Santium Ripples By Sally Jenkins

The first semester of the school year wound up this week with busy class changes and eager anticipation of Friday night's game with Regis. Activities began after school Monday when FBLA conducted a meeting concerning the organization's upcoming state projects.

Lining the halls this week were spirited game posters which the Pep Club girls made Monday afternoon. While the Freshmen played JFK at home Monday, the JV and varsity teams traveled to Mt. Angel.

A pep assembly temporarily released the mounting enthusiasm, with the class of '77 winning the spirit stick while the classes of '75, '76 and '78 trailed close behind. The gym shook with excitement, cheers, and tension Friday evening as a full house watched Big Red shear the Regis Rams. We were ready this time; sorry, Regis!

During halftime of the game, the Wolverettes performed. After the victory, the frosh sponsored a well-attended sock hop, which included something new—a cake raffle. Freshman Ron Richter and alumnae Floyd Peterman and Bob Bennett Walked off with cakes. Rainy weather forced the seniors to abandon their car wash Saturday morning.

Mrs. "Bud" Bilyeu honored her son, Randy, Saturday afternoon on his 9th birthday. Cub Scouts from Den Two were invited to attend the movie "Grizzly Adams" at a Salem theatre. On their return, they went to the Bilyeu home where birthday cake and refreshments were served and Randy opened his birthday gifts.

Attending were Randy Bilyeu, Fred Smith, Charles Earhart, Yancy Ziellinski, Darin Goffin, Jerome Zynda and Leslie VanDola. Keith Penrose was unable to attend.

She is presently living in Memphis, Tenn., with her husband's relatives while he is stationed at Washington, D.C. with the U. S. Navy.

Mill City Woman's Club Entertained By Camp Fire Girls

A group of sixth-grade Camp Fire Girls accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Gale (Molly) Larson and Mrs. Ollie (Phyllis) Muise, furnished the evening's program for their sponsors, the Mill City Woman's Club, at their regular meeting Tuesday, Jan. 21.

Included in the skit on friendship were Stephanie Valdez, Cindy Kirsch, Janice Muise, Karen Bogle and Elaine Larson. Verna Clark, also a member of the group called "Yawakonda," was unable to make it.

At the close of the clever presentation, the Camp Fire Girls distributed attractive nosegays they had made for all the club members present. Upon leaving the recreation room of the Charles Kelly home, where the meeting was held, the girls were taken upstairs and served punch and cookies by the refreshment hostesses, Mrs. Lee Ross and Mrs. Donald Sheythe, before being taken to their homes by their leaders.

Meanwhile, President Margaret Snow opened the business meeting for the club with the salute to the flag, followed by reading of the "collect."

The above program was introduced by Elaine Russell, Camp Fire chairman, and Agnes Carlson, member of the Camp Fire committee. Sec. Mary Coumans read the minutes of the previous meeting, and Kate Doble gave the treasurer's report. It was decided to order new stationery and envelopes.

Plans were finalized for a Valentine's Day Tea, honoring members of the Jr. Woman's Club, from 2 to 4 p.m., Wed. afternoon, Feb. 12, at the home of Margaret Snow with Evelyn Pfoertner, Jenny Cauble, Alma Beyer, Mary Youmans, and Lucy Schultz, a new member, assisting the hostess with the table and decorations. Other members volunteered to assist in furnishing refreshments and on the kitchen committee.

Friday, April 11, was announced as the date for the club's annual "dime-a-dip" luncheon, which will be "double-dime-a-dip" this year due to inflation. Discussion was held concerning the possibility of holding a few of the mid-winter meetings in the afternoon rather than the evening, but no change was voted at present.

Ruth Cummings urged members to show interest in the Citizens' Committee which meets at 7:30 p.m. every other Thursday (next time Jan. 30) at the city hall.

Edith Mason read a thank-you note from Don Miller for the Christmas gifts and subscription to National Wildlife the club sent to the boys in Mul'nomah Cottage at the Farm Home.

The president, Margaret Snow, reported briefly on the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs' Winter Board of Directors meeting held in Eugene on Jan. 14 which she and Mae Mowry, state conservation chairman, attended from here.

It was announced that the executive board would meet at 1:30, Fri. afternoon, Jan. 24, at Margaret Snow's to revise the by-laws of the club.

Mary Youmans, the secretary, mentioned that the steering committee needs new members and that anyone interested would be welcome to attend the next meeting on Monday evening, Jan. 27, at the home of Margaret Snow.

Club members were reminded that they are scheduled to host the fourth district convention to be held at the lodge hall here on Monday, April 28, catered by the Rebekahs.

At the close of the business meeting, a "Silent Auction" was held and netted about $18 for the club treasury. Kate Doble, the treasurer, was in charge, and Jennie Cauble is program chairman for the year.

A special guest of the evening was Marie Tolbert, a former member here, who now makes her home in the Portland area.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Edna Ross, Doris Sheythe, and Mary Kelly. The next meeting is scheduled for Feb. 18 at the home of Mrs. J. C. Kimmel, with Mrs. Laurence Doble and Mrs. Ben Saalfeld assisting.

Former Resident On Smokey's Com.

Ed Schroeder, Oregon State Forester, was recently named to the committee which manages Smokey the Bear's Career. Schroeder is a member of the National Assn. of State Foresters (NASF). He was named to the Cooperative Forest Fire Prevention Committee which administers Smokey's business affairs and directs his fire prevention program.

Smokey's managers are a committee made up of representatives of NASF, the U. S. Forest Service and the National Advertising Council. They administer Smokey's "patent," granting approval for use of his name and image on commercial enterprises such as Smokey T-Shirts, piggy banks and stuffed toys.

Last year's royalties made Smokey over $360,000. This money is used to finance the Smokey Bear forest fire prevention campaign. As a member of the committee, Schroeder will approve Smokey's campaign for the 1975 fire season including ads, films, and educational materials.

One of the biggest questions before the committee this year will be what to do with the real Smokey. The animal, whose life story has become a legend in fire prevention to children throughout the United States, is now in his declining years.

Mr. Schroeder was also named to the NASF Legislative Committee for the West Coast States, which will involve him in identifying Oregon's forest needs to congressional representatives. In addition, Schroeder was placed on the forest fire committee which studies cooperative funding programs to offset local public costs for fire protection. On the fire protection analysis subcommittee, he will review a study of standards for needs in state and private fire protection throughout the United States.

Schroeder is a local "boy," the son of Herbert and the late Mabel Schroeder. He attended Mill City schools and was a graduate of the old Mill City High School and later graduated from OSU with a degree in forestry.

He now lives in rural Salem where he is state forester.
