Mrs. J. O. Metzker and Miss Lottie Peters, of Cedarville, passed through Lakeview last Monday en route to Crooked Creek on a visit with their sister, Mrs. E. E. Rinehart.

Reno Gazette: "By mistake a Russian battery opened on the American lines in China and wounded a few men. In the Philippines the Bryan fire in the rear has cut down thousands of brave Americans, and is still at work."

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Russell & Co., Portland, Oregon, dealers in high grade engines, boilers, sawmills, farming implements, etc. Russell & Co. are notorious for fair dealing and high class machinery. It is one of the best houses to deal with on the Pacific Coast. Send for their catalogue.

Agents of the Germans are scouring Northern California for horses to be used for cavalry purposes. These agents have a contract to furnish 2,500 horses for use in the German army, and it is said they will purchase almost any kind of a sound saddle horse. Horsemen of Lakeview should be prepared for their coming, as they will arrive here soon.

Mrs. Thomas McGrath and daughter, Miss Edna, Mrs. H. C. Fleming and daughter, Winifred, and Charles Rhodes started Monday for Little Shasta, Siskiyou county, where they go to visit old friends for a few weeks. Mr. Rhodes goes to witness the big game of baseball between the Little Shasta and Edgewood teams on September 1st, for $1,500.

Roswell Parish, Jr., representing Justice, Bateman & Co., wool commission merchants of Philadelphia, started for his home last week after a sojourn in Lakeview of three months. While here Mr. Parish procured large consignments of wool for his house. Wool already hauled out and now being taken to the railroad for this house amounts to 300,000 pounds.

In speaking of the sheep industry in the Hawaiian islands Joe Coleman says, in many places, rich and fertile, there can be seen great bands of sheep roaming the hills. Owners turn out upon the hills as many as thirty thousand head of these animals in one band, not to be seen or molested by their owners again until the shepherds gather them at shearing time.

James Snelling and daughter, Miss Eva, went to Cedarville last Friday. Mr. Snelling will buy hay at Cedarville and will move his sheep there for the winter. Miss Snelling will consider the advisability of opening up a photograph studio in Cedarville. The young lady has been a pupil under Mrs. C. A. Knox for several months past and is said to be proficient in the art of photography.

New Era, Alturas: "This week we were shown an 8-months old half-breed Hereford and Durham bull raised by A. L. Morse of this town, which tips the scales at 790 pounds. This is a remarkable weight for a calf of eight months, and when grown he will doubtless be a record breaker as to weight. Mr. Morse will exhibit the animal at the fair in October, where it will be apt to carry off one of the prizes."

Lake County Wool.

Very little of the 1900 clip of Lake county wool has thus far been sold, the larger proportion going to different commission houses on consignment. It is understood that J. Frankl was the only purchaser this season and his purchase amounted to about 20,000 pounds. About 300,000 pounds was taken by Justice, Bateman & Co., of Philadelphia; George H. Ayres & Co. shipped 200,000 pounds to John Lee, and H. C. Rothe & Co. shipped to Thos. Denigan, Son & Co. 125,000 pounds—all on consignment. There are probably 1,200 bags more in Lake county yet to be shipped. The wool clip of the northern valleys in this county goes to The Dalles.

Rise in the Price of Wood.

It appears that the men who have heretofore dealt the heaviest in wood in this vicinity will not furnish any to the people of Lakeview this season, and in consequence the indication points to a scarcity as well as a rise in the price of this commodity. The building contractors have also used up several hundred cords in the past two months. It is safe to say that the man who has not already engaged his wood for the winter will be compelled to stand the raise and rustle for his wood, besides. Some woodhaulers are already asking $5 per cord, and it would seem that a wood "trust" was being established, for which William McKinley and Prosperity are no doubt responsible. There are a few who have not yet gone into the combine and may not do so.

We believe that the man who will establish at once a woodyard in Lakeview would find it a most profitable business this winter. In fact, it would be a paying business at any season of the year—the year round.
