EVANGELIST EXCORIATES

The Pulpit Orator Turns His Attention to the Church People and Tells Them a Few Sound Facts.

Evangelist Miller says he would rejoice to save even editors, baseball players and saloon keeper, and pleads with these sinners to come forward and get salvation. This is carrying out the doctrine of the Good Book. "While the lamp holds out to burn, the vilest sinner may return." Incidentally, last Thursday evening, the good man rapped the knuckles of the church people with a thorny stick. He delivered a spirited and pointed address in which he scored the religious people who habitually attended church, but who persistently refused to get nearer to God. He pleaded strongly with those who were "almost there," but refused to come in at the open door before it was closed on them forever. Truly, has Evangelist Miller stirred up things in a religious sense during his few weeks' stay in Lakeview, as they have never been stirred before. Possibly the words of the gospel have been put more forcibly and logically, and the demonstrations of the text more pointed and plainly by Mr. Miller than by any here before him.

Last Sunday evening the audience at the Methodist church was delighted with the sweet singing furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Miller. "Light in the Valley" is beautiful and in that Mrs. Miller shows a sweetly cultivated soprano. The church was crowded to standing room.

Go to the Cottage Hotel for a good meal during Fourth of July week. The Cottage is the only 25 cent house in Lakeview and gives you plenty.

Misses Emma and Lollye Grohs have returned to their summer home in Langell valley, Klamath county, from Auburn, Cal., where they passed the winter.

Wm. McKay, the Reno sheepman well known in Lakeview, has picked up a big bunch of sheep in Crook and Grant counties, and has started them toward Nevada.

Lakeview Camp, No. 526, Woodmen of the World, will install officers on Wednesday evening, July 10th. After installation ceremonies a banquet will be held.

County Clerk Gunther issued a license on June 27th, authorizing the marriage of Lawrence Gallagher and Miss Ora Vulgamore. Both are residents of New Pine Creek.

Dr. and Mrs. Dewey arrived from Cedarville Tuesday to take in the Fourth here. They were accompanied by Mrs. W. S. Morley, who will visit friends for a short time.

J. E. Reynolds has bought in Wheeler County 400 head of cattle, which will be delivered at Fossil and driven to Arlington. The prices were $18 for steers and $17 for heifers.

The Chico (Cal.) papers say there is a great scarcity of broken mules in Butte county this year, and the mule is very much in demand for harvesting work this summer.

C. P. Ferrel of Reno arrived Monday with the good race mare "Wing." It is said there is good mettle in Wing, but the long trip, her owner says, has not been to her advantage.

George Harrow says he feels as well as could be expected under the circumstances, and that people need not think he got the big head over "Veve Sinfax's" splendid performance.

Revenue stamps are not attached to bank checks, deeds, mortgages, certificates, telegraph messages, postoffice money orders, etc. The new order went into effect last Monday.

The baseball boys get out every evening now and try to knock the cover off the ball, and have decided to go up to Lakeview on the 4th and pull down that $200.—Cedarville Record.

Mrs. Lou Green and Miss Ella Callahan, the teacher were down from Clover Flat Station last Saturday. It was Mrs. Green's first visit to New Lakeview and she scarcely knew the town.

A Vale correspondent says that haying began this week on a few ranches near Vale. Considerable difficulty is felt in getting hands. The wages paid this year will be $2 a day and board.

Indian society of Bidwell, Warner, Modoc and other places is strictly in evidence here this week. The great "unwashed" tribe is a great admirer of the white man's National holiday.

When you come back from the track tired, hot and dusty go to Frank Smith's next door to the Bank, and get a refreshing hot or cold bath and a good shave. There is nothing so invigorating.
