

LOCAL PICK-UPS.

L. D. Gupton, who returned last week from Red Bluff, reports a gloomy outlook for the Sacramento valley this season. The frost damaged the fruit crop greatly, and the want of rain will make poor grain crops throughout all of California.

The baseball boys have received a complete outfit of balls, bats, gloves, masks, etc., for the season of 1901. A number of the baseball uniforms were destroyed in the fire, and the boys intend giving a dance to raise money to purchase new ones.

What looks neater than a neat fitting shoe on a man's foot? Nothing but a neat fitting shoe on a pretty woman's pretty foot. That's all. Ahlstrom Bros. have just received the largest and finest line ever opened in Lakeview. 17-2

Jim Blaisdell, the Sprague River rancher and stockman, arrived from Bly last Saturday. He was accompanied by Will Nute, a young gentleman who arrived from Peoria, Illinois, on April 23d. Mr. Nute is favorably impressed with Lake county, and will remain here.

W. P. Denio, of Oregon, and Miss Martha Eaton of Eagleville, Modoc county, were married at the Grand Central Hotel, Alturas, on April 23d. The groom is a brother of Denio, who discovered the Denio mines at Bald Mountain in the eastern part of this state.

The firm of Schminck & Son is branching out in business and will have a large stock of general merchandise and gents furnishing goods this spring. Their advance orders are already arriving and are the pick of selected stocks. Call at Schminck's and see their display. 16-2

A bouncing baby boy was born to Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Smith in New York City on April 13, 1901. While the boy is a gay New Yorker, he will be given a hearty welcome to Lakeview, Oregon, as will the happy parents. Dr. and Mrs. Smith started for home last Tuesday.

The Examiner presses are running on time—all the time. This is the office where you can get your cards, letter-heads, notes, circulars, books, and anything else in the printing line in "good lines" and first-class style. Everything printed mechanically—like city work.

Richard Kingsley received a big invoice of his patent riveters, last week, and disposed of them all very rapidly. He was compelled to telegraph for another big lot in order to complete his orders up to date. The new invoice will arrive in about ten days. The Kingsley riveter is a good seller. 17-1

A. V. Beach was allowed by the Health Officer to go to his home on South Dewey street, last Monday evening, after a sojourn up town of ten days. The quarantine is called off, and his little daughter Marie has completely recovered from a slight attack of scarlet fever.

Max A. Whittlesey, special clerk of the U. S. Land Office, arrived here from Portland last Monday. Mr. Whittlesey will arrange the new plats recently received from Washington at the Lakeview land office. These plats are to take the place of the ones destroyed in the late fire.

Read the new announcement of Follett & Amick, the New Pine Creek merchants. New Pine Creek is forging ahead, and this firm is at the head of the procession. They have something interesting to tell the readers of The Examiner in the southern part of the county. Watch for what they say each week.

The Lakeview Brewery is turning out a fine quality of steam beer, as clear as crystal and a most delicious and healthful drink. This brew is undoubtedly the best by far that was ever manufactured north of Sacramento. Fred Bogner, the brewer, cannot be surpassed in his line any place on the Pacific Coast.

Geo. T. Baldwin returned Saturday morning from a business trip to San Francisco. He was gone about two weeks. He says the inquiry about the proposed railroad to Klamath Falls is general all along the road, and that from appearances thousands of people will come here as soon as work begins.—Klamath Express.

Mrs. Fred Bogner, wife of the Lakeview brewer, returned to her home in Alturas yesterday morning, after a pleasant visit of a week with her husband. Mrs. Bogner and family will soon join Fred and make Lakeview their home. She was accompanied to Alturas by "Grandma" Parker, mother of C. B. Parker, the stockman.

W. D. Woodcock & Son, the well-known blacksmiths and wagonmakers are now fully stocked up with hardwoods of every description—buggy, spring wagon and heavy wagon tongues. This firm also has an article not carried in Lake county—buggy and light wagon springs of the best material. When you break a spring have it replaced at Woodcock's. 17-1

County Court is in session this week.

Wm. Harvey, president of the Telephone Company, arrived from Summer Lake Monday evening.

Sam Combs is now said to be recovering rapidly. His sister who has been very ill with fever is also improving daily.

Jas. Barry, the wool grower, was in town this week. Mr. Barry says the sheep come off the desert in fine condition.

Reynolds & Wingfield are putting in a private telephone line from their store, and will have attachments for ten separate lines.

County Commissioner J. M. Martin arrived Tuesday from Silver Lake. Mr. Martin says the crop prospects in his section look good.

The lambing season is on in Lake county, and judging from reports to date there will be a big per cent. of lambs this season.

May-day in Lakeview was accompanied with clouds and a gentle downpour of the "waters of Heaven." There were no picnics held here.

Bids for furnishing poles for the remaining sections of the Telephone route were opened last night at the office of the secretary of the company.

The Examiner learns there are two cases of almost complete destitution in Lakeview. Let the good People see that any suffering of this kind is relieved at once.

F. O. Bunting and wife are in town for a few days from their Drews Valley stock farm. Mr. Bunting says his Hereford cattle are increasing rapidly and are doing well.

Gordon Garrett, the freighter, brought in The Examiner water motor, and not Frank Duke, as heretofore stated. The motor came in good condition, and will be in operation next week.

Messrs. House, Clark, Arzner and Handley returned Tuesday from a fishing trip to Sprague river. They brought in a big supply to be divided among their friends. The Examiner returns thanks for a generous supply.

L. D. Gupton and son, and daughter Miss Essie, returned from Red Bluff last week. They spent the winter at "The Bluffs," and all return much improved in health. Mr. Gupton and son left last Saturday for Steele Swamp, Modoc county, to break some horses for Arthur Jackson. Miss Gupton is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Brattain.

Attention is called to an article on another page, which states that B. F. Cannon is about to engage in the butchering business at New Pine Creek. Mr. Cannon was interviewed by an Examiner representative later, and the gentleman states that he was figuring on engaging in the business, but had concluded not to enter into it at present.

Lemon & Hartzog, the rustling New Pine Creek merchants, are telling the people what is going on in their town. See their announcement in this issue. They are out for business, and offer inducements that should not be overlooked. Just keep your eye on Lemon & Hartzog's space, and you will get the news from New Pine Creek in a nutshell.

The ball advertised for last Friday night, under the auspices of the Cemetery Committee, was not well attended. An elegant supper, sufficient for at least seventy-five couples, was donated by the ladies of Lakeview. It was a grand feast and was enjoyed by those who attended the dance and people about town. After paying expenses the committee cleared a few dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hawkins returned to Lakeview last week after an extended visit at Mr. Hawkins' old home in Toms Brook, Virginia. They had a most enjoyable trip and visited many important places in the South and East. They returned by the Southern route. Mrs. Hawkins thoroughly enjoyed her trip, and returns in excellent health. Their many Lake county friends were rejoiced to see them again.

Red Bluff has a well developed case of smallpox. The patient is a prominent member of the demimonde circle, who contracted the disease while on a trip to the northern part of the state, says the News. The authorities placed a fence about the premises and have a watchman stationed near by to prevent any one from entering or leaving the premises. There are three companions of the sick woman in the house, and they have been vaccinated and are nursing the girl.

S. D. Coulter & Co. have driven to their pens another big band of fine, fat three-year-old steers—the finest to be found in Lake county. This firm pays a good price for fat beef and for that reason is enabled to furnish the patrons of their market with the best. These animals will be stall-fed and prepared for slaughter. In the meantime the public will be sure of fine meats for several months to come, and before this band has all passed to the block another bunch of the same kind will be driven in.

During a fire in an electro chemical works in Griesheim, Germany, April 25th, over 100 persons were killed and 150 badly injured by the explosion of three boilers. A large number of children were hurled by the explosion into the river Main and drowned before they could be rescued.

Chaffee and Waldersee have clashed again. Waldersee wants to guard the Forbidden City after the Americans depart. Chaffee says American soldiers will continue to guard the gate. What the Yankee says, goes.

George Phillips, the young Chicago plunger, has just cleaned up three quarters of a million on his corner in corn. A month ago dozens of agents of millionaires swore to crush him, but instead they rushed back to the pet to buy the mountains of corn they had sold him, and paid 10 cents more on the bushel.

Mrs. J. P. Hall of Likely, sister of Wm. Lemon, the New Pine Creek merchant, has returned to Modoc from Boise, Idaho, accompanied by her father, W. Lemon, who has just recovered from a dangerous illness. Mr. Lemon was formerly a resident of Davis Creek, and is well known in Modoc. He will remain for some time.
