Editorial News Notes.

The Queen of Portugal gave birth to a son on the 15th.

The dreaded spotted fever scourge has reappeared in Kentucky.

Stanley, the explorer, is expected to reach Zanzibar about the middle of January.

It is said that a democrat has been appointed postmaster at Olney, Ill., because no republican resides in the place.

It is said at Washington that the contractors who built the new vessels for the navy have all lost money on their ventures.

Since August 3, 1887, the government has purchased about $218,579,650 worth of bonds at a cost, including premium, of $254,984,473.63.

General Greeley's report shows that during the last year 84 per cent of the weather forecasts were followed by the weather ordered.

The largest republican majority given in Iowa since 1872 was cast for Garfield. It was 78,059. Blaine's majority fell to 19,773. Harrison had 31,711.

A Charlestan paper threatens that if congress shall enact a law to regulate Federal elections, the south will not continue to be a desirable home for the black man, who will then go north.

John Bullock, a base-ball player and an expert thrower, threw a turnip at one Farmer, a restaurant-keeper at Vincennes, Ind. The missile hit Farmer in the forehead and killed him instantly.

A. W. Callen, a prospector known as "Old Grizzly," who killed two men who attempted to dispossess him of a mine, was acquitted at Prescott, A. T., last week. His son, Jim S. Callen, ably defended him.

A Columbus, Ohio dispatch says: It is quite certain now that Lampson has been elected lieutenant governor by 500 plurality, and all the rest of the republican ticket except governor by 1,000 to 2,000 majority.

Washington was formally declared a state by the president, Nov. 11. Her number among the states will be forty-two, and although the last to be admitted, her resources are far ahead of many of the oldest states.

By recent acts of congress every male Indian over twenty-one years of age, who accepts an allotment of land in severalty, becomes a voter. There will probably be more than 20,000 such voters at the next election.

Robert Bonner is reported to have purchased Sunol, it is said for $110,000. All that could be obtained from Mr. Bonner is that the amount given was greater than he had ever paid for a horse before. Maud S. cost him $40,000.

The New York World prints a special dispatch at Charlotte, N. C., telling of a great gold find in Montgomery county. The story runs that experts say there is as much gold in western North Carolina as was found in California. The formation of syndicates is proceeding.

It has been suggested by General O. O. Howard, in his annual report to the adjutant-general, that with high explosives the problem of coast defense would be reduced almost to a question of range and our great seaboard cities might be made comparatively safe without excessive expenditure.

Last night's city papers contain dispatches from London announcing a revolt in Brazil. The army and navy are announced as engaging in a quiet revolution, and overturned the government, Emperor Dom Pedro was deposed by the revolutionists and the republic proclaimed with Da Fonseca as president.

The treasurer of the United States characterizes the past year as a remarkable one in the history of public finances, both the revenues and expenditures having been exceeded but a few times since the foundation of the government. The former amounted to $387,050,058.84 and the latter to $299,288,978.25, inclusive of $17,292,362.65 paid in premiums on bonds purchased.

The first sod of the Nicaragua canal was officially and formally turned Oct. 22d, amid booming of cannon and the cheers of thousands of spectators, and in the presence of the governor and staff, representing Nicaragua, the chief engineers and staff of the Nicaragua Canal Company, and all the foreign consuls. The work was really begun June 3d last, but, owing to some slight misunderstanding between Nicaragua and Costa Rica, which has since been amicably arranged, the formal opening was postponed.

Epidemic of Rabies.

In Saline county, Mo., there is what might be called an epidemic of hydrophobia. The matter has become so alarming that a reign of terror prevails. Three or four weeks ago a mad dog ran through the county, biting human beings and brutes. Three people were bitten by the first dog and nine more were bitten by other dogs that afterward took the disease. Of these people two have died in the agonies of hydrophobia, while the others live in constant terror of their lives. A little 5-year-old boy was the first to succumb, and then Mannie McMillan, a young man, died. Horses cows and dogs have gone mad all over the county. A war has been inaugurated on all dogs. Last Saturday in Marshall the city marshal was ordered to kill all canines that ran at large. The slaughter began and spread to the country, and since Saturday morning at least 500 dogs have been killed. The officers have orders to keep it up for a month, or until there are no more dogs to kill.

At Malta Bend three people were bitten on Sunday afternoon. In the Brooks neighborhood two were bitten Monday, and three valuable cows and a horse have gone mad. In Marshall two people have died and two horses have been shot. In the southern part of the county two people were bitten on Saturday. At Ridge Prairie a mad steer ran amuck through the village, and several people were severely injured before he was killed.

It is understood that the same trouble is being experienced in Pettis county.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

New York city has determined to banish street bands, hand organs with their accompanying monkeys, and all ambulatory musicians, who have become so numerous as to make life a burden.

As Peter Van Aspern stepped from the Oregon penitentiary last week, after serving a term for larceny, he was nabbed by California officers, having escaped from San Quentin prison June 22, 1884.

Buffalo Jones of Garden City, Kan., has secured twenty full-grown buffaloes, which are to be shipped from Winnipeg to Salt Lake City. They were secured on Stony mountain after exciting chases.

Oliver Johnson at New York is ill beyond hope of recovery at Brooklyn. Johnson is the last of the twelve agitators who organized the first anti-slavery society in 1832, under the leadership of Garrison.

Although the complete official returns from the election have not been received at Columbus, Ohio, Lampson, the republican candidate for lieutenant-governor, thinks he is defeated by eighty-eight votes.

NEIGHBORING NOTES.

Ashland Tidings.

It is now unlawful to kill deer in this state, and will be till next August.

H. J. Clark began work upon the brick walls of the Ganiard opera house last Monday, with a force of ten men, and the walls are going up at a rapid rate. The building is beginning to show what a solid, substantial structure it will be. It has 17-inch walls and will require about 100,000 more bricks than The Oregon.

Eugene Guard.

Mrs. J. S. Luckey has over two hundred varieties of chrysanthemums in bloom in her flower garden. They are large and of every hue, and are admired by all.

Over $200,000 has been expended in Eugene during the past year in private buildings. What town of like size in Oregon can equal the amount of improvements?

The narrow guage will soon be transferred from the Oregonian railway company to the Oregon Western. It is believed that the Oregon Western is a creature of the Southern Pacific.

Valley Record.

The assessment of Yamhill county this year has decreased some $10,000 from last year's assessment.

The East Oregonian calculates the loss to Umatilla county by the partial failure of crops at $1,000,000.

The grand jury in session in Klamath county is evidently an industrious one. It has brought in a true bill against nearly every case presented to it, and although first appearances indicated a light docket the prospects are that court will be in session for two weeks yet. One of the criminal cases is that of a man who stole a bovine several years ago, the evidence of which has just been discovered.

Democratic Times.

U. S. Griffith now has editorial charge of the Alfa, Cal., Advance and O. B. Allen has removed from Alfa to Sisson, where he holds a "sit" on the Herald.

The committee appointed to measure the flow of water in Ashland creek reported to the Ashland city council a flow of nearly 50 gallons per second during the lowest stage of the stream in September.

A great deal of grain is being sown this fall, more than ever before. It has long ago been demonstrated that this is the proper season to do most of this kind of farm work.

Ward Douglas "caned an editor" at Pendleton one day last week, the editor having been voted the handsomest man in the community. The Lord pity the balance of the Pendletonians.

The first magpie ever seen near Ashland was discovered last week. The bird is not an infrequent visitor along Rogue river, but not a welcome one, as his advent into the lower valley is supposed to presage a hard winter, along with the high muskrat house, the thick corn shuck, the big huckleberry crop, and other popular superstitions.

Some worthy citizen of Klamath county, who is emulous of sharing the peculiar distinction of Ananias and Eli Perkins, recently sent a cock-and-bull-story to a Montana paper for publication, recounting the particulars of a desperate fight which really took place in the author's imagination, but which was credited to Klamath county forests, wherein a number of buck elk annihilated a band of marauding six-foot white wolves with feet as large as dinner plates, leaving only one of the pack to be slaughtered after a furious struggle by a party of hunters who chanced that way. The quality of the fiction is somewhat strained, as the buck elk are about extinct, the timber wolves of that section are all black or grey, and the hunters usually use strychnine instead of powder and lead on the varmints. Regarded purely as a literary effort, however, it is worthy of some of the author's best efforts in the line of boom and poetry.

Will be Sold.

Those persons in Klamath county who are trying to persuade themselves that Fort Klamath is not abandoned, insinuate that it is not true that the Klamath military and hay reservations are to be sold. As this paper first gave out the information we are inclined to prove the fact. The order to sell the reservations were received at this land office before we gave the news, and the order is still on file, and any doubting Thomas may see the identical order on application. However, we are informed by Receiver Townsend that the date of sale has not been named, nor the person who shall sell the same. The secretary of the interior has asked the commissioner of the general land office to name a person who shall sell the reservations to the highest bidders, which person will either be a special agent of the department or the receiver of the Lakeview land office.

There are always plenty of people to deny the truth, but few are they who commend a newspaper for telling the truth. Not only in this instance, but in all public affairs. We notice this peculiarity in nearly every issue of our paper.

A new water company, with a backing of millions of eastern capital has been organized to pipe water into Denver from an enormous reservoir they will build at the foot of the main range of the Rocky mountains.

TRADE MARK

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR PAIN

WHAT IT IS. SIX STANDARD VIRTUES.

ITS EFFICACY.—1. Its effects are prompt. 2. Its relief is sure. 3. Its cures are permanent. 4. It cures; no return of pain. 5. It cures in all cases used according to directions.

1st. It is in one word a cure; it is not merely a relief and in no sense a cure-all; it is the product of scientific research.

2nd. It strengthens while it soothes and subdues, heals and cures; it literally conquers pain.

3rd. Its effects are curative and permanent to the whole group of muscular miseries and nervous agonies.

4th. It does not merely irritate the outer surface, nor does it merely soften or relax a constricted muscle. To its specific action a superior curative virtue is superadded.

5th. It penetrates deeply but gently; searchingly and surely, seeking the pain-spot in an effort to conquer.

6th. Each constituent of the formula has a recognized intrinsic virtue to serve most surely the cure of pain.
