Swans Return from Visit With Relatives

Mr. and Mrs. John Swan returned Saturday, October 9, from a three weeks' automobile trip with Mr. and Mrs. Oral Williams of Salem, formerly of Mill City, to the Midwest where they visited many relatives in Kansas and Illinois.

Two older sisters of Mrs. Swan's are residents of nursing homes in Stafford, Kans., and the three sisters had not seen each other for five years. Mr. Swan had not been back for ten years, so it was quite a reunion. Many other relatives were also visited, and the Swans especially enjoyed touring through the Western part of Kansas where they formerly lived.

Following the Kansas visit, the travelers went on to Missouri where still another sister and other relatives live. Mrs. Swan figured up that they had seen a total of 35 relatives during the interesting trip.

After the stop in Missouri, the Swans were driven to the home of their son, John E. Swan (Brick) and his wife, Helen, who live at Fithian, Illinois, where he is a "gentleman farmer," raising soy-beans and hybrid corn. He was very busy in the midst of combining when his parents were there, and it was of great interest to them. The younger Swans have two daughters and their families in the area, including a new month-old great-grandson of the elder Swans, and three other great-grandsons.

On the Eastern trip, the touring party visited Yellowstone National Park and the Crater of the Moon, but on the return trip Mrs. Swan stated they "came right straight through" to Oregon. They encountered good weather most of the time, but were happy to return to their home in the West.
