

SHARKEY OUT IN THE SECOND.

The Sailor Is Quickly Disposed of by "Lanky Bob" Fitzsimmons.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—In the great battle to-night between Fitzsimmons and Sharkey the former showed his old-time form and superiority. The battle was brief and surprising. It was a left on the jaw that put Sharkey in dream-land.

Round 1—Fight was a whirlwind from the start. Sharkey rushes in his usual way, Bob ducking or meeting him with his powerful right. There was considerable clinching. Sharkey make his famous rush and secures the first knock-down with a stiff left on Fitz's jaw. The

MODOC GIRL'S SAD PLIGHT.

A Prominent Farmer of a Neighboring County Seeking His Wayward Daughter.

Free Press, Redding, August 25th.

Benjamin Scammon, a prominent farmer of Modoc county, took the train at Redding several days ago for San Francisco. It is now learned that he seeks an erring daughter.

Miss Annie Scammon was married to a man named Lee several years since. The match was unhappy and a divorce followed. Mrs. Lee, who is a very young woman, then went to San Rafael to live. The world did not use her well.

Recently Mrs. Lee was joined by a Mrs. Trumbull of Modoc county, who

THE SECTIONS ARE IN KLAMATH

No Part of the 64,000 Acres of Land Reverted to the Government by Decision of Judge Bellinger Lie in Lake.

Much inquiry has been made regarding the location of the 64,000 acres of land reverted to the government by the decision of Judge Bellinger in the U. S. Court at Portland, mention of which was made in The Examiner of August 16th. During the past week several local attorneys have received a description of these lands, which lie wholly within the present boundaries of the Klamath Indian Reservation, in Klamath county. These lands were a part of the reservation before the Oregon Central Military Road Company was in existence, and the matter was decided by Judge Bellinger on the ground that the State could not deed the lands to the Road Company after the government had already given them to the Indians as a part of the reservation. The case has been appealed to the Supreme Court by the attorney for the Road Company, Judge Mallory, of Portland. The road is surveyed diagonally from northwest to southeast across the reservation, and the sections that were decided to belong to the reservation begin at township 30 south, range 8 east, and follows the surveyed road to township 36 south, range 13 east, and to within about four miles of Bly on the west.

This land has always been considered a part of the Indian Reservation and used as such.

A carload of wagons on the road for Bernard & Son. Will arrive in a few days. 34-2

Lake County Horses.

The agents who are scouring the country for horses for cavalry purposes should not forget that there are a large number of such horses in Lake county. There have been no horse buyers here since last fall, and The Examiner is informed that several hundred head of good horses, some well broken and others now in the training corrals, can be had at Lakeview on short notice. W. Z. Moss has 45 head here in town, nearly all of them well broken. These are all young, hardy range horses, and some of them are beauties. We understand that Mr. Moss will soon have another big bunch here to put through a course of training.

In consequence of no buyers appearing here in nearly a year, Lake county can furnish a large number of horses fit for cavalry or other purposes.

Arkon, Ohio, has just experienced a fearful riot. A negro attempted an assault upon a little girl and a mob of 2,500 frenzied citizens blew up the city and county prisons, but after the negro had been spirited away to Columbus by officials. A few deaths occurred in the shooting that followed. After all had quieted down the miscreant was brought back, plead guilty and was given life imprisonment. Few people knew that the negro had been returned to Arkon for trial until after it was all over and he had been taken to prison.

Social Dance at the Opera House next Saturday night, September 1st.

Remember that Bernard & Son are strictly in the stove business. A big lot of the celebrated Wilson heaters now on the way. 34-2

Troops Pause at the "Gates of the Temple of Heaven"

The Russian General Alone Declines to Agree Not to Violate the Imperial City.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Wednesday, August 15th, the American troops attacked the gates leading into the Imperial City. In the afternoon the operations were halted and a conference of the Generals was held which resulted in the withdrawal of the American troops. All except the Russian General agreed not to violate the Imperial City. The Russian General stated that his government had declared war on China. Russia now has Manchuria at her mercy.

PEKIN, (via Shanghai, Thursday, Aug. 23).—The Allied troops have surrounded the Imperial City, but refrain from entering pending instructions from their respective governments. General Chaffee says the fighting is ended, Japanese troops relieved Pei Tsang Cathedral where 15 French Nuns and 40 French and Italian soldiers have been besieged for two months. The Japanese troops are encamped in the grounds of the "Temple of Heaven." The Emperor and Empress Dowager are supposed to have fled northward.

round slightly in Sharkey's favor.

Round 2—Sharkey rushes but Fitz stops him with a right on the jaw. Sharkey rushes Bob to the ropes, but does no damage as Bob is shifty, and puts it all over the sailor. Sharkey continues his rushes but fails to get in an effective blow. Bob staggers Sharkey with a heavy left on the jaw and wind. Sharkey was very groggy and wild. Fitz lands a terrible left on the jaw and puts Sharkey completely out.

An exchange tells a story of a Missouri woman who fell into a pond and when pulled out a big catfish was found caught in her wire bustle. Her husband wanted to set her again, but she objected and now sues the old man for divorce on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

induced her to go to Marshfield, Oregon, and there enter upon a life of degradation. Two weeks ago the two girls, for such they are, went to San Francisco. They tried to stow away on a Coos Bay steamer, but were discovered. They drifted into the tenderloin.

The distressed father has sent word to his friends that he believes his daughter has gone back to Marshfield, and there he will go in search of her.

The Universal Range—what is it? See Bernard & Son. 34-2

By the provisions of Collis P. Huntington's will the widow gets two-thirds and the nephew, H. E. Huntington, one-third of Huntington's stock in the Southern Pacific. Princess Hatzfeldt, the adopted daughter, gets $1,000,000.