Winter so far doesn't seem to be as severe as it might be, there are a few loggers working and that always is a good sight. Many years in January no loggers are working. Friday afternoon visitors at the home of Mrs. Fritz Ward were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pietze of Mehama. Josephine Hampton attended a reunion meeting of her cake decorating class at the home of Doreen Hellemm in Stayton recently. After a potluck lunch enjoyed by the 11 present, Doreen gave a demonstration on the making and uses of Marzipan. This is an almond paste, used to make figures, fruits and decorative objects. Jack and Hazel Shewmake and Jack's sister, Ethel Sims, were sitting at the dining room table the other day when they were startled by a rather loud exploding sound. They couldn't imagine what had happened, until they discovered an outside faucet had blown up. It was one of those real cold days last week and Jack doesn't think that is very good weather to do outside plumbing work.

Friday, Walt and Toni Thomas, and Chris Emmerson went to Detroit to attend the basketball game Detroit played with OSSD with Detroit the victor.

A Thursday afternoon visitor at Mary Wilsons home was Irene Paullin who is the weather reporter from Detroit.

Mrs. Evelyn Brock and three children, formerly of Idanha, have moved to the Harold Wilson rental on the Linn County side of the bridge.

Stopping at the home of Mary Stafford Sunday afternoon were Mrs. Louise Case and Tari of Beaverton.

Mrs. Rose Barry passed away Sunday evening. She had been making her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carr of Mill City. Funeral services are pending.

The Dave Barnhardt family traveled to the coast Sunday but the weather was miserable. Carmen said they were walking along Agate Beach when it started sleeting and they were drenched before getting back to the car. Dave hadn't gone for the walk with them and didn't believe they could get so wet, so quickly. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cannon and Brenda were overnight visitors at the Glen Henness home, visiting other friends in the area while here. The Cannons are residents of Shelton, Wn.

Mrs. Keith Henness of Albany brought her two children, Terry and Ronnie for a couple of days visit with their grandparents, Glen and Lola Henness. She returned to get them Thursday.

Joe and Beulah Bowes traveled to Redding, Calif., for the Christmas Holidays, being very lucky to make the trip between storms. Friday they went to Newport for dinner but found their favorite restaurant closed when they arrived. Good thing Newport has more than one restaurant or it would have been a long hungry trip.

Paul and Elydia Smith are settling into their home just east of Mill City on the Linn County side. They purchased it last summer and have been doing extensive remodeling before moving in. Last Tuesday Walt and Delora Hegg of Milwaukie stopped by for an overnight visit. She is a sister of Elydia. Mr. Hegg is helping the Smiths with the remodeling work.

Sunday a family gathering was held at the home of the Clyde Oliviers in honor of Mrs. Oliver's birthday. There for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Oliver and family of Sherwood, Terry and Donna Lee Muir and family of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Keith Oliver and family and Ed's mother from Salem, Denny, Sherry and Tamara Cline of The Dalles, and Louise Oliver. The nicest part of the day was the kids brought the dinner so Mrs. Oliver didn't have to do the cooking.

Last Wednesday Bob Oliver underwent surgery for gall stones and removal of his appendix. He is still in the hospital (Monday) but expected to leave there in a day or so.

Monday Catherine Turnidge and Mildred Hostettler went to Salem to attend the meeting called "Antiques-Fun and Fortune." Speaker was Mildred McDuffy of Portland. She has made a number of TV appearances and is a feature writer for a Portland daily. Her description of herself is "A one-woman army bent on taking the stuffiness and snobbery out of Antique collecting." Mom said she was an interesting speaker and had brought a few of her antique purchases to show at the meeting.

CHILDREN WHOSE body chemistry has been distorted get highly personalized testing and care at the March of Dimes Metabolic Clinic at the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland. Dr. Neil Buist, director, draws a blood sample from Corey Kehm, 4, with help from March of Dimes volunteer, Mrs. Dora Calef. Corey and his brother Henry, 8, are being treated for vitamin D-resistant rickets, an inherited disorder that caused malformation of their legs. "Metabolic disorders, or inborn errors of metabolism, are dangerous birth defects that may remain hidden, and thus untreated, for months or years," Dr. Buist says.

Spending Christmas eve and day at the home of Mel and Dorothy Newberg were her parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mulligan and George Druse of Mill City. Also there were Pete, Penny and their three children. Right after Christmas Pete, Penny, and the children flew back to North Carolina to visit Pete's folks and other relatives.

They had a rather eventful trip, first they had to make an emergency landing (on the trip home) because of an oil leak, and this delayed them about an hour, then when they were trying to land at Chicago the air traffic was so thick they had to circle 45 minutes before landing. Then at another place they hit an air pocket and dropped so suddenly that several people were slightly injured by falling luggage. They had been told to fasten their seatbelts in this area due to a similar occurrence to another plane awhile back where a number of passengers were seriously injured.

The Ed Delkers son-in-law and daughter from Hillsboro spent the weekend with them. Son, Ron, was also here for the weekend, from Eugene where he will be working for the winter. Sunday afternoon visitors at the Delkers were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gulliford and family. They have just recently moved back to their home in Gates.

Surely must be a lot of people who haven't paid their light bills this month. At least it looks dark around the whole area, and when I talked to Mom this (Tuesday) morning she said their lights were off. They came on for a short while and back off again. I am writing this by a very feeble candle as I keep thinking it will get light soon and not worth the trouble of getting out the gas lantern. As dreary as it looks outside thought I might need the lantern all day. Oh, well, thank heavens for the fireplace.

LYONS

By Eva Bressler

Due to a truck accident 35 customers of People's Telephone Company were without service for about a day and a half down the Scio-Thomas Creek area. About the same thing happened at Christmas time putting the customers on McCully Mountain and Jordan out of service for about the same length of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Prichard spent Friday and Saturday visiting relatives in Portland and Longview.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bodeker were in Yoder Friday evening to attend the marriage of their grandson, Douglas Hampton and Miss Arlene Yoder held at the Christian church. Others going from Lyons were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Manning and Mrs. Eva Bressler.

Mrs. Brenda Phillips and little son from Arcadia, Calif. spent several days the first of the week at the home of her mother, Mrs. Leao Johnson.

Mrs. Ernestine McKlenan from the Villa Royal Nursing Home in Albany spent several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Huffman.

Mrs. Carrie Osburn of Ashland, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leao Johnson, returned home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Hall of Portland were Sunday guests of their son, Rev. Laron Hall, Sunday at the Methodist parsonage.

Mrs. Charlotte Thiel returned to her home at North Bend after spending the holidays at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walton.

High score was held by Gladys Nygaard, second high by Katie Sig and low by Bernice Bridges at the Wednesday afternoon card party held at the home of Mrs. Leota Worden when they played 500. There was a 1:30 dessert luncheon. Others present were Alma Olmstead, Nellie Riggs, Mabel Downing, Zeta Prichard, Bea Hiatt, Ruth Lyons, Katie Skillings, Bertha Allen, Juanita Davis, Donna Kunkle, Laura Neal, Margaret Kunkle, and Rose Bassett.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Roy from Wheaton, Minn. are guests at the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Roy.

were Friday afternoon visitors in Salem at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crabtree.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben IntVeld were at Everett, Wn., Thursday to attend funeral services for his sister, Mrs. Grace Byers.

MEHAMA

Mrs. John Teeters

Keith N. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hughes, left Portland January 5 for Lackland AFB at San Antonio, Tex., where he will be receiving his basic training in the Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Christensen and daughter, Mrs. Don Gienger, Becky and Sara all of Albany, were luncheon guests here Tuesday, January 4 of their niece and nephew Bonnie and Stuart Christensen. Bonnie left January 6 for Bainbridge, Md., after enlisting in the Navy and Stuart was on leave from the Marines at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Palmer of Honolulu, visited with the personnel at Stout Creek Lumber Co. mill where Gary had worked, on Wednesday, January 5. The Palmers had been visiting her folks in Texas and his parents in Salem while they were here on a short vacation.

Guests several days recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor were her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ellis of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Christensen of Salem and their small grandson Eric Christensen of Everett, Wn., visited here Saturday, January 8 with Mrs. G. V. Christensen and Stuart.

Mrs. M. V. Frame returned home Saturday from Portland where she had spent the last 10 days with relatives. The congregation of the Mehama Community church had a potluck dinner Sunday following the morning worship services and afterwards a short meeting was held. A call was issued to Frank Schultzwahl of Salem to take the place of Pastor James Godwin who has resigned.
