THE QUEEN'S FUNERAL.

With grand yet mournful display of naval pomp and power the body of the lamented Victoria was borne last Friday afternoon from its quiet resting place in Osborne House to Portsmouth, the heart of England's navy. Not since Admiral Cervera's ships lit up the Cuban coast with their self-consuming fires, has anything been seen which in tragic splendor approached the naval spectacle of February first.

Over the waters floated strains of Chopin's and Beethoven's funeral marches. The naval crews, accustomed to cheer, stood silently, and with cheek blanched, along the decks, and the flags which usually float defiantly in the breeze drooped half way down the halcyards. The most powerful fleet that England could gather on short notice lay inert and silent save for the mournful strains of the bands and the woeeful sound of guns that betoken neither peace nor war—but death.

Past these the naval funeral procession slowly steamed. Ahead were eight destroyers, and seldom have these speedy crafts drawn their long black hulls so sluggishly through the water. Steaming after them was the royal yacht Alberta, half screened by the awning on the poop, the royal coffin placed on a crimson dais, the curtains of which were drawn back and tied to four poles, leaving free to view the magnificent casket and robes. The foreign war vessels were moored southeast of the British ships in the order of their arrival and alongside of them were moored eight British gunboats. After leaving Trinity pier, the Alberta, with her attendant escort steamed along the deep channel between the coast of the Isle of Wight and the single line of battleships and cruisers. After the procession had passed the Majestic the forts and ships in Portsmouth harbor commenced firing minute guns and continued firing until the Alberta was alongside the wharf. No standards were displayed and ensigns and union jacks were at half mast.

On Saturday the body was taken ashore at Portsmouth and thence conveyed to London and Windsor for the last tributes to the Queen. The ceremony in bringing the coffin from Osborne to the pier at Cowes was scarcely more interesting than the naval function. Over the coffin was thrown the coronation robe worn by the girl queen. On this was placed the royal regalia, wand, sceptre and crown, which were scarcely ever used by the queen in her life time.

Vale! Victoria! Gracious Queen and noble woman. May thy virtues be emulated.

All the gambling games, nickel-in-the-slot, and all, have been closed in Portland and just now that is a very high class religious town. The worst element now is in Salem—and not in the penitentiary either.

A bill has been introduced in the Oregon Legislature prohibiting hogs from running at large. The bill is deficient, inasmuch as it does not state whether two-legged hogs are to be included with the quadruped.

Brownell's bill providing for a new constitution in Oregon has passed the House. It is said there are many modern features that should be added to the constitution of this state.

Congressman Tongue secured the Columbia river appropriation not only without the aid of the Idaho and Washington delegations, but in spite of their oppositions.

The bill to redistrict the state, introduced by Hunt of Multnomah, is entirely in the interest of Multnomah, increasing the representation of that county to seven senators and fifteen representatives. More power to Multnomah! Cow county representatives should sit on this bill.

Representatives R. A. Emmett and A. S. Roberts are two of the members of the Legislature who have signified their willingness to go into caucus and prevent a Senatorial deadlock in the Oregon Legislature.

Several thousand Filipinos have signed the oath of allegiance to the United States government, and have sworn to do all in their power to bring about peace.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Ab. Franklin of Davis Creek was severely injured last week by striking his hand with the sharp edge of a hatchet while splitting wood. Several large veins in the hand were severed, and Mr. Franklin lost considerable blood before reaching the surgeon at Alturas.

The pupils of the Lakeview public school, under the management of the teachers, are now rehearsing an entertainment to be given at Gunther Hall on the evening of Feb. 21st. This is to be a benefit for a school library in the Lakeview public school, and will consist of instrumental and vocal music, recitations and drills. It is the first entertainment attempted by the public school in two years and is entitled to a liberal patronage. Admission 25 cents.

Dr. Steiner says he likes Lakeview and her people, and will at once send for his family to join him here and make Lakeview their future home. He has an interesting family, consisting of wife and two daughters, the eldest eight years of age. They will occupy the residence to be vacated by Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Smith. Mrs. Steiner is said to be an accomplished woman, and The Examiner feels sure that this new addition to our circle will receive a hearty welcome.

Elwood Jaquish and Miss Myrtle Dodson were married at Cedarville, Cal., February 3, 1901. The groom is a prosperous young man, whose home has been in Surprise valley for a number of years, but who for some time has held a responsible position with the street car company in San Francisco. The bride is a daughter of William Dodson, a prominent stockman and farmer of Cedarville, and is a charming young woman. The Examiner extends its congratulations to the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Rinehart arrived last Thursday night at 11 o'clock from Cedarville, having been called here hurriedly by the serious illness of their daughter, Miss Effie Rinehart, whose condition last week was considered hopeless. Drs. Smith & Steiner, who have charge of the case, pronounce it appendicitis, and the patient was too weak to stand an operation. However, she is now regaining her strength and is reported very much improved. The physicians believe an operation will be necessary soon to insure the young lady's complete recovery.

Eight Cents for Steers.
Charles A. Bunting, the Klamath stockman, has sold his beef to Louis Gerber at 8 cents for steers, weighed at Merrill. He started with the beef for the railroad on the 31st ult., and will continue his trip to San Francisco, where he will enjoy city life for a while. Mr. Bunting informs us that his stock at Big are wintering well.

ABERT LAKE NOTES.
Stock in this section is looking well for this season of the year—sheep, especially. The new grass is growing rapidly and will soon be good feed. There is scarcely any snow on the desert; just sufficient to make it convenient for camp use and sheep to water. There has been no loss of stock thus far, so stockmen can feel quite safe for this winter, as doubtless the dangerous part is over with, and sheep are in good condition to stand a fairly hard winter yet.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

There's an old saying "You can't believe anything you hear and only half what you see." This hits modern advertising pretty hard. Many advertisements are either willfully or ignorantly deceptive, and most bargains are not what they seem. The success of this store has been won in a great measure by advertising our goods exactly as they are, and never offering anything for sale that could not be backed up by the reputation of this firm.

STOCK NOTES
HERE AND THERE

Last week Louis Gerber drove 220 fine beef from Klamath county to Montague for shipment to Sacramento.

The Big Valley Gazette says that fifty men took part in a rodeo on the Hayden Hill, Madeline and Grasshopper ranges two weeks ago and rounded up over 1,000 head of horses.

A Red Bluff man has just sold at 9 cents to a local butcher eleven young steers averaging a little over 1,300 pounds each. Steers going at $117 each is something remarkable.

James Felton, a prominent citizen of Gold Hill, sojourned in Klamath Falls the latter part of last week. He is feeding a large lot of cattle near this point, and owns a large ranch in Crook county. He thinks the irrigation under way and the railroad prospects assure lively development for Klamath and Crook counties in the immediate future.—Klamath Republican.

The stockraisers are much pleased with the generous amount of snow on the mountains and in the valley sections, as it will be a needed help in starting more grass on the ranges, so that good feed may be afforded during the next summer. Although the snow is very deep in some localities, it will melt rapidly during the summer months to keep the grass growing and afford considerable water also. During ordinary seasons the ranges become very dry and barren in many localities.

Henry Schumger of Sacramento has been in Butte Creek valley and Shasta valley lately purchasing beef cattle for the San Francisco and Sacramento markets. He secured three carloads from Hank Meiss of Butte creek, which were shipped from Montague, and will send more below later on.—Yreka Journal.

Hay for Sale.
I have about one hundred and fifty tons of hay for sale at five dollars per ton at my ranch near Goose Creek, Molok county. [5-4] PETER QUINN.

Recent experiments show that all classes of foods may be completely digested by a preparation called Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which absolutely digests what you eat. As it is the only combination of all the natural digestants ever devised the demand for it has become enormous. It has never failed to cure the very worst cases of indigestion and it always gives instant relief. Lakeview Drug Co.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cure make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.
