BUY 1,000 TREES?

Yes, trees... like blue-chip stocks... are a good investment. Tree farming, growing timber as a crop, has profitable rewards and pays annual dividends. It's a "growth" industry. Ask an industry forester how you can join the Tree Farm System.

New Program Started At Detroit High
 DETROIT—A new program started recently at Detroit High school called a "Woods Product Cluster". The program is under the "Cluster Group" type of classes of which the idea is toward a more vocational aspect of teaching. Detroit's program is a two hour block of time at the end of each school day, and the class is limited to Junior and Senior students.
 There are several different "Cluster Groups" in various areas such as business, machinery, automotive and etc. taught at other schools.
 The Woods Product Cluster class will cover all of the aspects of the Lumber Industry starting with the tree in the forest till the time it is turned to a useful product. The idea is to expose the students to all the various steps and job opportunities involved in the timber industry.
 The program includes field trips for demonstrations (observe the falling tree), and for observing something like a paper mill. Guest speakers who are authorities in these areas are invited into the class room. They give lectures and, if desired, demonstrations in the forest.
 Later in the year, a work experience will be initiated where the boys of the class will actually work on the job at some of these occupations. The class is taught by Douglas Ableman, High School teacher, with the assistance of Lawrence (Larry) Poole who organizes field trips and engages speakers. Some of the topics covered so far, are the history of logging, tree identification and falling of timber. Some of the areas yet to be covered will include Timber Cruising, Transporting of logs and lumber, Reforestation, Plywood Mills and Paper Mills, ect.
