LAKEVIEW, OREGON, NOV. 15, 1900.

MUST GET A DIVORCE.

The day following the election the San Francisco Examiner told how it happened. The yellow boy admits that free silver was not an issue, but was buried deep in the contest of 1896. Throughout the late campaign, however, that paper insisted that the free and unlimited coinage of silver was an important issue, thereby boldly showing itself to be a thoroughly unreliable, and tricky newspaper. The other issue that assisted in the defeat of Mr. Bryan was the "imperialistic" bugaboo, and the belief of the American people in expansion, says the yellow kid.

There is one thing that the followers of and believers in straight Democracy have learned, and that is that they can never win a political contest while playing end man to the Populist party. Mr. Bryan is Populist to the core and is against the principles of true Democracy. The old line Democrats must divorce themselves from the Populist party and Bryanism to ever again gain a foothold in the political arena. In future campaigns the country will see such men as Hill and his kind of Democrats pitted against the Bryan-Tillman faction of Populists in a struggle for supremacy. Bryan is not a Democrat, otherwise he ought to have had a chance for the Presidency. Hill is a Democrat, and there are many thousands of men of his political belief who will in future rally to his standard. Nevertheless, while Mr. Bryan has twice suffered defeat at the polls for the highest office within the gift of the American people, it must be admitted that he is of some consequence as a politician, and a man of wonderful determination. Put Mr. Bryan on a strong and suitable platform, and give him to understand that his personality is a secondary consideration—that the party is greater than the man—and he would prove a formidable opponent to any man in the nation. But Mr. Bryan's teachings are bad—very bad. He stands on false ground and teaches false doctrines. He is not great enough to hoodwink the American people, and will pass away with all humanity into another world without having attained the one great ambition of his life—to be President of the United States.

In 1896 the four counties of the First Judicial District of Oregon, Jackson, Josephine, Klamath and Lake, each gave Bryan majorities, in round numbers as follows: Jackson 1,000; Josephine 300; Klamath 100 and Lake 32. Each in turn reversed that record in the "late unpleasantness," and gave McKinley majorities. Lake is the banner Republican county of the First District with 225 majority.

Now some of the tied-up millions of money will go into railroad development in this state, and we will see the Corvallis & Eastern go over the Cascades, and three or four more lines invade the empire that lies undeveloped in Southeastern Oregon—to say nothing of roads to the Tillamook and Nehalem countries and other Oregon coast districts, says the Salem Statesman.

The Japs and Chinese can vote in Canada. So says the authorities. Five thousand who have been naturalized during the past year may vote at the Dominion election in British Columbia on December 7th.

The total cost of taking the late census of the United States is $6,261,961. There were 53,000 enumerators and all have been paid with the exception of 55 whose accounts are held up for technicalities.

Some unique election bets are now being paid. A Medford man rode a broomstick through the main street to the depot and return, hurrabing for McKinley and Roosevelt at every step. The wager was made with a Medford lady, who was in honor bound to do the same thing had Bryan been elected, which would have been simply awful—but the woman knew all the time she had the best of the wager.

A prominent traveling freight agent of one of the leading roads on the coast, made a prediction in Salem the other day to the Statesman that the so-called arid portion of Eastern Oregon would, within five years, be cut up with railroads as much as some of the Eastern states are, and that the wonderful resources of Eastern Oregon will surprise the world.

The Warner Land cases have been decided by Commissioner Hermann against the settlers of Warner Valley. Doubtless the case will go at once on appeal to the Secretary of the Interior.

Lake county Republicans think the news is good enough without any torchlight or cannonading demonstration.

OFFICIAL VOTE OF LAKE COUNTY

Below is given the official vote of Lake county, Oregon, as canvassed by the County Court last week. Lake county gives McKinley and Roosevelt a plurality of 225, or 193 more than in 1896. This vote decides the standing of Lake county beyond a doubt as Republican by over 220, and sets at rest the contention of the past few years that Lake county was close. A man will always vote according to his political faith at a Presidential election. There were a few scattering votes which were, no doubt, intended for either McKinley or Bryan, and the parties who cast them did not know how to vote properly, as the vote was scattered about the ballot for electors of different parties:

UNDER THE MISTLETO

Lannes P. Klippel and Florence E. Foster are happily married at Summer Lake.

As per announcement in these columns of a happy event to be celebrated at Summer Lake, the marriage of Lannes P. Klippel and Miss Florence Elizabeth Foster, was duly solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Foster, on Wednesday, November 7, 1900. Only relatives of the bride witnessed the ceremony, as the few intimate friends who had been invited were unable to attend on account of illness.

The marriage of this popular couple is the culmination of a courtship lasting for several years, and it is to be hoped that nothing will ever occur to mar the perfect happiness that now exists between them as husband and wife. The bride is the beloved eldest daughter of the pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. James Foster, and the groom is well connected and is highly esteemed for his gentlemanly qualities. It is the opinion of their friends that they are very happily matched.

The parlor at the Foster home was embellished with festoons of pink chrysanthemums and decorated in keeping with the joyful event. At 11 a. m. Presiding Elder D. T. Summerville of the M. E. Church, who resides at Grant's Pass, said the simple words that bound the couple together for life.

After congratulations had been extended to Mr. and Mrs. Klippel, and the comely bride had been duly kissed, those present were escorted to the dining-room, where an elegant wedding feast was enjoyed. After a brief time the bride and groom started for their future home, on the north shore of Summer Lake, where the good wishes of numerous friends follow them.

They were the recipients of many handsome wedding presents. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Walters of Lakeview were in attendance.

And still Paisley, our northern neighbor, continues to branch out. C. W. Withers, an enterprising young man, has opened a variety store at that place, and has a handsome stock of everything in the line, besides a full stock of gent's furnishing goods. The Examiner bespeaks for him a liberal patronage and much success, as he is bright and energetic.

We make Prosperity a Fact to our Customers

How? By giving them the most for their money. No matter how large or how small a man's income it should be spent carefully—that is where it will obtain best value. As we have often said—trashy goods are dear at any price. Our large business has been built up by selling reliable dry goods at close prices. Never have we been more thoroughly equipped to serve our customers than this fall. We challenge comparison of goods and prices.

Oliver E. Charlton is up from New Pine Creek on business this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hartzog were up from New Pine Creek, Tuesday, on a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Follett were in Lakeview this week. Mr. Follett is now in the merchandise business in New Pine Creek.

J. Frankl started for San Francisco yesterday to remain with his family during the winter. Mr. Frankl will return to Lakeview in the spring.

Miss Essie Gupton accompanied her father L. D. Gupton to the Sacramento valley, leaving here by private conveyance last Tuesday. Miss Gupton will spend the winter in Stockton.

J. E. Bernard and son William R. Bernard are now in Oarland, Cal., with a band of mules which they are putting on sale. Mrs. W. R. Bernard and children are there also, and will remain until the animals are disposed of.

Clarence H. Dunlap and Miss Stella Duke were married last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sherlock in Lakeview. The happy event was celebrated too late for The Examiner to give particulars in this issue. We can't see why people will persist in getting married on Wednesday evening.

T. W. Colvin writes to have his copy of The Examiner forwarded to Lincoln, Placer county, Cal., where he and Mrs. Colvin have located for the winter. He also informs us that Major Christman and wife are now living at Auburn, Cal., and if the climate there proves beneficial to the health of the Major he will purchase a home in Auburn next spring.

J. L. Coleman and H. L. Chandler left for San Francisco last Monday. Mr. Coleman will spend the winter in San Francisco and Los Angeles, and before his return to Lakeview intends to visit the City of Mexico. Mr. Chandler recently sold his sheep to his brother S. B. Chandler, and will accompany Mr. Coleman on his travels.

Ike Davies is always doing something to please his most intimate friends. Last week he presented Walter Sherlock with a handsome and costly robe made from coyote skins. The robe is a very large one and was made by Mr. Davies' own hands, even to the tanning of the skins. He has made many such robes, but none any finer than the one presented to Mr. Sherlock. He has a few more on exhibition at G. Schlager's shop.

Bill Nye in a spirit of revenge once said: A man may use a wart on the back of his neck for a collar button, ride on the back coach of a railroad train to save interest on his money till the conductor comes around, stop his watch at night to save wear and tear, leave a dot without a dot or cross to save ink, and pasture his mother's grave to save corn, but a man of this kind is a gentleman and a scholar compared to a fellow who will take a newspaper two or three years and then refuse to pay for it.

To Open McCloud District.
Two big deals, involving the transfer of about 150,000 acres of land has just been closed by William H. Mills, land agent of the Southern Pacific. The purchasers are the McCloud River Railroad and Lumber Company and T. B. Walker of Minneapolis, the latter being one of the largest operators in the Northwest. Both tracts are in the McCloud River district, southeast of Mt. Shasta. The McCloud Company will make lumber for its extensive lumber yards, while Mr. Walker intends to construct a 35-mile railroad and erect mills with a great capacity.—Big Valley Gazette.
