

MISCELLANEOUS

"An End to All Things" is the name of the second story to be found on the sixth page this week.

Schminck & Son will compete with any competitor in prices on furnishing goods.

If you notice a scarcity of news in The Examiner this week blame the elements for it. There is "nothing doing" these stormy days.

Schminck & Son have an elegant display of shirts and neckties.

G. W. Cloud and Rolla Goodman were up from New Pine Creek last Friday. They report more snow at New Pine Creek than in Lakeview.

If you are looking for a man and can't find him you will, doubtless, run across him at Charlie Graves' Red Shoe Store, trying on a pair of those elegant shoes.

Ed Ivory of Modoc last week purchased thirty head of fine cattle from William Mullins and 150 head from Frank McClintock of Surprise, says the Record.

With army officers Jesse Moore "AA" whiskey is a very popular drink. Geo. Jammerthal, sole agent.

C. S. Benefiel, millman, Paisley, Or.: "I like The Examiner very much since you cut and paste it. Before, I never knew when I had read it all until I had read a lot of it twice. Compliments of the season."

E. A. Snyder has a supply of cabbage, onions and other vegetables on hand. Orders left here will be attended to.

The Reno Gazette says that Mac Sample, who was injured in the overturning of an N. C. O. railway coach recently, looks as if he had gone through the beater of a threshing machine.

"Get there, Eli!" Eli's Restaurant; best meals in town. Everybody knows Eli, the famous chef. Dinners to order.

J. G. Walters is now in Tacoma, where he has a position with his brother-in-law, A. A. Allen, in the sewing machine business. Mrs. Walters is at Summer Lake, and will join her husband at Tacoma as soon as he becomes settled.

Drink nothing but Jesse Moore whiskey and you'll always be happy. On sale at Whorton & Fitzpatrick's.

Mrs. D. W. Chessman, Napa, Cal.: "I am much pleased with The Examiner, and you can count me as one of your regular subscribers." [Mrs. Chessman is an old resident of Lakeview, having left here many years ago. She still owns property near the town.—Ed.]

"It seems to be an actual fact that an Indian never judges." "Nonsense! Didn't Longfellow make Minnehaha?"

And everybody else "Ha Ha's," who drink and smoke at Post & King's.

The Pacific Stockmen's Association met in San Francisco on January 8th. F. C. Lusk of Chico was elected president. John Shanks, Reno; J. Churchill, Yreka; Fred Cox, Sacramento, and Henry Miller, San Francisco, are directors.

When you go to Klamath Falls don't fail to see C. D. Wilson the popular caterer at the Gem saloon. He carries the finest stock in town and will treat you right. The Gem is the popular resort. Try the Hermitage whisky there.

A case of smallpox has developed at Montague, Siskiyou county, Cal. The Redding Searchlight says that a strict quarantine has been established, but this is not absolute assurance that the disease will not spread. Montague is the junction of the Yreka Railroad, and is the Southern Pacific station near the California and Oregon dividing line.

There is a charm by sages often told, Converting all it touches into gold; Content can soothe wherever by fortune placed, Can rear a garden in the desert waste.

The contented people about town are those who enjoy their drinks and smokes at Post & King's.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

Daniel Miller, who died at Ft. Bidwell two months ago, was the father of Mrs. Cafader, and aged 96 years. The Plaindealer says that the deceased came from Jackson county, Oregon, last fall, on a visit to his daughter. He was a pioneer of this state, and had a wide circle of acquaintances.

Only two weeks more will Dunlap & Thruston give that 10 per cent discount in dry goods and furnishing goods and 5 per cent in choice groceries. Better get in before they close on the reduction prices.

The sickness in Lakeview is gradually dying out, and just now there are no cases of fever reported and those who have been ill are convalescent. It is sincerely to be hoped that we shall never again be subjected to such a terrible siege of sickness as the people of Lakeview have suffered during the past five months.

Has it ever struck you that you can buy Jesse Moore "AA" whiskey for almost the same price that is paid for ordinary whiskey? Your dealer has it. Geo. Jammerthal, sole agent.

A trainload of cattle passed through Vacaville, Monday, en route to Winters, says the Reporter. There were 1,000 head on board and they were shipped from Arizona, where the feed is short. From Winters the cattle were driven to the Phelan ranch in the northern part of the Berryessa valley. One of the men in charge of the cattle stated that 30,000 head had been shipped from Arizona to northern counties during the past month.

Viewed through an inverted glass, Sometimes makes one see double; Thus four quarts of beer is apt To make a full peck of trouble.

But if purchased at Post & King's (A. B. C.) it will make a barrel of pleasure.

This paper only $2 for 52 weeks.

A rabbit hunt, on the same plan as carried out at Crane Creek during holiday week, was in progress in the New Pine Creek section all last week. Sides were chosen and the contest waxed warm. The winning side was entertained at supper at Cannon Hall on Saturday night, at the expense of the losers of the contest. The hunt was made between Kelley Creek and Cottonwood Creek, three miles south of the state line. It was a great event and much interest was taken in the contest by all the citizens.

The happy have whole days and those they choose; The unhappy have but hours and those they lose.

The happy people are those who drink good liquors and smoke El Comandante cigars at Post & King's.

The choicest club whiskey is Jesse Moore "AA," and in the club life it is in great demand. Geo. Jammerthal, sole agent.

Awful Fire at Rochester, N. Y.

By the burning of the Rochester (N. Y.) Orphan Asylum on January 8, thirty lives were lost and many inmates are fatally burned. The asylum was a three-story structure and its occupants numbered nearly 200. One of the incidents of the terrible fire happened when Fireman Morris Keating went up on the roof on a ladder to rescue women and children. Just as he reached the top a stream of water was turned on him to keep the flames away, but it had the effect to confuse the man. He reached for a woman and the latter jumped for his arms. Suddenly the man lost his hold on the ladder. The crowd groaned as the brave man fell, with the woman, to the ground. The woman was killed outright and the fireman was so seriously injured that he may die. The roof was covered with children, who escaped through the scuttle from the upper rooms, and the firemen were kept busy carrying them down. The morgue was soon full of dead people. Most of the dead are children. The fire started in the engine-room.

Increasing Use of Mutton.

The cause of the decrease in the world's wool production have also operated to limit the increase in the United States.

The increasing demand for mutton as food has undoubtedly been a potent cause of the decrease in wool production everywhere outside of the United States, says the Justice, Bateman circular for January.

It has unquestionably had this effect in the Southern Hemisphere, where the continued growth of the export trade in frozen carcasses is a matter too well known to need more than a passing remark, while in densely populated districts like Great Britain, and in that portion of the United States east of the Mississippi, young sheep command such high prices that a continually increasing number are used for food before they reach maturity.

Quite recently, in Chicago, the average price per pound of mutton was higher than the quotations for extra prime steers.

This, of necessity, tends to a constant diminution of flocks; and in view of the extent to which this drain has already been felt in this country, even by our far western states, the increase of even 11 per cent in the clip of the United States constitutes a remarkable evidence of the fostering effect upon the industry of a protective tariff.

A Painful Accident.

On Tuesday of last week J. S. McLaughlin of New Pine Creek met with a painful accident, one that will keep him from using his left hand for some time to come. It is the same old story—a man usurping the duties of his better-half, and wielding an ax at the woodpile, in place of remaining by the crackling fire these cold winter days. Stanley was splitting kindling wood on Tuesday evening, using the ax with his right while the left digit held the stick upright. By a mis-stroke the ax edge buried itself in his hand, splitting the member from the wrist to the knuckle-joint of the fore finger, and making a ghastly wound. Dr. Easter of New Pine Creek treated the wound and Stanley is getting on all right. This should be a warning to all men, and good advice would be to adopt the plan of ye editor—get a light ax so your wife can use it.

Big Tract Open to Purchase.

The great tract of 300,000 acres of sugar and yellow pine, adjoining the reservation, which is immediately to be thrown open to purchase, shows very clearly that we shall next spring and summer have the greatest rush of timber buyers to Klamath county that has ever been seen, says the Republican. The future looks bright as to this county, so bright, indeed, that one can predict without much fear of mistake that a great increase in wealth, population and business will be the result.

THE MONOGRAM

"My name is Montmorency Claude de Peyster. What's your name?"
"My name, gentle youth, is Mickey Vere de Vere von Shaughnessy!"—N. Y. Journal.

Opening of the Season.
Now doth the small boy go to bed,
And gaze at the bare walls,
Until by and by he falls asleep,
And dreams of marble hauls.
—Chicago Daily News.

Considered Fastidious.
"Mrs. Clump says her second husband's awful fussy about his eatin'."
"Don't her cookin' suit him?"
"Tain't that; but, good land! he wants a clean napkin twice a week, and another plate fr his pie."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Quite a Journey.
"They say that immensely fat woman over there is remarkably shrewd."
"Well, I certainly think it would be pretty difficult to get around her."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Had Twins Before.
Friend—Considering that this is your third baby, I don't see why you should be so exuberantly happy over it.
Young Father (joyously)—Y-e-s, but it's only one this time.—N. Y. Weekly.

Modest Little Wish.
Young Wife—I wish I were a moth.
Young Husband—Why?
Young Wife—So I could get into some new clothes.—Town Topics.

True to Life.
Playwright—In the third act the wife comes in late and finds her husband sound asleep. Then she creeps over to the lamp and goes through the last chapter of a novel.
Manager—It will be more realistic if you will have her creeping over to his vest and going through the pockets.—Chicago Daily News.

Some Seasonable Advice.
Wife—I'm going to consult the doctor and see if I shouldn't go away this summer.
Husband—Don't do it, my dear, because when I have paid him for his advice there won't be anything left to buy a ticket with.—Detroit Free Press.
