John C. Leasure, a well-known attorney of Portland, Or., took his life July 9th in a lodging-house at 27 Grant avenue, San Francisco by swallowing the contents of a vial of carbolic acid. Despondency because of business reverses and inability to secure employment was the cause. In the room were two letters, one addressed to the Coroner, and one to Leasure's wife.
Dave Edler, one of Lake county's largest sheep owners sold his 1900 and 1901 wool clips to Mr. Cotter Friday, and received a large sized check in return. Last years clips amounted to 68,000 pounds and he received 10 cents for it. This years clips was not quite so large but the price was better. 56,000 pounds he received 10 1/2 cents per pound. This is a handsome sum to be received by one man and places Mr Edler on the sunny side of easy street.

J. L. Morrow in Idaho.
IDAHO CITY, IDAHO, July 16, 1901.
EDITOR EXAMINER: According to promise I will write you a few lines and give you some account of my ramblings for the last two months. I have traveled some where about 1000 miles in my rambles, hunting, fishing and prospecting. I have found some very nice specimens of quartz and will have them assayed when I get back to Boise City. I have found some gold in places but not in paying quantities. I shall go from here to Banor and on to Bar valley, and from there to Bitter Root country, where I have heard is a fair field for prospecting, hunting and fishing and plenty of bear. I will probably return to my home in Warner in September. Please send me a copy of your valuable paper as I have not had a paper from home since I left. Give me any Warner land news that you have since I left, as I am a long way from the Warner battle field, and "slightly disfigured but still in the ring." We have had a pleasant time, with some hardships mixed in, but we are all in splendid health and "need no fixin." Resp. yours,
J. L. Morrow.

Work for Inspectors.
The Burns (Harney County) News says: "Stock Inspector Ellsworth Brown reports that while making semi-annual inspection of sheep in the Southern part of the county he found 21,000 head affected with scab. Steps were taken to procure their thorough dipping as speedily as possible, all of them to be dipped twice and part of them three times."
It would be well for the Stock Inspector of Lake county to keep an eye on the great bands of migrating sheep coming from the north. McCullough, the sheep buyer of Reno says there are one hundred thousand head of sheep on their way through Lake county from northern districts, and no doubt some of these will come from Harney. Scab has been pretty well stamped out in Lake county, and if these sheep coming from other counties are affected they will surely leave the disease along the route at the night camping places. Our local sheepmen, as well as Inspector, should be on the alert.

"Doing" the County.
Our attention has been called to the fact that some peddlers from a Sacramento house have been "doing" Lake county to the tune of several thousand dollars. They take orders for cheap merchandise at a cheap price, and have thereby greatly injured the local merchants trade. We understand that these people pay no license and do business right under the noses of business men who pay taxes to keep the county going. This is a downright outrage and the matter should be investigated; and if the report be proven correct the law should be enforced. These people care nothing about this country but for the money they can take out, and it is not a fair deal for those who live and do business here.

To Irrigate Guano Valley.
Last Saturday a crew of ten men with teams and scrapers left here for W. T. Cressler's ranch in Guano valley, Nevada where they will at once be put to work digging ditches and building a reservoir, says the Cedarville Record. Mr. Cressler has a large amount of land there and proposes to improve it to the utmost. The reservoir to be built will hold a large volume of water which will irrigate hundreds of acres and cause them to produce large quantities of hay. This is about the first move made to store and utilize the waters and that the results will be satisfactory there is no doubt. He expects to have the work completed by the last of September.

Indian Marauders.
From reliable reports emanating from residents of Stein Mountain, the Pine Indians make it a practice to steal over the line and slaughter game and then skip into Nevada. We learn especial efforts will be made to teach them a salutary lesson. This week Deputy Game Warden Moore will leave for the Stein mountain country and will surely use every effort to stop these marauders, who will not stop short of jail. A few lessons have long been needed in that section for the Red men.—Vale Democrat.

Oil in Modoc.
New Era.
T. W. Foster, the oil expert who went to San Francisco a few weeks after machinery for boring oil wells, returned this week, on his way to Cedarville. He says that oil has dropped to such a low price on account of the surplus produced in Kern County, that he thinks it will not be profitable to begin boring in Surprise Valley at present. In the future when the price raises, he may begin operations, for he feels satisfied that the oil is there in abundance.
