Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism; but it can be done, if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following from James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ills. "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right to day; and would insist on every one who is afflicted with that terrible disease, to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and get well at once." For sale by Daly & Sutton. 14tf

Not a fit, but an expression of delight. "About a week ago," says a Los Angeles, Cala., druggist, "a Chinaman came in with a lame shoulder. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and guaranteed that it would cure him. He came in again last night, and as soon as he got inside the door, began to swing his arms over his head like an Indian club swinger. I thought the blamed fool had a fit, but be finally stopped long enough to say; "Medicine velly fine, velly fine; alle same make me feel plenty good." Chamberlain's Pain Balm, is without an equal for sprains, rheumatism aches, pains or lame back. For sale by Daly & Sutton. 14tf

Last week a waterspout of mild dimensions burst in the Ochoco valley eleven miles from Prineville, doing some slight damage to ranches. The Ochoco river rose several feet in a short time and portions of Prineville were flooded. On Saturday a thunderstorm, accompanied by wind and hail, passed from the south desert across toward Lookout mountain. Over on Crooked river, in the neighborhood of Newson creek, hailstones as large as marbles fell for a few minutes, demoralizing the range stock and doing more or less damage to growing crops. Eye witnesses say that the hail, wind and lightning made it quite interesting while

A middle aged man named Seitge came to Lakeview Monday from Fort Bidwell, who is judged to be insane, and was locked in the jail for fear he will kill himself. We understand that he has had considerable trouble over land matters in Warner, and he has brooded over his misfortunes until his mind has been unbalanced. He has been stopping at the Bidwell hotel the past winter, most of the time being sick there. It is reported that he threw away $3,900 in notes and $220 in money, while on his way from Bidwell.

The Bidwell people have at last secured a short cut to Lakeview, via. Cottonwood, a canyon just below New Pine Creek. There was not enough money in the road fund to make the grades, so the people subscribed money to put the road through. A list was circulated in Lakeview last week to make up the balance of cash needed to finish the west end, and it now being a county road, will be traveled by all who wish to make a quick trip between the two towns, as it shorts the distance ten miles. Parties have already came in from Bidwell over the new route, and say it is a great saving of time. People here are certainly interested enough in Bidwell patronage to keep their part of the road in good condition, considering the fact of what the Surprise valley folks have done toward the building of the road.

A Sad Accident.

For the past week carpenters have been at work on the upper story of Clark's brewery, arranging to raise the roof several feet. Tuesday everything was cut loose and the roof elevated about one foot, The same evening at about 7 o clock, a loud crash was heard, the fire bell was rung, and a great crowd ran to the brewery and found that the upper part of the front had been blown off.

Several men were in front of the brewery; among them James Yount and S. G. Reas, who stepped out from the side of the building just in time to be crushed to the ground by the falling wall. Willing hands soon took the two men from under the timbers but Reas never spoke, he had been killed instantly. Yount was badly cut and bruised, and at the present writing is in a very precarious condition.

The coroners jury brought in the following verdict on the death of S.G.Reas:

STATE OF OREGON, }
COUNTY OF LAKE. }

We, the undersigned coroner's jury, heretofore empanneled do find that S. G. Reas came to his death by being crushed beneath the falling of the lumber comprising the upper portion of N. A. Clark's brewery, and controlled by the said N. A. Clark, and we further find that those in charge of repairing said building did not use the care for the safety of said building, as they might have done.

S. V. REHART, Foreman.
J. V. SAPPER.
H. R. SCHLAGEL.
C. U. SNIDER.
T. LEINAGER.
J. R. CAIN.

The front of the brewery was put up in a very cheap and unworkmanlike manner, Instead of extending the "studding" on up from the gable to the comb of the roof, the gable part of the first was made separate and nailed on to the other part with ten or twelve penny nails and it being still further weakned by being cut loose from the roof, it took but a slight wind to topple it over.

It is a very sad affair and is made more so from the fact that death was caused by some one's carelessness.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Be Prepared for Fire.

The remark has been made many times of late that Lakeview was very fortunate in escaping fires. The fact being so well known that we have no means of fighting fire, it occurs to us again that our people should do something for protection against fire, and not go on in this dilatory manner until a fire burns the entire town. As a strong wind blows every night, it would be almost a miracle if anything could be saved, when a fire starts. Our hand engine, which is a good one, is practically useless without water.

No effort has been made to take advantage of the Water Co's offer of free water. Such dilatory action on the part of our citizens and town council, is certainly very unbusiness like, and should not be much longer practiced. When Lakeview burns then there will be plenty of men say "I told you so," and none can reiterate the statement with more grace than the EXAMINER, as we have called attention to our defenceless condition, time and time again.

Let us do something. It is the most unwarranted foolishness for the business men of this town to be so slow in securing protection against fire. Would it not be better to invest 25 per cent of the worth of your property for fire purposes than to have it all burn and save nothing but a little insurance? Five per cent of the property in Lakeview, spent on a water system would allow us to almost defy fire.

And another thing, when Lakeview has secured practical means to fight fire, insurance rates will undoubtedly be lowered from 25 to 50 per cent. Any way it is figured, Lakeview will be winner if she can have something to fight fire with.

SEATTLE IN ASHES.

The Entire City Destroyed.

A tempest of flames Thursday visited Seattle, and swept away the entire business portion of the city, causing a loss of millions of dollars, and rendering penniless and homeless hundreds of people.

The flames burst forth in a wooden building on Madison and Front streets, and spread with such appalling rapidity and such resistless fury that now there stands but a single large business house in the whole business part of the city.

The burnt district covers 120 acres of ground, and comprises thirty-two solid blocks of business houses. The distance covered is fully one mile and a half.

The water supply gave out in two hours after the fire started. Fire engines were sent from Tacoma and Portland but they could assist but little.

Three lives are reported lost, and the loss on buildings and other property will foot up $29,000,000, with insurance on about one-third that amount,

There is every indication that the enterprise which has made Seattle a city so famous will soon begin to rebuild it with the energy that marked the rebuilding of Chicago in 1871 and 1872.

Governor Miles C. Moore has issued the following proclamation, copies of which have been sent to the mayors of every city in Washington territory;

"The city of Seattle, the pride of Washington, is in ashes. A hurricane of fire swept over the queenly city and she is in ruins. Thousands of her citizens are without food or shelter. Nothing can subdue the indomitable spirit of her people. She will rise again. In her desolation she is not a supplicant, but they are homeless people to be sheltered and hungry ones to be fed. I appeal to the great-hearted people of our territory, who have recently so generously responded to the cry of distress from Johnstown, to heed this appeal for aid to their own suffering fellow-citizens. Subscriptions can be sent to Mayor Robert Moran."

MILES C. MOORE, Governor.

Tacoma sent the Seattle sufferers $20,000, two boat loads, and one special train with provisions the next morning after the fire. In the language of the poet, there is some style about that kind of brotherly love.

History of Oregon.

The history of our country has been called the Bible of American citizenship. If this be true, and no one denies it, then the history of Oregon, by Hubert Howe Bancroft, should be placed beside the Bible on every family alter in Oregon and throughout the whole United States, For it portrays in graphic colors all that is most sacred to our people in a political and material way—the several migrations: saving the country to the United States; early trials and vicissitudes; and later grand development.

It is safe to say that no one individual has ever done a greater work for Oregon and for the whole American people than Mr. Bancroft. Visiting in person several times during the progress of his vast work the several countries he wrote about, he saved from absolute oblivion an immense mass of invaluable material taken from the months of the foremost men. He also ransacked the world for early data. He then in a most conscientious and erudite manner arranged his material, and wrote his incomparable history. In such noble effort as this he has spent his life and over a million of dollars in money.

A grand benefaction like this deserves hearty sympathy and support. Let us not prove ungrateful, but show that we can appreciate such work. Prior to the publication of the second volume of Oregon, Mr. Bancroft's works could only be procured in complete sets of 39 vols. This prevented many from purchasing the history of Oregon who greatly desired to do so. In answer to innumerable requests, the publishers consented to issue the history of Oregon separate from the full set, thus conferring a great benefit upon the country. Let every true son and daughter of Oregon, let every American remember this, and show gratitude in something more than mere words.

It is needless to speak further of the magnificence of the work or merits of the author. No nation in the world has a more full and truthful record of its early affairs, and by an author of the very first ability and repute, than Oregon. "He sifts with a master hand," says the British Quarterly Review, "the immense mass of facts, and the conflicting testimony of witnesses, and sets faithfully the true points forward," while the New York Herald affirms that the work "will ever remain a monument to the writer's intelligence."
