The Woman's Mission Society of the Idanha Community Church reported that their one-day "Rummage & Bake Sale" Tuesday of last week was very successful. The report said they netted nearly $300. Proceeds will be used for missionary work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wallace of Paradise, Calif. were callers at the home of Mrs. Ray May and Mrs. Harold Champion on Monday. They were enroute to visit their son, Raymond, and family at Albany. The Wallace family resided at Detroit for a number of years before moving to California. Their son, Raymond, is employed with the state highway department at Albany.

Nils Bittner of Idanha, was admitted Sunday to Emanuel Hospital, Portland, where he is scheduled for major surgery (Today) Thursday.

Mrs. Dale Case of Idanha (Young & Morgan Cabins) was taken to Santiam Memorial Hospital, Stayton, by Idanha Rural Fire Protection Ambulance about 3:30 a.m. Monday, for medical attention.

Here on an extended visit at the Detroit home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hancock and family is Moke Nolaui of Honolulu, Hawaii.

Power Outage Closes Detroit Schools Monday

DETROIT — A two-hour ten minute power "outage" began at 10 a.m. Monday, closed Detroit school for the day. It also closed mills in the Idanha area during the two hour "outage" as well as restaurants in the Detroit area depending on electricity for operation.

A report said the outage occurred when a backhoe doing some work for an Idanha trucking firm accidentally backed into a small tree and it fell on a power line east of Green Veneer, Inc. Due to consumer power maintenance supervisor, Nils Bittner's hospitalization, a maintenance man had to be sent here from Corvallis to repair the break and restore the power.

Guest speaker will be Robert Bryant, U. S. Forest Service, Detroit Ranger Station, who will speak on environment relating to the forest.

A luncheon will follow the morning session at Detroit City Hall.

BRING GOVERNMENT BACK HOME

WORK FOR YOUR CANDIDATES

There is more at stake than usual in local elections this year which makes the "usual good reasons" for your participation more important than ever.

The "usual reasons," of course, are that local officials know your problems best, are in a position to spend your money the most wisely, and should care the most about improving our community. Sending problems (and most of the money to solve them) to Washington or the state capitol in many cases has proved to be an ineffective and expensive way to avoid responsibility for action on local needs.

Now we have federal revenue sharing. Our local officials will be responsible for the prudent spending of the dollars the federal government is returning to our community. The reasoning behind the circular route our money takes from here to the nation's capitol and back is somewhat mind-boggling, but local officials now have a responsibility they cannot slough-off; using federal money to meet essential community needs.

A strong local government is the foundation of our democracy. It is where government can work best to solve problems. And a whole nation need not be burdened when mistakes are made.

Let's make local government more responsible by working to insure the best local government possible.

MUGGED PRINTED AND BOOKED

Most amateur shoplifters don't get a jail sentence. Most do get caught and all who are caught are taken to jail where they are mugged (photographed for police records) fingerprinted and booked. The record can last a lifetime. It is all up hill from there—the price for stealing.
