Anita Young and John Kelly Married Saturday, Sept. 9

Miss Anita Young of North Hollywood, Ca., formerly of Tucson, Ariz., daughter of Mrs. Virginia Young of Tucson and Joe Young of Richmond, Va., became the bride of John Charles Kelly of North Hollywood, Ca., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly of Mill City, at an impressive ceremony in the Boyer Chapel of the First United Methodist church in North Hollywood at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, September 9. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Knowles, youth minister of the church.

Lighting the tapers were Todd Sussman and Jeff Pappas, both of the Los Angeles area. A vocal solo, "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," by Sherman Seagraves, of Hollywood preceded the exchange of vows, and while facing his bride at the altar immediately after the ceremony the bridegroom, John Kelly, sang a selection entitled "Married."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mike Young of Tucson, wore an Empire style gown, fashioned by herself, of satin with a lace bodice and bouffant full-length sleeves of chiffon with lace ruffle at the cuff. Her finger-tip veil of tulle was held in place by an ornament of lily-of-the-valley, and her bouquet was of stephanotis surrounding a yellow-throated white orchid.

The bride's only attendant was her mother, Mrs. Virginia Young of Tucson, who served as matron-of-honor in a green afternoon dress with white lace sleeveless jacket and carried a bouquet of orange-tinted carnations.

Serving as best man was Sherman Seagraves, with Todd Sussman and Jeff Pappas as ushers.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Charles Kelly, wore a beige chiffon street-length dress with brown and beige lace sleeveless jacket and gold accessories. Her corsage was of orange-tinted carnations.

Immediately following the wedding service, a reception was held in the social room of the church, catered by the youth group of the church. The bride's chosen colors of yellow, orange, and green were used in the appointments.

The young bridal couple left later on a short wedding trip to Arizona and possibly to Colorado. After about September 20 they will be at home at 3915 Vineland, Apt. 8, Studio City, Ca. 91604.
