

MISCELLANEOUS

Bird Reed was here from New Pine Creek Friday.

John Reid, the stockman, was up from New Pine Creek last Friday.

Bernard Horn, a well-known cattle man of Nevada, died in San Francisco last week.

Walter Tracy, stockman of Drews Valley, was a business visitor in Lakeview last Friday.

Read Bieber's advertisement.

Sylvester Foster Brown, a pioneer of Yreka of the '50 period, died at Edgewood, Cal., last week.

Mrs. Lizzie Chrisman visited with the family of G. W. Stephenson in Ashland while on her way to Tacoma.

Joe Howard, the Drews Valley stockman, is still in Philadelphia, whither he went last December on a visit.

Jeff Parish, foreman for G. W. Mapes at Plush, is doing court duty in Alturas, having been subpoenaed as a witness in the Thomas case.

Soda crackers, 75c per box, at H. C. Rothe & Co.'s.

Oregon stands second in the states of the Union for timber. Texas is first with 84,000 square miles and Oregon next with 54,000 square miles of timber.

"Doc" Ramsby, driver on the Western, went through to Klamath Falls on his trip, leaving here Tuesday, and will visit a few days with his daughter, Mrs. S. Ed. Martin.

Go to the entertainment tomorrow evening and assist a worthy project.

C. C. Wallace, familiarly known as "Black" Wallace, a prominent Nevada politician dropped dead of heart disease while traveling in Mariposa county, Cal., January 30th.

The indications are that we are to have an early spring. Last Saturday was "groundhog" day, but the little weather prophet did not show himself as it was stormy and he couldn't see his shadow.

Valentines! Valentines! Who will be My Valentine? See Ahlstrom Bros. handsome stock.

Frank Kinsey, the 13-year old son of Mrs. M. E. Kinsey, who has been dangerously ill in Lakeview with the fever for six weeks, went out to Crooked Creek last week, having entirely recovered.

While en route to Virginia, and, upon reaching San Francisco, we understand that Reese Huskins received a telegram bidding him hasten to Tom's Brook, Va., as his sister was dangerously ill and not expected to live.

If you are not satisfied with your purchase it's because you did not buy Bieber's Good Goods.

The Cedarville Record says that Jas. Fee of Ft. Bidwell is feeding 100 head of fine 2-year old steers for beef. Mr. Fee has made it a point to grade up his cattle, and now has some of the finest to be found in Modoc.

Drs. Smith & Steiner have formed a copartnership and will practice their profession in Lakeview. Dr. Steiner appears to be active and is becoming acquainted quickly, as he has been on the go ever since his arrival.

Your sweetheart will find another to love if you don't get her one of those lovely Valentines at Ahlstrom Bros. Monogram.

Born—At Crooked Creek, Lake county, Oregon, Feb. 2, 1901, to the wife of S. P. Dicks, a bouncing baby girl. The mother and child are getting along nicely, and Elmer Rinehart says that Sam will doubtless pull through O. K.

Attorney J. E. Raker, who was seriously ill in San Francisco for two weeks, has returned to Alturas, and is defending Thomas, charged with the larceny of a cow in Modoc county. The case is attracting considerable interest.

John Aviragnette, the merchant tailor, is favored with an abundance of work, and is turning out some well-fitting garments. Try Aviragnette for a good suit of clothes.

It is rumored that Wells, Fargo & Co. will soon go out of business, and that the railroads will conduct the express business. This change would doubtless make express rates much cheaper, as the railroads now get 55 per cent of all the expressage handled by them.

Representative Roberts of Wasco has introduced a bill providing for a tax levy of 1 mill upon the taxable property of Oregon, as returned by the assessment rolls for 1900, to meet the outstanding warrants drawn on the scalp-bounty fund. It appears that there are a great many scalp-bounty warrants not paid by reason of the fact that more scalps of predatory animals have been taken than was anticipated when the scalp-bounty law was passed two years ago. The Roberts bill has become a law.

Thomas Martin and son Edward Martin, energetic citizens of Klamath county, are investigating the creamery project, with a view of establishing an enterprise of that character at Merrill. Good; may success attend their efforts.

Bieber makes the best fitting clothes. S. Childers, the contractor, and sons Bert and Guy, intend to start this week for Medford to be absent about two months on business. Bert has been ill for two weeks, but believes he is so far recovered as to be able to make the trip.

Suits to order from $12 up—at Bieber's. It is denied that Ashland is a dry town. The bar in the Hotel Oregon, it is said, was the only place granted a saloon license by the town authorities of that place. This is a discrimination that will probably not stand a test of law.

Albert Dent, a prominent stockman of Lake county, started last Sunday for his old home, Bismarck, Mo., where he will visit for a couple of months. Mrs. Dent preceded him there several months ago, and will return home with her husband in April.

Now for the Degree of Honor ball next Thursday evening, Feb. 14th.

Frank Hackney, the freighter, arrived last Monday from Termo with 8,000 pounds of merchandise for Lakeview merchants. Mr. Hackney made the round trip in twelve days, and says the roads were in excellent condition when he came over.

Jerome Knox & Company is the name of a new real estate agency just established at Cottage Grove. With his law business and the new enterprise just started Jerome Knox is said to be doing well—a fact that many people in Lake county will be glad to know.

F. Foster, a smooth fellow who claimed to be authorized to take subscriptions for Collier's Weekly, has been working California towns. He offers to throw in a moderate sized library as a premium to his victims upon the receipt of one dollar. He may visit this section; look out for him, for he is an impostor.

Miss Roma Whitmore has accepted a position as tailoress in Aviragnette's tailoring establishment. Mr. Aviragnette's business is growing so rapidly that it was necessary to engage assistance and his choice of help is an excellent one. Miss Whitmore is an estimable lady and an efficient hand with the needle.

Read the new advertisement in this issue of S. R. Sublette & Co., furniture dealers and undertakers. This firm makes a specialty of undertaking in all its branches.

It wasn't John Madden, after all. Madden and Crowe are two of the most elusive fellows of the century, and both fugitives for the same crime—one for kidnapping gold out of the county treasury of Modoc, the other for kidnapping the Cudahy kid. They are like the Irishman's flea—"now you have him and now you haven't."

Rev. Raymond has returned from Bettel, where he has been holding a revival meeting with much effect. There were over fifty converted and reclaimed to the Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. Raymond will hold prayer meeting this Thursday evening and regular services next Sunday morning and evening, to which all are cordially invited.

See those beautiful Valentines at The Monogram. Ahlstrom Bros. are up to the times in every line. Certainly no such elegant stock of Valentines were ever before seen in Lakeview. Don't forget your sweetheart on St. Valentine's day.

Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Smith will leave to-day for an Eastern trip and are to be absent several months. During their absence the doctor will take a thorough post-graduate course in the New York Polyclinic, New York city, the best school in America. He will also run over to Washington, D. C., on the 4th of March to witness the inauguration of William McKinley. Their many friends wish them a pleasant trip and safe return.

Senate Bill No. 103 provides for the organization and maintenance of district and county high schools. (The bill provides that upon petition of one-third of the legal voters of any district the Board of Directors shall post the customary notices twenty days preceding the annual school meeting) a special tax is to be voted for a high school course. A four years course is provided in the bill, two years to be devoted to required work, while the course of study for the last two years may be supplied, the course for the period being optional with the Board of Directors, although it is presumed the directors will avail themselves of the opportunity thus presented and substitute some industrial work for the regular course.

State Line Notes.

The Methodist revival closed at Bethel church last Sunday night. The meetings were attended by enthusiastic crowds and it was a regular good, old fashioned shouting Methodist meeting from start to finish. We understand that there were fifty reclaimed and newly converted.

Misses Annie Cook and Eva Amick are on the "mumps" list this week. This disease has been an epidemic here, and our merchants have done a thriving business in the sale of pickles this season. Everybody who has a sore throat tries a pickle to see if they are afflicted with the dreaded mumps.

Miss Cora Charlton, the popular teacher, was a visitor in New Pine Creek this week.

Miss Annie Easter left Monday for Lakeview where she will take music lessons.

O. E. Charlton, administrator of the Ben Warner estate, returned Saturday from Lakeview.

Misses Ettie and Nettie Vinyard, teachers of Lake City, are visiting New Pine Creek relatives and friends.

Mrs. S. E. Hammersly desires us to tender her sincere thanks to the good people of New Pine Creek for the many kindnesses received by herself and family during their recent sorrow.

CORA AGATHA HAMMERSLEY.

Deceased was born near Egypt, Mills county, Iowa, May 5, 1870, and came with her parents to Lake county, Oregon, in July 1870, when she was only two months old, and resided in this county until death, which occurred January 30, 1901, at 10:30 o'clock p. m. She was aged 30 years, 8 months and 25 days. She leaves a sorrowing mother and four brothers—Ivan D. Omer R., Marion L. and Alfred A. Hammersly, to mourn her loss in sorrow and tears.

Deceased was always ready to lend a helping hand to all in distress and was ever a loving daughter and sister, and a friend to all who knew her. Our loss is her gain, for she sleeps in Jesus, and was well prepared to answer God's call. May we meet her in Heaven.

F. UZZLE AND I. S. DEX.
New Pine Creek, Or. Feb. 4, 1901.

SPRING CREEK NOTES

"One of the Gang" Tells of the Delightful Gatherings in the Rural Districts.

EDITOR EXAMINER: I notice communications in your paper from all parts of the county but this community, and I concluded to give you some of the happenings hereabouts.

Miss Ida Stewart has just closed a successful four months' term of school here, and I am pleased to say she has given general satisfaction to the patrons, and leaves with the good wishes of all. This community is not behind others in the line of amusement; we have parties of all kinds to while away the dull monotony of winter evenings—candy pullings, balls, surprises, plays—in fact, all up-to-date gatherings, and anything that happens to suit our fancy. Last Saturday night a party of neighbors concluded to surprise Mr. Meyers. We were marshaled by two young ladies, Miss Leona Boydston and Miss Ida Stewart. On the way we were reinforced by Mrs. J. Hotchkiss and son, Plume, and, as we pounced down on Mr. Meyers' laager, he was taken completely by surprise. However, when he had fully satisfied himself that we were not a detachment of Lord Roberts' army he opened his door and bid us welcome. The evening was passed in games and singing and dancing to the sweet strains of music from the violin of Frank Barnum, who, by the way, is an artist on that instrument. At midnight coffee and lunch were served, and, all having been fully satisfied with the pleasures of the evening, we bade our host and hostess good night and wended our way homeward. ONE OF THE GANG.

To Purchase Heart Ranch.

Willis Scammon was in from Rock Creek last week. Mr. and Mrs. Scammon recently returned from San Francisco, where they were on pleasure bent for a month or so, and they also visited various other points in the Golden State. Mr. Scammon was looking up a location in California but could find none that suited him so well as Lake county. He found many places where it would be more pleasant to dwell in, he says, but no place where, with a small capital, a man can do so well as in this country. His business to Lakeview was to arrange about a valuable purchase in Warner, near Plush. The trade had not been consummated at the time The Examiner representative interviewed Mr. Scammon, but it is likely that he will become the owner of one of the Heart ranches adjoining the big ranch at Plush.
