When the railroad across Siberia is completed it is estimated that the tour of the world in fifty days will be feasible.

The man who dreams of setting an apple orchard to take care of itself and bring him an enormous fortune under neglect or slovenly management will find his illusions dispelled by cold and stubborn facts.

State Superintendent McElroy will hold the teachers' institute for the first judicial district at Ashland, beginning on Monday, November 21, and continuing four days. A large attendance of teachers is anticipated.

The longest day of the year at San Francisco is 14 hours, 48 minutes; at New York, 15 hours; at London, 16½; at Hamburg, 17; at Stockholm, 18½; at St. Petersburg, 19; at Tornea, Finland, 22; at Spitzbergen, 3½ months.

The Southern Pacific railroad company has purchased the Whitcomb coal fields, a section comprising 8,000 acres, in Washington county, Or. The purchase is regarded as a preliminary step toward the extension of the Southern Pacific system to Astoria.

A public clock is to be erected in Philadelphia that will take one year to place in the tower. The minute hand is to be twelve feet and the hour hand nine feet in length; the bell will weigh 220,000 pounds; a steam engine will be placed in the tower to wind up the clock.

Measurements of 21,000 children in Saxony show that the boys are a small fraction of an inch taller than the girls up to the eleventh year, but that the girls then become taller until the sixteenth year, when the boys again surpass the girls in height.

The Manhattan Oil Company has removed its office from Lima, Ohio, to Toledo, to, it is said, form a combination with the Sun Oil Company and the Paragon Refining Company. The three companies represent $5,000,000 capital, and fight the Standard.

Winemah Riddell, the heroine of the Modoc massacre, who lives on Tule lake in Klamath county, has been granted a pension of $25 per month for life. She was a Modoc squaw, married to the interpretor of the United States commission, and sought to prevent the Canby massacre.

It is estimated that the Americans who went to Europe last summer spent $50,000,000 there. We find this in an English paper, and rise to remark that the estimate is too low. That would allow for only $340 to each tourist, and the truth is that the average oultay was double that sum.

Hayti is only a part of the Island of San Domingo, having 10,000 square miles out of the 32,000 of the island; yet she has a revenue yearly of $7,888,000, and ships 70,000,000 pounds of coffee annually. Her government costs $5,000,000, and she has $2,000,000 to spend on improvements annually.

The census bureau makes public the following figures: Population of Chico, 2,892; Eureka, 4,384; Marysville, 3,936; Napa City, 4,387; Petaluma, 3,686; Red Bluff, 2,500; Santa Rosa, 5,216; Vallejo, 5,904; Woodland, 3,068. Chico, Marysville and Vallejo show a slight decrease. California's population is 1,204,002—an increase of 339,308 in ten years, or 39.24 per cent.

Among the articles of incorporation filed with the Illinois secretary of state last week were those of the Mount Carmel Aeronautic Navigation Company, at Mount Carmel, for the construction and operation of air vessels for transportation of passengers and freight. Capital stock $20,000,000. Incorporators: Edwin J. Pennington, James A. Pugh, W. C. Dewey and others.

If we reckon the population of the globe at 1,400 000,000 of human beings there would be room for them all on the frozen surface of the Lake of Constance, Switzerland, and the crush would not be so very great either, as there would be a space of four square feet for each person; if the ice were to break and the whole human race were thus to sink into a watery grave, the level of the lake would only be raised six inches.

Boston has made the discovery that the original of Longfellow's "Village Blacksmith" who stood under the spreading chestnut tree, and the muscles of whose brawny arms were strong as iron bands, is Henry Francis Moore, a blacksmith still living at Medford, Mass. The poet was often in Medford previous to writing the poem and was fond of chatting with Moore. The blacksmith is now 61 years of age and is himself of the opinion that Longfellow had him in mind when he wrote his poem.

A Chicago morning paper says: Plans for the establishment of an extensive tin-plate manufactory in Chicago have been formed. For more than a year past such an enterprise has been considered, but since the introduction of the McKinley bill, with its tax on tin-plate, which practically prohibited the importation of tin-plate into this country, the plan has assumed definite shape. The passage of the McKinley bill settled all questions. It is said that the concern will be capitalized for $4,500,000, and give employment to 5,000 men. The ore will be brought from the Black Hills and from North Carolina. Armour, Swift and other large packers of canned meat are said to be among the promoters.

Lord Rosebery, in his dining-room at Berkely Square, has given the place of honor to a portrait of George Washington, recently acquried. It is by Gilbert Stuart, one of the only two genuine portraits now existing painted from life. This particular picture was painted by Stuart upon the commission of Lord Shelbourne, and dates about the year 1796. When, in 1805, Lord Shelbourne died, his pictures were sold by auction, and this now priceless portrait brought £540. The picture is known in art circles as the Lansdowne portrait, Lord Shelbourne having become Marquis of Lansdowne before his death. The man who bought the portrait presently became bankrupt, and Washington was again in the market. How greatly it had in a comparatively brief space of time, increased in value is shown by the fact that it now brought 2,000 guineas, being disposed of by lottery, for which forty tickets were issued, at the price of fifty guineas each. It was won by Mr. Delawarr Lewis, at one time member for Devonport. When, some three or four years ago, Mr. Lewis died, the picture was again for sale, and Lord Rosebery bought it—but not for 2,000 guineas.

Wit and Wisdom.

Eve raised Cain.

Going in debt—accepting presents from people.

Before doing a foolish thing remember that the world likes to laugh.

It takes a wize man to suffer prosperity, but most enny phool kan suffer adversity.

Pride, after all, iz one ov our best friends—it makes us beleave we are better and happier than our nabers.

A willingness to divide with his captor has protected more thieves than the law has protected honest men.

As a man grows older he sees what an ass he used to be, but fails to see what an ass he is.

Our wisest thought is the one which we always lack words to express. Foolish thoughts find easy expression.

Our idea of a real nice girl is one who can be with poorer people and resist talking of the nice things she has.

The man who thinks more of himself than any one else thinks of him is in a position to die without distressing the world.

The man who is in trouble can always see what an easy thing it would have been for him to keep out if he had only thought.

"Had a splendid time, I ran across a lake up in—" "Ran across a lake? Come come, Blinks, don't lie so transparently."

He Takes the Prize—"How many sexes are there, Willie?" "Three. Male, female and gents." "How do you distinguish gents from males?" "By their pants."

A scandal-monger is a person who talks to our neighbors about us. An entertaining talker is a person who tells us mean stories about our neighbors.

A wit who was asked what he would rather be during the three stages of life, replied: "Till thirty, a pretty woman; till fifty, a successful general; the rest of my life, a priest.

A Story for the Surcingled Dudes.

A famous hygienist who has just returned from Europe, professes himself dumbfounded at the number of men he meets wearing sashes and tells an old story to point a new moral in this fashion: 'You have heard of the retort a lady of Milesian birth made to a Chinaman who on a cold winter's day sat near her in a street car and observed, 'Belly cole, belly cole much,' meaning to say it was very cold. The Milesian lady retorted, 'Ah indade if yer wore yer shirt beneath your trousers like a dacent Oirishman, you wouldn't feel so cold.' Now, if these dudes would wear their sashes next to the epidermis and let 'em be made of flannel instead of silk, nine-tenths of the ills and aches man is heir to in summer-time might be avoided. The 'cholera belt' is an admirable hot-weather tonic."

Tobacco.

Tobacco in itself is not as harmless a stimulant as many averse to its use would have their constituents believe. The following from Richardson, in Chamber's Encyclopedia, sets the matter of the disastrous results following from the use of the weed forever at rest:

"It is inocuous as compared with alcohol; it does infinitely less harm than opium; it is in no sense worse than tea, and by the side of high living altogether it contrasts most favorably. We cannot honestly say more against tobacco than can be urged against any other luxury, and of nearly every luxury it is the least injurious."

Dehorning.

A correspondent of the New England Farmer takes strong grounds in favor of the dehorning of cattle. He cites several cases in his own experience to prove that the operation takes all the ugliness out of cattle, even bulls being almost as gentle as lambs after having been subjected to the treatment. He thinks the time is not far distant when every calf will be dehorned, and that some years in the future the nature of the animal will be so much changed that the horn will not grow rendering the operation unnecessary for the cattle of, say, the latter part of the next century.

Value of a Potato.

Did you ever calculate the value of a single potato on the basis that that single tuber was the only one left in the world? That one would, of course, contain within itself the possibility of restocking the world with a valuable article of food. If one potato would produce, when planted, but ten potatoes, in ten years the total product of that one potato would be 10,000,000,000, which would stock the whole world with seed. If the world were reduced to one single potato, it would be better that London or Chicago be blotted from the earth than for that one tuber to be lost.

Effect of Woman Suffrage.

Massachusetts woman—I suppose the women generally vote as their husbands do?

Wyoming woman—Oh, no; at least I don't. He is a democrat and I am a republican.

Massachusetts woman—And you don't quarrel?

Wyoming woman—No, indeed. It prevents quarrels, in fact. Whenever he starts in to grumbling about the biscuits I get him started on the tariff, and he forgets the bread entirely.

Shaken Out of Gear.

By malarial disease, the human machinery cannot half perform its office. Digestion, secretion, evacuation are disordered, the blood becomes watery, the nerves feeble, the countenance ghastly, sleep disturbed and disturbed and appetite capricious. Terrible is this disease, fell its consequences. There is, however, a known antidote to the miasmatic poison, and a certain safeguard against it. In malarious regions of our south and west, in South America, Guatemala and on the Isthmus of Panama, as well as in transmarine countries where the scourge exists, this inimitable preventative and remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has, during the last thirty five years, been constantly widening the area of its usefulness, and demonstrating its sovereign value. Liver complaint, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney trouble, rheumatism and debility are all remedied by it. 38

The annual report of Pension Commissioner Raum shows there were at the end of the last fiscal year, 537,944 pensioners upon the rolls, classified as follows: Army invalid pensioners, 392,800; army widows, minor children and dependent relatives, 104,456; navy invalid pensioners, 5,274; navy widows, minor children and dependent relatives, 2,460; survivors of the war of 1812, 413; widows of soldiers of the war of 1812 8,610; survivors of the Mexican war, 17,158; widows of soldiers of the Mexican war, 6,764. There were 66,637 original claims allowed during the year, being 14,716 more original claims than were allowed during the fiscal year 1889, and 6,385 more than were allowed during the fiscal year 1889. The amount of first payment in these 66,637 original cases amounted to $35,478,941, being $11,036,492 more than first payments in original claims allowed during the fiscal year 1889, and $10,175,235 more than 1888.

Russell Sage's recent interview makes out Jay Gould a richer man than he is generally credited with being. Mr. Sage says Gould is the heaviest owner of securities in the world, his income alone from dividends being $2,000,000 a year. Outside of this he has an income of from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000. It is understood that Mr. Gould aims to make his wealth net him about 6 per cent., and if this is the case, and Mr. Sage knows what he is talking about, Mr. Gould will have to be moved up several pegs in the list of the country's rich men.

Which is the fairest, a rose or a lily? Which is the sweetest, a peach or a pear? Merry's coquetish, and charming is Milly; Dora is gentle and fair. (her, Sweet as a flower was her face when I kissed (Love is the romance and glory of life), Milly, my playmate, I love "like a sister," But Dora I choose for my wife.

That's right, young man, marry the girl you love, by all means, if she'll have you. Should her health become delicate and her beauty fade after marriage, remember that this is due to functional weaknesses, irregularities, or painful disorders peculiar to her sex, in the cure of which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic, or strength-giver.
