LAKEVIEW, OREGON, MAR. 7, 1901.

JOHN H. MITCHELL.

John H. Mitchell will again represent the State of Oregon in the United States Senate, after a retirement of four years, and, doubtless, his election will please a large majority of the people of this state. John H. Mitchell has a hold on the hearts of the people of Oregon that is not easily broken, and his spectacular entry into the Legislature during the closing hours of that body and swaying enough members to elect him by his matchless magnetic powers—after a long-drawn-out battle between other giants without a victory—is an evidence that Oregon remembers his valuable services in the past. Our people do not forget the past brilliant achievements of the lamented dead Senator Dolph and the living Mitchell in the United States Senate.

They tell us that the Democrats of Oregon are particularly jubilant over the Mitchell victory, and that the Democratic representation in the Oregon Legislature alone held the power and are responsible for this eminent man's election. We are glad that our Democratic friends feel good over this matter—they certainly acted wisely and for the best interests of the state. But if those Democrats in the Oregon Legislature voted for John H. Mitchell feeling that he was closer to them politically than any other candidate, they are deluded. John H. Mitchell, like other prominent statesmen, such as Thomas H. Tongue and Binger Hermann, is as far away to-day from the Free Silver heresy as is the Republican administration at Washington. The good Democrats in the Oregon Legislature are to be congratulated for assisting in a decisive Republican victory. The new Senator will act in perfect harmony with the Republican administration.

John H. Mitchell was born in Washington county, Pennsylvania, June 22, 1835. His parents soon moved to Butler county, that state, and there he was reared on a farm. He worked and studied hard, and in this way acquired a good classical and legal education. In 1860 he came to the Pacific Coast, and soon thereafter located in Portland. He at once took a prominent part in upholding the Union cause, and was soon elected to the State Senate. For four years he was president of that body. In 1866 he lacked only one vote of the caucus nomination for the United States Senate. Six years later he received the toga at the hands of the Republicans. He was again a candidate in 1882, but was defeated and J. N. Dolph elected. In 1885, at a special election, he was elected to succeed James H. Slater, Democrat. He was again elected in 1891. He was an avowed candidate in 1897, but failed of re-election.

The people of Oregon may well feel pleased with the election of John H. Mitchell to the United States Senate.

CONGRATULATING OREGON.

A dispatch from Washington says that a large number of Senators expressed satisfaction, and many of them surprise, at the result of the Senatorial contest in Oregon. It is evident from the comments made that Senator Mitchell will have a hearty welcome when he reaches Washington, and that his former colleagues will be glad to again count him among their number. In speaking of the result, Senator Simon said:

"Mr. Mitchell will make a valuable Senator. Oregon will be greatly benefited by his return to the Senate. I find he is very popular with the members of the Senate, and has many friends here. He is an earnest and indefatigable worker."

Representative Tongue said: "It is a great matter for congratulation that the Legislature did not adjourn without electing a Senator. Senator Mitchell is an able man and will be an efficient Senator. His experience during eighteen years of previous service in the Senate, and his personal acquaintance with leading public men will give him influence and standing, and he will be valuable to the state and nation."

Commissioner Hermann said: "It is very gratifying that a final selection was made, even if it came at the last hour. The wants of Oregon are such as to require the presence of every one of the delegation. It would have been a great misfortune to the interests of the state had there been a deadlock."

Ex-United States Senator William M. Evarts died in New York February 28th.

L. E. C. Jordan Injured.

R. M. Russell, the Grand Central landlord at Alturas, reports an accident on the Bieber-Redding stage line two weeks ago, the stage having tipped over on Burney Valley mountain. L. E. C. Jordan, the representative of Baker & Hamilton, who was in Lakeview a few weeks ago with Tom A. Smith, was a passenger and had a leg broken in the accident. We trust that friend Jordan is not so badly injured as reported.

Since writing the above we learn from other sources that it is intimated that the accident was due to the carelessness of the driver, who had been drinking. Dr. White of Redding attended Mr. Jordan and reduced the fracture. He was taken to Redding, and from there to his home in Sacramento.

Wells, Fargo Express.

F. O. Bunting, proprietor of the Southern Stage line, has for some time been in communication with the Wells, Fargo Express Company, and recently forwarded to Mr. Brastow of that company a petition from the business men of Lakeview praying for the establishment of an express office here, and having the line extended on from Alturas. It seems that such petition now has the appearance of bearing fruit, as the express company has asked Mr. Bunting for his rates for carrying the express box and other express matter. The Examiner hopes to see Wells, Fargo extend their business to Lakeview.

Annie M. Giddings.

A letter from Santa Rosa, Cal., requests The Examiner to announce the death of Mrs. Annie M. Giddings, formerly Miss Annie Hickman, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hickman, well known residents of Lakeview several years ago. The death occurred on December 4, 1900. Deceased leaves a father, mother, brother and one little boy, seven years of age, to mourn her untimely death. Annie Hickman had many old schoolmates in Lakeview who will remember her and learn of her death with sorrow. She will be remembered as a beautiful girl, who grew into prepossessing womanhood.

Bought Herd of Herefords.

An important stock deal was consummated last Friday in Lakeview, when Henry R. Heryford, raiser of thoroughbred Hereford cattle, sold to Frank O. Bunting all of his registered Hereford cattle, including the famous bull Laudor Alamo. The bunch consisted of 14 cows, 5 heifers and 10 calves, including Alamo, making 30 head in all. The price paid for the bunch was $2,500, and, after the sale had been made, Mr. Heryford concluded to take back one bull calf, for which he paid Mr. Bunting $150. The Bunting herd of Herefords now number 101 head, the largest band of Herefords in the State of Oregon.

Returned From San Francisco.

George M. Hudspeth, of the firm of Hudspeth & Cloud, soda manufacturers of Lakeview, arrived from Cedarville last Sunday morning. Mr. Hudspeth has been in San Francisco for the past four months, familiarizing himself with all the latest methods of the soda business, and while there purchased new machinery and stock. The firm will now be prepared to furnish the public with a superior article of beverage, including all the summer drinks known to the trade. They will start the plant in operation in a few weeks.

The Famous Leora's Colt.

Eldon M. Brattain of the land office has a two year-old colt entered in the racing contests at Oakland. Trainer McAvoy has the youngster in charge, and, while he has shown no remarkable speed up to date, he is recognized as the making of a great race horse. The youngster's name is "E. M. Brattain," named by Mr. McAvoy after the owner, and he is the offspring of the famous Leora, the world's champion 3/4-mile racer, and the celebrated Captive is his sire. Mr. Brattain has an offer of $500 from Trainer McAvoy for the colt.

Mrs. Brummett's Remains Exhumed

Bill Mulkey started yesterday morning for the railroad at Ager with the remains of Mrs. James Brummett, who died at Crooked Creek last summer, and whose remains were interred in the I. O. O. F. cemetery at Lakeview. The work of exhumation was executed early yesterday morning, and Mr. Mulkey started at once for the "railroad." The remains will be taken to Yoncalla, Douglas county, Oregon, for interment at that place, the old home of the deceased woman.

Notice to Taxpayers.

All Town taxes for the year 1900 are now delinquent and must be paid before April 1st, 1901, or forced collection of the same will be made.
9-4t MANLY WHORTON, Marshal.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

There's an old saying "You can't believe anything you hear and only half what you see." This hits modern advertising pretty hard. Many advertisements are either willfully or ignorantly deceptive, and most bargains are not what they seem. The success of this store has been won in a great measure by advertising our goods exactly as they are, and never offering anything for sale that could not be backed up by the reputation of this firm.

...THE PIONEER STORE...

State Line Notes.

Arthur Follett and Ivan Hammersley are in the hills this week cutting wood. If there is any one thing these young men like above another it is to use a cross-cut saw—"I don't think."

A. M. Smith, the "jolly miller," was in Lakeview Monday on business.

A. E. Follett, the villain to paint—started to build his new residence this week. This is only a starter for the building boom that is to strike New Pine Creek the coming summer.

George Hudspeth, the soda man, passed through New Pine Creek Sunday enroute to Lakeview. George's pockets bulged out with soda pop and he was full of gas.

Fred Vulgamore is very low with fever at this writing.

Mrs. L. J. Cannon has the measles and is reported very ill.

Rev. C. W. Raymond preached to a large congregation Sunday at New Pine Creek.

The roads are dry and dusty now in this vicinity.

Mrs. Flora Hammersley has been learning the millinery art this winter, and is in San Francisco selecting a fine stock of millinery. She will start home in a few days. George is now at work building a store in which to place the stock, and expects to have it completed upon her arrival.
MARELL.
New Pine Creek, Or. Mar. 4, 1901.

The cases of Fred Cox et al., appellants, vs. J. E. Bernard et al., respondents, and George M. Jones et al., respondents, vs. George Conn, appellant—two Lake county cases, will come up for hearing in the Oregon Supreme Court next Monday, March 11th.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation, through the courtesy of Dr. A. A. Witham, to attend a grand ball to be given at Paisley on March 22d by the Woodmen of the World, for which we return our sincere thanks. Those who attend will doubtless have a royal time, and it will be an occasion long to be remembered. The Woodmen never do things by halves.

George Reid had no difficulty in furnishing an undertaking in the sum of $20,000 in his application before the County Court to become the administrator of the estate of his late deceased brother, Alex Reid. His application was granted and he has received his appointment of administrator. Eldon M. Brattain is Mr. Reid's attorney, and procured the sureties on the bond in very short order.

Alvin Whitten, an old resident of Modoc county, died at Davis Creek Feb. 25, 1901, aged 75 years and 6 months. Deceased was the father of Mrs. Luke Mulkey Sr., of Davis Creek, and leaves a son S. C. Whitten of Junesville, Lassen county, Cal. His aged wife, a resident of Davis Creek, also survives him. He was a native of Limerick, Maine, and has lived in Modoc county 21 years. Deceased is spoken of as a god-fearing man and honest citizen.
