

Overnight Camping Declines in State

DETROIT — According to a report, overnight camping in Oregon's state parks the past summer declined from 1972, apparently reflecting a general drop in over all tourism in the state.

The state highway division said last week that overnight camping dropped 5.6% during the months of June through August. The biggest drop came in July which was 6.7% below the same month a year ago.

Camping in most state parks will close November 4, the division said. A few may close earlier if snow and cold weather set in. Although camping areas close, most parks remain open for day use where accessible.

Seven overnight camps remain open all year. They are the coastal parks of Fort Stevens, Cape Lookout, Beverly Beach, Honeyman, Bullards Beach, Harris Beach and Valley of the Rogue south of Grants Pass.

TEAMWORK FOR A COMMON GOAL

Labor-Management Peace Proposed

Labor leaders are being urged by a top management spokesman to support specific issues on which business and labor have a common interest.

E. D. Kenna, president of the National Association of Manufacturers says, that business and labor have a mutual interest "in our government's urging the tearing down of tariffs, quotas, rigged specifications and all other hindrances to American businesses in foreign markets." Mr. Kenna also points out to labor that:

"We have an equal stake in bringing economic reality to bear on environmentalist proposals on a case-by-case basis.

"We share an interest in raising the standards of working conditions throughout the world and raising labor productivity at home.

"We have an equal stake in training and retraining our people throughout their working lives so that they remain useful members of society, with the self-respect and self-reliance that such usefulness brings.

"And, we should share an interest in government economic policies that permit the earning of the necessary profits to make possible plant expansion and modernization and provide the additional jobs necessary to produce the goods and services that are the keys to prosperity."

Labor and management should cooperate for the good of the entire nation and join in a united front to make American industry more productive and competitive.

GATES

Joyce Presler

The Gates City Council held their meeting on Friday, Oct. 5 due to the football game at Mill City. The bid for the construction of the 4-inch water line in the Riverview Park Terrace Addition (Stubbs Addition) was awarded to Franks Power Ditching of Salem. Future plans will be after more secure financing becomes available. Next meeting will be on Thursday, Oct. 18 at 7:30 p.m.

The Gates Planning Commission will hold their meeting this Thursday at 8:00 p.m. A newcomer to the tote painting class being held at the Gates Community Center every Tuesday is Millie Seales from Mill City. Anyone else interested may still enroll by contacting Doris Rogers or coming to the next class.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ponti from Nampa, Calif. are visiting Don Johnson and his mother Fern Johnson.

Because of the tremendous turnout at the Trash to Treasure Sale Thursday and Friday (October 4 & 5) the sale was continued to Saturday (October 6). Nellie Allan won the spice cake donated by Josephine Hampton, and Lola Henness won the tote board which Doris Rogers had donated to the Gates Woman's Club for the sale.

Joyce Presler, vice-president of the Stayton Welcome Wagon Club called "The Well Wishers" attended their night meeting on October 3, in Sublimity. Sharon Russell, the librarian at Stayton, was the guest speaker. Facts about the Stayton library were given, and books unwanted can be donated to the library. Upcoming events were planned and discussed. The next gathering will be a luncheon held at Janice Wilson's in Stayton.

The new Mill City Enterprise correspondent for the Gates area is Joyce Presler. At present no phone number is available, but information can be brought to her house on Cedar Lane (new house off Dogwood Lane in the Riverview Park Terrace Addition, off Louisa Street.)

Congratulations to David Murhammer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Gates for being selected Boy of the Month for September at Santiam High School. David is a junior this year.

MEHAMA

Mrs. John Teeters
Mrs. Alfred Schneider and Mrs. Raymond Branch spent a recent weekend in Boise, Idaho where Mrs. Schneider was a guest at the home of her son's family, the Robert Crooks and Mrs. Branch visited with a niece family.

Checks Buy LESS

Do you habitually take a 25 or 30 per cent discount on the personal checks you write?

◆ Many people do . . . without realizing it. It's the hidden penalty they pay for the privilege of taking their trade to some other city or town.

◆ Take a moment to consider the facts: Only about 70 cents of each dollar we spend goes to pay for the actual goods or service that we get. About 30 cents of that dollar has to cover the expenses of the community where the sale is made . . . to pay the people who work there . . . to return something on the capital invested . . . to help support the civic facilities such as churches, schools, fire and police protection, road and street maintenance, etc.

◆ Of course, when we spend our money away from home we get no personal benefit whatever from the 30 per cent of it which goes for community business and social improvement.

◆ Doesn't it follow, then, that when we give checks or money for out-of-town purchases, nearly one-third of the amount goes for something we don't get? Isn't that very much the same as discounting our checks or money?
