THE MODOCS.

Blame the Klamaths For the War That Brought Their Downfall.

E. A. Burbank, in the Chicago Evening Post writes from Quappaw Agency, Indian Territory, about the last of the Modoc Indians, as follows:

The Modocs who took part in the Modoc war in the lava beds of Southern Oregon were sent here as prisoners immediately after the Modoc war, and fifty of them are still living, including men, women and children. There are only twelve men, and all took part in the war. Captain Jack, their chief, and three other Indians were hanged. Captain Jack's sister, who is called Princess Mary, lives here. Her chin is tattooed with straight lines running from her mouth to below her chin, as a sign of mourning for her brother.

Two of the Modoc chiefs sat for portraits for me. It is interesting to hear them relate their experiences during the war. Chief Yellow Hammer, who is sitting for me now in Modoc costume, says the Klamath Indians were the cause of the trouble. He declares they deceived the Modocs and the whites. The Klamath Indians would kill cattle belonging to the whites and then would tell the whites the Modocs did it. Chief Lalow-sheus, or Miller Charlie, as he is called by the whites, asserts that the cause of the Modoc war was that the Modocs were starving, that the agent did not furnish them food due them and that their chief, Capt. Jack, notified the agent that if it was not sent at a certain time they would be compelled to leave the reservation and fish and hunt to obtain food, which they finally did, and it resulted in war.

I asked Chief Yellow Hammer if they had good weapons. He replied: "Yes; as good as the soldiers," and that Capt. Jack had plenty of money made from selling skins, etc., and had furnished them with all the ammunition they needed. He says that before the fight Capt. Jack called all his Indians together and explained to them how matters stood, and then told them that all who wished to fight for the Modocs should come over on his side. Chief Yellow Hammer says that about 300, including men and squaws, went to Capt. Jack's side. The Modocs here are quite industrious—more so than any of the other tribes living on this reservation. Each man has forty acres of land. The older people receive rations once a month.

THE SCHOOL HOUSE VACANT.

The school house is vacant now that school has closed. The hum of recitation is silent for the present. Glorious "vacation," that allows a romp over the hills, a picnic in the dells, and gives health and vigor for the next season's study.

"The children are romping on the hills looking for the gold.

That is scattered all the way from school, in stars and bells adown the dells;

The children gathering aprons full, where the little dandelion dwells."

"And yellow cowslips to their feet

Come like a king his board to bring;

And Columbine, with nod so sweet,

Shakes gold upon their path,—gay thing."

"Their homes are sweet upon the hills,

Where love is sure and life is pure

And sunshine every season fills;

"How can a country child be poor?"

"No robber frights their midnight hours,

No rapiers cold their treasures hold;

dewdrops and sunbeams, stars and flowers—

Gold! Gold! Who shares their children's gold?"

N-C-O Ry. Notes.

The Reno Gazette has the following notes on the N-C-O railroad:

Two carloads of machinery for the N-C-O shops left the Niles Tool Works at Hamilton, Ohio, on the 10th inst.

The Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, Bessemer, Colorado, have been awarded the contract for steel rails for the extension north. F. A. Jordan of Millford, California, will furnish the ties.

Everything about the general office of the company as well as in the yards at Reno show activity and bustle. The company will shortly have things a humming all along the line from Reno to Van Loan's and from Plumas Junction to Mohawk.

The road is doing the best business now in its history and will soon be in a position to handle all the traffic between Reno and Lakeview. The new trains are expected to arrive in a few days.

"Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. I quickly secured a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure, giving her three doses. The croup was mastered and our little darling speedily recovered." So writes A. L. Spafford, Chester, Mich. Lakeview Drug Co.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has ever been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by Lee Beall, Druggist

Must Make Settlement.

I desire to inform those indebted to the old firm of Beall & Willey that their accounts are long since due and payable, and that an early settlement is earnestly desired that the business of the old firm may be settled forthwith. Those who know themselves to be indebted to the firm are notified that their accounts must be settled within thirty days from date or collections will be forced, as I must have my business in Lakeview straightened out at once. All bills should be paid to my former partner, Lee Beall. Respectfully,
 J. M. WILLEY,
 Lakeview, Or., April 25, 1901. 16-4

If people only know what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach or water-brash, caused by indigestion or dyspepsia. A preparation, such as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which, with no aid from the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good. Lakeview Drug Co.
