The last San Francisco Bulletin says: "A telegraph company will run a line from Mott through the timber belt. Fall River, Bieber, Alturas and southeastern Oregon."

The experience of the world in all ages has shown conclusively that a man does not have to be rich in order to have a large family or long and luxuriant side whiskers.

See the gallery of babies in the frame in front of the Lakeview House, all photographed by Cromwell. None are over eight years old, and they make a fine collection of pictures. All photographic work warranted by Cromwell. 44

Boils, carbuncles, and other skin eruptions indicate that the system is endeavoring to reject poisonous acids, and that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is imperatively needed. It is the most reliable of all blood medicines. Ask your druggist for it, and take no other.

The Lady Godiva must have had exceptionally long hair since it completely concealed her lovely person. Since Ayer's Hair Vigor came into use such examples are not as rare as formerly. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but gives it a rich, silken texture. 44

The large new livery and feed barn of P. H. Murphy's was raised the first of the week, and will soon be enclosed should the weather be favorable. When completed this will be one of the largest barns in the country. The frame is 85x100 and is calculated to hold near 200 tons of hay.

A profane exchange says: An editor works 3654 days per year to get out fifty-two issues of a paper; that's labor. Once in a while somebody pays him a year's subscription; that's capital. And once in a while some son of a gun of a dead beat takes the paper for a year or two and vanishes without paying for it; that's anarchy. But later on justice will overtake the last named creature, for there is a place where he will get his deserts; that's hell.

The Bulletin, published in Burney valley, Cal., a long distance from nowhere, and no town in sight, says: "If there is anyone who wishes to subscribe for this paper because they think it'opposed to their politics we'd like them to call around. It's not a great political journal, it's an independent, one-horse, no-ounce paper, run for equal proportions of filthy lucre. Of course, in a red-hot campaign, if we see a chance to get an office we'll whoop her up for one side or the other. Just now and all the time we're after coin and subscribers. If you haven't got the coin subscribe anyhow and pay in wood. If you're too ——— lazy to cut wood 'subscribe for it anyhow and we'll trust to luck to get it out of you."

Gratifying to all.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the Cal. Fig Syrup Company.

J. M. Vaughn has sold the Harney Valley Items to a company composed of a number of the leading citizens of Harney county and his connection with the paper now ceases.

The loss falls heavily on Mr. Lessing, who is a young, industrious man, just getting a start in this world's goods. But he has plenty of muscle and determination left, and has already commenced work again in the brick building opposite the I. O. O. F. hall. A purse of $100, subscribed by a liberal people will assist him in buying new tools.

Many funny incidents during the fire, would not look well in print, if told in a truthful manner, so we forbear. Jim, the Chinaman, undertook to save some clothes-line fastened to the burning building, and at the same time was scattering burning brands in a dry wood-pile. The foreman of the engine, told him to leave the line alone, but he did not hand the warning. The nozzle was turned in his direction, and it was remarkable how quickly he handed on the other side.

This fire was another narrow escape for Lakeview. The wind was favorable, but the hard work done by the engine and firemen, was a whole lot better than luck. Without the engine Lakeview would have been burned up by the Murphy fire, and too much cannot be said in favor of the engine and company, and we are pleased to see some of the "kickers" coming over to the long-neglected fire company.

Wasn't Long Enough.

A pretty good joke is told of a young lady teacher in a neighboring school. On Monday a small urchin entered the school room, with an exquisitely dirty face and hands. The teacher bade him go and wash himself. In a few minutes the boy returned with his hands nicely washed and wiped, His face also had been washed, but only the lower portion had been wiped dry, the rest of the water dripping with water. On being told to return and wipe his face he said, "But, teacher, I can't." Naturally surprised, the teacher asked why he could not follow her instruction, inasmuch as he had succeeded in washing his face and hands and wiping them so nicely, as far as he had gone. The small boy answered, while the big tears ran down his cheeks: "My shirt ain't long enough." The answer was followed by silence, succeeded by a suppressed titter. The young lady was so embarrassed that she can't look at a bolt of sheeting without blushing up to her ears.

The receipts of the exposition held in Portland amounted to $47,000, which is more than $20,000 over expenses. The directors are pleased, as the result was much more favorable than they had anticipated, and they are preparing to add to the capacity of the building and give a still grander exhibition next season.

F. M. Miller and C. S. Ensor expect to start for the railroad tomorrow. Ensor goes to Portland as a witness before the U. S. court to testify in the Bonanza stage robbery case. As a representative of the Water Co., he had some goods on the road by express at the time of the robbery, and the tag, which contained the directions, was found on one of the men who were arrested for the robbery. Mr. Miller goes to Lane county, to see his father who is quite ill, and is not expected to recover.

ANOTHER FIRE.

THE RED DEMON LICKS UP AN UNINSURED BUILDING.

Total Loss of A. Lessing's Furniture Shop.

Last Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m. while the EXAMINER office was busy running off its weekly issue, and the horse editor was looking through Smith's Bible dictionary to see whether the name of the famous trotter was really Stambout, or Steamboat, and the foreman was just in the act of throwing the planer at the printer's devil for singing "White Wings" Uncle Joe Lane came rushing down the sidewalk like a man who was trying to get away from an Apache scalping bee, and wildly gesticulating in the direction of Lessing's shop, while he yelled first fire! fire! And sure enough, Lakeview was on fire again. The EXAMINER crew hastened to the scene of the fire which proved to be A. Lessing's shop, just one block from the EXAMINER office, and directly opposite the M. E. Church.

The fire was well under headway before discovered, and when the front door was opened the smoke was so stifling that very little could be got out of the house.

The fire boys were not asleep and the engine was quickly brought into use and a stream was soon playing on the flames as steadily as strong hands and willing hearts could do it. The only building near the shop was a China wash-house only twenty-five feet south of Lessing's, but there was no wind stirring, and the flames were kept from spreading by the liberal use of water, which poured through the hose in great volumes. With the exception of a little furniture that was taken out of the front door in a badly damaged condition, the building was a total loss. Mr. Lessing had about $1,000 worth of furniture in the house, and he lost everything, including his tools, all of his clothing, and even his dog. The building was owned by J. Frankl and his loss is estimated at $1,000. Mr. Ladebuh, who was working with Mr. Lessing, lost all his clothing and other articles, amounting to about $200. H. M. Barnes lost a sewing machine in the blaze as also did Sheriff Carll. The fire is supposed to have been started by the stove, which probably dropped fire into the shavings. Nothing was insured.

It may seem strange to some that so many buildings are not insured, but when it is known that the rates of insurance on some buildings in this town are actually higher than the legal rate of interest in some eastern states it may not seem unbusinesslike like that people try to get along without carrying insurance. As long as the soulless, greedy, grinding, grasping insurance companies of the Pacific coast persist in maintaining such an extortionate rate on these frontier towns they need not expect to do a very rushing business with our people.

While all are deserving of praise for the willingness that they showed in helping to extinguish the fire, we would again suggest that when an alarm is given, the citizens should run to the engine, instead of running to the fire. A very few persons can do a good deal of looking on, while it takes a good many able bodied men to do a little pumping. It also occurs to us that it would be an excellent plan to have them spell each other at intervals of ten of fifteen minutes, instead of allowing the most willing ones to pump steadily until they can see stars and garters and begin to breath like a wind-broken horse.

LAKE COUNTY TAX-PAYERS.

Who Pay the Taxes and Who do the Growling.

The following list is taken from the assessor's roll for 1889, and is a complete list of all who pay taxes in Lake county, Oregon. There has been so much talk regarding what so and so pays on, is the reason we publish the entire roll. This is the amount remaining after the board equalized the list. The list will be continued from week to week until completed:

Attorney T. J. McDaniel has sent in his resignation as deputy district attorney for this judicial district, to take effect Dec. 1st. It will be difficult to find a successor to Mr. McDaniel in Lakeview, as there is not much here in the office, but many cussings.

"What the dence is this!" exclaimed a newly made husband as he looked out of the restaurant window opposite the EXAMINER office, a few nights ago and beheld a sachimpian party surrounding the place. "Why, this is a pan-American scrimpade!" and the din started afresh.

A stag party dedicated the new office room in the Lakeview House, Saturday night. The room has just been finished and is one of the finest in town. A splendid supper was spread, and which the guests did not overlook. The party had a very enjoyable time.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional and not a local disease and therefore it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, working through the blood, eradicates the impurity which causes and promotes the disease, and effects a permanent cure. Thousands of people testify to the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh when other preparations had failed. Hood's Sarsaparilla also builds up the whole system, and makes you feel renewed in health and strength.

Catarrh

"I used Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh and received great relief and benefit from it. The catarrh was very disagreeable, especially in the winter, causing constant discharge from my nose, ringing noises in my ears, and pains in the back of my head. The effect to clear my head in the morning by hawking and spitting was painful. Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me relief immediately, while in time I was entirely cured. I am never without Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house as I think it is worth its weight in gold." MRS. G. B. GIBB, 1026 Eighth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

The Hopkins house has just had an arch put in between the dining and billiard room. This makes two rooms in one, which is now large, and comfortable, with plenty of light.

That Little Tickling.

In your throat, which makes you cough once in a while and keeps you constantly clearing your throat, arises from catarrh, and as catarrh is a constitutional disease the only relief for sufferers is all fall to hit the spot. What you need is a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Many people who have taken this medicine for scrofula, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and other troubles, have been surprised that it should cure this troublesome cough. But to know the actual cause of a thing is to solve the mystery. Many cases of consumption can be traced back to the neglect of some such slight affection at its. Consumption can be controlled in its early stages, and the effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, building up the general health, and expelling the scrofulous taint which is the cause of catarrh and consumption, has restored to perfect health many persons on whom this dreadful disease seemed to have a firm hold.
