VOL. XXI

LAKEVIEW, OREGON, THURSDAY, OCT. 11, 1900.

NO. 40

THE EXAMINER NEXT WEEK IN NEW FORM

A 26x40 Publication in Eight-Page Form With the Possibility of Enlargement in the Future.

The Examiner will appear to our readers next week in new form—an eight-page paper, 26x40 in size. The work of preparation for this new order of things—setting new and enlarged advertisements, getting the big power press ready for printing, moving our office and other labor attending the change, has caused much expense and diligent work. We had hoped to issue the enlarged paper six weeks earlier, but it was impossible to make the change while in our cramped up, temporary quarters in the Field building, and our new office at the old location in the Masonic building was not completed as early as we had expected, owing to an unavoidable delay in procuring lumber. However, we anticipate and hope that the transformation will be a pleasing innovation to our readers and advertisers. With the eight-page paper we can give our advertising patrons better satisfaction in the location of their public announcements, and at the same time do justice to ourselves. It is always a pleasure for us if we can please our patrons. Our initial issue as an eight-page paper may not be up to the standard which we expect to keep The Examiner, but any shortcomings in the first attempt will be charged to the hurry and bustle of the week. Our future efforts will be made along the line of progress in keeping pace with New Lakeview and giving the people of Lake county a better newspaper than they have ever had in the past.

With our present facilities for printing The Examiner can be still greater enlarged in the future—as the town progresses and business justifies. With our power press we are enabled to print any size or form of newspaper, and with the rapid strides Lakeview is making cityward this paper may be made larger at any time, as we propose to keep up with the profession.

T. B. Dozier, district attorney of Shasta county, Cal., a brilliant young lawyer and orator and life-long democrat, has left his party and comes out boldly for McKinley and Roosevelt. Mr. Dozier is one among many old line democrats who have left their old party for the party of progress and prosperity. Mr. Dozier gives his reasons as follows:

"The great civilization which we have achieved and the great development is due to the spirit of American expansion.

"I believe the action taken by the government of the United States in regard to its foreign policy is right, just, progressive and proper, and that it is such as is desired by the people of the United States.

"I believe it the duty of every good citizen, irrespective of politics, to support an administration when that administration has pursued a course advocated and desired by the people themselves.

"I fail to see where President McKinley and his cabinet have failed to intelligently pursue and carry out the desires of the people of this country.

"It has been the destiny of this country, as demonstrated by history and experience, that it should carry the blessings of free and liberal government to the nations of the earth not so blessed, as to imbue them with that spirit."

A letter from W. S. Warfield from Riddles, Oregon, announces the safe arrival at that place of himself and mother, and his father, Rev. J. W. Warfield, at Canyonville, where the family will hereafter reside.

Miller & Lux Will Withdraw.

W. D. Duke, the rustling representative of Miller & Lux, was in Lakeview last Saturday looking for beef cattle. Mr. Duke now has an office of his own at 126 Stockton street, San Francisco, though he is still in the employ of his old firm. He has been quite successful in purchasing horses for army purposes this fall. Mr. Duke informs us that Miller & Lux intend to retrench in their business, owing to the inability of Mr. Miller, (the moving spirit of the firm) to longer look after the extensive business interests of the company, he having met with an accident a few months ago which left him crippled, probably for life. About the first move in the retrenchment will be to give up their interests in Lake county. The cattle will be driven out of Silver Lake valley and the firm's grazing land leases sold.

Chance for Young Men.

The Seminole tribe of Indians in the Indian Territory have passed a law subsidizing respectable white men who will marry into the tribe. The act requires the man to be well recommended and sound of body and mind. With the dusky maiden he gets two hundred acres of good land and $500 cash to begin farming. These girls are strictly civilized, having had the benefit of public and private schools for forty years—though it must not be understood that they are forty years old. Here's the chance to get a starter in life, young man. We hope that Lakeview boys, who are inclined that way, will defer their trip to the Seminole teepees until after election.

NOTES TAKEN ALONG THE LINE.

Semi-annual report of the county officers appears in this issue.

New subscribers to The Examiner are pouring in at a lively rate.

Governor Roosevelt met with a grand reception in Mr. Bryan's state.

All our people have returned from Alturas and report an interesting time during Fair week.

The Examiner is now located on the same ground it held before the fire—in the new Masonic building. Call and see us.

The Church of God of Northern California will hold a ten-day Assembly meeting at Cedarville, commencing October 20th.

J. O. Bull who was here last week from Yreka, disposed of a mine near that place, just before starting for Lakeview, which netted him $5,000.

The Red Bluff News reports a number of wool sales at that place last week, at prices ranging from 8 to 9½ cents. John Lee was the principal purchaser.

The races during the Siskiyou County Fair at Yreka were run in the mud, and it rained so hard on the second day that the events were postponed to the third.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pease and daughter, Alma, arrived from Summer Lake last Sunday. Mr. Pease went to New Pine Creek after a load of flour and started home yesterday.

Fred Fisher was down from Summer Lake this week and went to New Pine Creek after a load of flour. He says the majority of crops in Summer Lake this season were only fair.

Lon Brisco has returned from a visit with his mother at Spokane, Wash. He is in Lakeview this week as the principal witness for the prosecution in the Warner valley cattle cases.

Mrs. Gus Schroder, of Silver Lake, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Gard Van Riper, in Ashland. She is now returning home with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Buick from Gold Hill, via the Rogue River route.

We have had a fair warning that winter will soon be here. Woe be unto the man who will not have his wood shed piled high with pine sticks. And that reminds us that the good Samaritan who promised wood for The Examiner fire box has not yet put in an appearance. Two or four-foot wood—either will do.

Lakeview is sadly in need of a big hotel this week to accommodate the large number of people here in attendance upon the Circuit Court. Unfortunately the big hotel could not be completed in time, but we can promise all visitors that upon their next trip to Lakeview they can have an opportunity of procuring accommodations in the finest hotel in Southeastern Oregon. However, with the private houses and excellent restaurants in the town the visitors of the week did not fare so badly.
