

WILLIAM HENRY PENLAND.

The death of William Henry Penland in Lakeview, last Saturday, was a particularly sad one, and public sympathy goes out to the bereaved wife, fatherless children and disconsolate father of the deceased.

Henry Penland was born in Shasta county, Cal., and at the time of his death, September 1, 1900, his age was 33 years, 11 months and 22 days. George H. Penland, an old citizen of Lake county, was father of the deceased, and, upon being advised of the death of his son, arranged to come here to attend the last sad rites. When a short distance from his home in Cedarville, he, too, being in ill health, suddenly collapsed, and had to be returned to his home for medical treatment.

At the time of the death the wife and little girl were lying dangerously ill in another room, and are still under the close attention of the physician, as is also a little son who has since been taken down with fever.

Since his boyhood the deceased was a sufferer from a disease similar to epilepsy and very frequently without warning he would fall suddenly to the ground in a fit, from which he would emerge in a weak and emaciated condition.

Deceased had only been ill a few days when death relieved him of his sufferings. He complained of rheumatic pains, and it was not known until too late that the deadly fever was consuming him. He leaves a wife and three children, a father, brother and numerous other relatives to mourn his death. The funeral took place from the M. E. Church on the 4th inst. Rev. Warfield officiated. The floral offerings were profuse.

Mrs. S. D. Coulter and Miss Sibyl Harber, both keepers of boarding houses, exchanged locations last Monday, the former moving into the Water street property, recently purchased by her, and the latter moving to the Main street building purchased by her from Metzker & Lewis. Both are enjoying a large patronage and are giving satisfaction to a hungry public.

A Eugene farmer was in a store the other day and some one asked him to listen to a phonograph on exhibition there. The operator handed him the ear tubes, fixed them in shape and started the machine. The farmer suddenly dropped the tubes, saying: "Gosh, there comes a brass band, and I left the mules untied."

George W. Mapes and J. N. Givan were over from Warner Saturday. The Mapes vaqueros have driven from the Warner ranges 600 head of beef cattle that are now pasturing at the Venator ranch. The cowboys returned to Warner to continue the rodeo, and expect to get 100 head more. The beef cattle will be driven to Reno for sale.

James Snelling returned from Cedarville last week, after having bought enough hay to winter his sheep, at $4.50 per ton. Mr. Snelling will probably remove his family to Cedarville for the winter. Ted Jaquish will come to Lakeview for the winter, and he and Mr. Snelling will exchange residences.

THE NORTH WARNER ROAD.

Work to Be Commenced on the Road Over the Rimrock Next Week.

T. A. Crump, road supervisor in district No. 5, was in Lakeview this week collecting the subscriptions of Lakeview business men for the building of the North Warner road, over the rimrock, to the Harney county line. A number of people in the North Warner section will pay their subscriptions in work, and the supervisor says that a force of men will be at work on the road in a week's time. It is proposed to do the work so far as the private subscriptions will allow and then complete the road by county appropriation. As soon as the improvement shall have been completed a move will be made to have a mail route established from Lakeview to Shirk. Mr. Crump found all subscribers in Lakeview ready and willing to make good their subscriptions to the road fund. He is of the opinion that this road, once made easily passable, will be of incalculable benefit to Lakeview from a business point of view. He says the Deep Creek road alone, since its completion, has benefited Lakeview many thousands of dollars in trade, and that the road now about to be constructed will surpass it greatly in drawing trade to this point. It is to be hoped that the work on the new road will be prosecuted until it is made a highway of easy travel to the Harney line.

BARNUM--SIMPSON.

At the home of C. A. Rehart, at Crooked Creek, Lake county, last Sunday, September 2, a very happy event occurred—the marriage of Eli Barnum and Miss Myrtle Simpson. Both are well known young people, the groom the son of Frank Barnum, and the bride the daughter of Mrs. C. A. Rehart. Judge Tonningsen officiated in his usual happy manner.

The bride looked charming in white silk and a veil of orange blossoms. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was enjoyed, and the happy couple received the congratulations of numerous friends. The following people were present and witnessed the ceremony:

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rehart, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnum, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wright, Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Smith, Misses Nell Simpson, Ella, Rose, Edna, Mildred, Kaleen and Marie Rehart, Genevia and Ollie Wright, Louise Dusenberry, Messrs. Charlie, Wildie and Carl Barnum, J.W., Artie, Roy and Bennie Rehart, B. Gruman, B. M. Snyder, W. F. Grob, Wm. Kent, N. Wilcox and Geo. Tavis.

The following wedding presents were received by the newly married couple:

C. A. Rehart, cow; Mrs. C. A. Rehart, lamp; Mr. and Mrs. Barnum, silver tea pot; Mr. and Mrs. Wright, cake stand; Dr. and Mrs. Smith, silver card tray; Miss Rose Rehart, window curtains; Misses Edna Rehart and Nell Simpson, lemonade set; Miss Ella Rehart, berry set; Miss Rose Stanley, set glass ware; Misses Genevia and Ollie Wright, salt and pepper shaker; B. M. Snyder, bed spread; W. F. Grob, silver butter dish; Wm. Kent, wash-tub, wash-board and bar soap; B. Gruman, set silver knives and forks; H. C. Rothe & Co., set table linen.

Contractor Childers commenced last Tuesday laying brick on the two buildings to be constructed for Dr. Daly, opposite the Reynolds building. The corner building when completed will be occupied by Lee Beall as a drug store, and the other by C. H. Dunlap, fancy groceries.

George Spring, the notoriously bad Indian from Alturas, was in Lakeview last week. Spring married a white girl in Modoc county several years ago, and has been troubled with the bighead ever since. He was here to show the Lakeview tribe how to gamble. From all reports he was successful.

Last Monday S. V. Rehart sold to Charles Tonningsen the house and lot on Canyon street, opposite the residence of Harry Bailey. He also sold the lot adjoining on the west to J. M. Handley, upon which the owner will build a carpenter shop.

Frank Romer was in from the 70-ranch last Monday seeking medical aid. While assisting in putting down P. & B. roofing on the big barn at the Heryford Bros. ranch the poison dust from the roofing got into his eyes and almost made him blind.

Clint. Linebarger was engaged this week in removing the building, formerly occupied by C. Henkle as a saloon, from the lot on Water street to J. H. Turpin's half-block on Dewey street. The building will be arranged for a residence.

F. M. Barnum, of Gale, has taken his family to Klamath Falls for the winter, and his children will attend the public schools at that place.
