

Old Time Gaslight Sing-a-Long Visited

GATES—Have any of you ever attended the annual Old Time Gaslight Sing-a-long held at Sublimity? I did for the first time this Saturday evening as the guest of Frank and Uyoma Baechler and daughter June.

They had a really good five man band with the banjo player being outstanding. Haven't heard anyone play like that since Eddy Peabody.

The turnout was fantastic, with well over 200 people attending, and all age groups represented. The program included the words to 56 songs and believe me, they didn't miss many of them and it included those old favorites such as: "Bicycle Built for Two," "Bill Bailey," "My Wild Irish Rose," "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey," "Deep In The Heart of Texas" and, of course, many more. The really nice thing about it was the fact that with so many people singing that loud, no one could notice when I sing. I couldn't carry a tune.

Others attending from around here were Gael and Leonora Cutsforth and Ken and Sharron Harrison.
