DAY 1971

'PM ON 24-HOUR DUTY, FOLKS!'

We are about to observe another three-day weekend. On the last one, Independence Day, 636 persons were killed on the highways. By comparison, during the same week, 29 U. S. soldiers were killed in battle in Vietnam.

The war is coming to an end, but there seems to be no end in sight for senseless highway slaughter.

Many lives could be saved if motorists took the simple precaution of being certain their automobiles were functioning properly before leaving home. Others could be saved by using the safety belts provided by all manufacturers. And still more could be saved if that "one for the road" was made from a recipe of three parts of caution mixed with one part of common sense.

If you are driving over the Labor Day weekend, we want you to have a pleasant holiday and to see you and your family back home safely. Drive defensively and, if in doubt about safety, don't drive.

Navy Senior Chief Petty Officer Jerry O. Truhill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Truhill of Oak St., Gates, participated in the first night operation which simultaneously employed dual methods to refuel and resupply an underway aircraft carrier. With the hazards of two ships steaming together at close refueling quarters intensified by South China Sea darkness, Truhill's ship, the nuclear powered attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, took fuel from the combat stores ship USS Sacramento by the familiar "highline" method. At the same time, in another critical operation, the "Big E" was receiving vital supplies by helicopter transfer from the multi-mission Sacramento.
