Where lives the man that has not tried, How mirth can into folly glide, And folly into sin!

Mr. and Mrs. Reese Hawkins and S. D. Hawkins are on their way to "Ole Virginny" now.

No "botch" jobs ever turned out of The Examiner job office. Call and see samples and get prices.

Miss Anna Egan, teacher at the Klamath Indian school, has returned from a visit to Washington, D. C.

All the cattle in Long Valley has been sold and delivered, but Honey Lake Valley is still fairly well stocked.

Eldrick Bartow and Miss Lillie Haskins, both of Klamath county, were married near Klamath Falls, January 14, 1901.

Mrs. B. B. Lyon of Willow Ranch has been quite ill for some time past, and her condition was reported unimproved last Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Ross started for Echo, this state, on Monday's Western. She goes to visit her sister who is ill, and her stay is indefinite.

Mrs. Lizzie Chrisman and little daughter Addie started for Tacoma last Monday morning via the Western. She goes to visit her sister, Mrs. A. A. Allen.

J. H. Grider has leased the Valley hotel at Bieber, Lassen county, and is now behind the hotel register welcoming guests, and before the cash register taking in the dollars.

Joe Ambrose was in from the desert this week, and reports the sheep weathering the storm satisfactorily. Joe "smiled" when he learned that the outlook for wool was promising.

The town fire bell is now in place on the tower. A big crowd gathered Saturday to witness the "raising" process and to offer suggestions as to how it should be done. E. Lake did the job well.

Lee Beall has a fine display of toilet soaps. This line is his specialty and no house in Oregon can surpass him in these goods. You can buy these soaps by the box or cake at a very low price. Try Beall for soaps and you will be satisfied.

Armonth, the "drummer," traveling for Levi Strauss & Co., was in town this week. Mr. Armonth had a display of furnishing goods that are now in vogue in the East, but have not yet reached the coast.

A. D. Harpold, an enterprising merchant of Bonanza, has established a gas plant and all the business places of the town will be lighted by gas. This shows considerable enterprise for the little town across the line.

The edition of the Pacific Coast Miner containing the write-up and half tone cuts of business places in Lakeview and Goose Lake Valley will be issued about February 1st. The Lassen county edition was very handsome.

The Portland Telegram says that Hon. C. B. Watson of Ashland is a dark horse in the race for United State Senator. As Mr. Watson has returned quietly to his home in Ashland, we presume he has withdrawn from the contest.

Dr. and Mrs. Dewey have returned from Canby to Alturas. We are in receipt of a post-card from the Dr. requesting his copy of The Examiner forwarded to Alturas. He says the Deweys are well and enjoying the delightful winter in Modoc.

U. M. Slater & Co. have bought all of Senator Flanigan's mutton sheep that are for sale at this time—about 3000 in all—and shipments will be commenced at once. This last sale about cleans up the mutton sheep in this vicinity.—Reno Gazette.

Wash Obenchain, the stockman of Sprague River who is dangerously ill at Bly, was somewhat worse last Sunday night when driver Ramsby left there, and a physician from Bonanza was called. Wm. Finley the Bly stockman is reported better.

Miss Etta Pashburg, daughter of a Yreka merchant, upon returning to her room from the theater in San Francisco on New Year's eve, found that a burglar had been there in her absence and decamped with many of her valuables. A gold watch and chain, $60 in coin and other jewelry were taken.

Jay Harrison, who about a year ago canvassed Goose Lake and other portions of Lake county for subscriptions to a brand book, that never made its appearance, has at last been heard from. Harrison says he will refund the money, as the data he had collected for the book was destroyed in the late fire at Susanville.

A private letter from Paisley informs us that the snow is two feet deep at that place. The writer, C. B. Parker, entertains fears that it will result in heavy loss to sheepmen on the desert. At the date of writing, Jan. 10th, it was still snowing.—Alturas Plaindealer.

Answers to the conundrums continue to pour into The Examiner office from all directions—some of them absolutely correct, other giving very good answers. The prize has already been awarded, however, and the contest closed on the 17th inst. with the first correct answers to reach this office.

Neat, mechanical work on stationery gives the country business man a standing for up-to-date methods before his city house. A poor job in printing sets him down several notches in the city business man's estimation. Moral: Get your letterheads, billheads, envelopes, cards, etc., printed at The Examiner office.

H. L. Harkey was up from his ranch on Christmas day. He is now feeding his band of cattle, which he says came in from the summer ranges on Emigrant creek in good condition. Last week he sold 136 head, consisting of calves and yearling steers, to County Commissioner Venator, who will winter the bunch near Narrows.—Burns News.

The Record says that William Mullins of Cedarville has been buying and selling quite a number of cattle, and on the 15th inst. he purchased 80 head from D. E. Hill. The Hill cattle have always been reputed to be first-class, and as good cattle are in demand it is probable that Mr. Mullins will dispose of them when the right time comes along.

The New Era is informed that John Madden, ex-treasurer of Modoc, has been located for sure once more. Less than a year ago Madden "died in Chili," and his effects, consisting of his gold watch, etc., were forwarded to his sorrowing wife. John was a prominent character, both before and after absconding, and it is possible that his ghost is prowling about somewhere on the face of the earth.

V. L. Snelling, member of the firm of H. C. Rothe & Co., returned last Saturday after an extended pleasure visit to Portland and San Francisco. He had an enjoyable trip throughout, and feels more contented after his recreation. Mr. Snelling says San Francisco is a great town for a fellow to get separated from his money, and that in his travels he did not see a town that could equal Lakeview as a money maker. He met many old friends on his trip.

Hon. R. A. Emmett, joint representative from Klamath and Wasco counties in the Oregon Legislature, arrived in Ashland, Saturday, from his home at Keno, having been four days breaking through the snow blockade over the Cascades. He came through on horseback and brought the first through mail since the big snow-storm. Mr. Emmett left here for Salem Saturday evening.—Ashland Tidings.

Mr. Emmett also represents Lake county, and will look to the interests of this section with a careful eye.

The Ashland Record of the 17th inst. says: "G. N. Bogue, the Paisley, Lake county stockraiser, arrived here Saturday on a visit to his family. He started from home with a wagon and three horses ten days before that and was caught in the storm and compelled to abandon the wagon and come through on horseback. For two days he was floundering in the snow and the horses came near starving to death on his hands, unable to get a place to feed."

Reese Hawkins and wife of Lakeview arrived here last week and departed today for Termo, on their way to Togg's Brook, Virginia, where they will visit for a month or so. They were accompanied by S. D. Hawkins of Virginia, who has been visiting on the Pacific slope for some time. Mr. Hawkins formed a very favorable opinion of Modoc and made the acquaintance of many people here whose best wishes follow him back to "Ole Virginny."—Cedarville Record.

The Examiner job department has always been noted for the mechanical, up-to-date job work it has turned out. No bill head, letter head, card, circular or work of any description is ever sent out of this office that is not a model of neatness and typographical art. Our prices are as low as good work and good material will justify. With new lines of up-to-date type and a superior quality of stationery The Examiner job department stands prepared to do far the best work in Lake county, and at as low price as the same can be had in this country. If you know a good piece of work when you see it compare ours with the work of any other in South-eastern Oregon.

State Line Notes.

Mumps, Mumps, Mumps! Everybody who can catch them has 'em. Mrs. Lou Reid is quite ill with the mumps.

Miss Cora Hammersley is on the sick list.

Twelve cases of the mumps in our town is the record to date.

Miss Eva O'Neil is recovering slowly from a recent dangerous illness.

Billy Johnson was up from Willow Ranch the first of the week on business. John Fitzgerald, stockman and politician, was down from Crane Creek on the 19th.

Arthur Follett is under the Dr.'s care. The young man says he appears to improve on Sunday more than any day of the week.

Miss Lura Amick is teaching in place of her brother Dexter who is enjoying a siege of the mumps.

On the 18th inst. Rev. C. W. Raymond, Methodist minister of Lakeview, opened a series of meetings at the Bethel church (Cottonwood).

The town is full of revival meetings. The matter of applying for a saloon license in this burg will rest until the excitement passes away.

Bill Johnson met with a serious accident a few days ago from which he suffered a broken arm. Billy says he kicked at an obdurate calf and fell on the ice, but his friends believe that the calf did some kicking, too.

The friends of Frank Farrington, who had the misfortune to have a forty-ton log "roll over his entire body," are glad to note that he is rapidly recovering, but sorry to know that he will "never be the same man he was."

Wm. Burton made a flying trip to Alturas Wednesday on business. Burton says the recent snow storm was so heavy in the Modoc town that street car traffic was compelled to stop and the Lake steamers coming into that port were caught in the ice, with the thermometer at 26 below.

The latest fad in New Pine Creek is a "mouse hunt." The ladies cannot take part in the rabbit hunt with the men so they have hit upon this interesting plan of amusement. It is unnecessary to say that the fad has become popular and it will be amusing to on-lookers when the ladies appear in the field in bloomer columns.

A rabbit hunt has been inaugurated in the Willow Ranch section on the same lines as the hunt we held here two weeks ago. The mania has struck the people all along the line. It is a pleasant innovation—while riding the country of a big lot of pests there is also considerable sport in it. And the supper—and pretty girls. Oh, my!

Letters From The People.

Beach & McGarrey, Lakeview, Oregon: I send you three photographic scenes which I caught just after the big snow-storm in Yreka. You will see by the pictures that it snows heavier in Yreka than it does in Lakeview. People in Lakeview don't know what a genuine snowstorm is. In Yreka snow fell to the depth of five feet eight inches on the level in forty-eight hours. Snow shovellers were paid as high as $2.50 per hour during the storm. At the present time the snow in Yreka is still over three feet on the level, and crusted so hard that a horse finds good footing on top of it.

I will start back to Lakeview as soon as the roads are open again. I will return by stage.

I read The Examiner every week. I am more anxious to see it than any other paper. There is more news in The Examiner than a great many papers of twice its dimensions. Accept my congratulations. Yours truly,
GEORGE REID.

Yreka, Jan. 18, 1901.
[The photo scenes referred to can be seen at The Examiner office. They are very interesting, and show that "Old Yreka" is not the home of the orange and lemon.—Ed.]

Woodmen, Attention.
The meeting nights of Lakeview Camp, 526, W. O. W., have been changed from the first and third Wednesday evenings to the second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month.

The Ladies' Aid Wants Work.
The Ladies' Aid of Lakeview are desirous of getting work to do again, and, anybody having work they want done by the Aid, will please see the President, Mrs. W. P. Heryford.
