

TERRIBLE HEAT Lakeview Horses Fall Down in California.

The Red Bluff News tells of the terrible effect of the California heat, last week, on Lake county horses. That paper says: Horses seemed to experience Saturday's heat in an inordinate degree. There were reports of several which fell from prostration although no fatalities occurred as far as could be learned. Horses and mules alike seemed to be affected, blowing and puffing as though they had been overdriven, with no signs of perspiration upon their coats. Drivers were careful and but a few miles an hour were traveled. Two teamsters from Lakeview, Oregon, started on their home trip Saturday morning with three wagons each, the wagons being loaded with about twelve tons in all, of merchandise from the boat warehouse. One of the teams, owned by Lem Winkelman, had proceeded as far as the nine mile grade where his wheelers gave out and he was compelled to give them attention. The other team, owned by L. L. Wallace, got only as far as the Four-mile House when three of his horses were in such a condition that he had to stop, and one of them, a fine black mare, was reported to be in a critical condition.

Baseball at Cedarville.

In order to keep faith with the Cedarville baseball team as well as the people of that town Lakeview sends over to Surprise Valley this week a mixed team to contest for the purse of $150 hung up by Cedarville. Only four of the original team defeated by Cedarville on the Lakeview diamond during the Fourth of July week could be mustered. They are Gunther, Smith, Whorton and Snider. Ernest Brown, who has not appeared on the diamond for a good many years was induced to go to play at first. Easter and Smith of New Pine Creek were expected to be picked up at the state line, and Warner and Wood of Alturas were engaged to go from there to assist Lakeview. With this mixed team Lakeview scarcely expects to put up a winning game. However, the management as well as the members of the team and the business men of Lakeview concluded it was only fair to give Cedarville a game, win or lose, as the Surprise Valley boys assisted in making the Lakeview tournament a success.

The Examiner will not be able to report the result of the game this week. The Lakeview team expects to play Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, to decide the game in the best two out of three.

Local Teachers' Institute.

The Teachers' Institute for Lake county will convene in Lakeview September 30th to October 2d, inclusive. It is expected that there will be a large gathering of teachers here upon that occasion, as the late school laws governing institutes are very explicit, and provide for a heavy penalty for non-attendance at such conventions. State Superintendent Ackerman and E. L. Campbell, president of the state Normal school at Monmouth will be present. President Campbell will conduct the institute. County Superintendent Willits will go to Burns to meet Supt. Ackerman and while there will assist in the Harney county institute. At the close of that convention, the two educators will come to Lakeview to attend the local institute. President Campbell will come via Ashland and Klamath Falls. Upon the close of the institute here Superintendent Willits will accompany the distinguished visitors to the railroad, taking an outing at Crater Lake on the way.

Real Estate Sales.

Last Friday W. P. Huff sold his ranch at the mouth of Warner canyon to Chas. Loveless for $3000. Mr. Huff expects to remain here and again engage in the butchering business this winter, provided he does not in the meantime find a purchaser for his meat market tools.

On Monday last Chas. Loveless sold his ranch in Crooked Creek to W. L. Robinson for $1800. Mr. Loveless expects to take charge of the place he purchased from W. P. Huff.

Last Tuesday H. A. King sold his residence and lots at the north end of town to B. Gruman for $1050. Mr. King will remove with his family to Idaho within a few days.

Selby Robber Confessed.

News of the arrest of the robber who got away with $280,000 from the Selby smelting works at Vallejo Junction, was posted on The Examiner bulletin board at the postoffice last Monday morning. John Winters confessed the crime and says he did the job alone. He threw the gold bars in the bay and showed the officers the spot where they sank. Most of the gold has been recovered.

LOCAL PICK-UPS.

Jacob Combs of Ft. Bidwell was a visitor in Lakeview last Saturday.

Silas Obenchain of Lorella, was a visitor in Lakeview this week.

Miss Winnie Fleming of New Pine Creek is up to attend the teachers' examination.

C. Swanson, the Sacramento butcher, is up to look at Lake county stock for his city market.

Campers report the fishing in Little Chewaucan not up to the standard. A cloud burst visited that section last week and raised and muddied the water.

Frank Houston arrived from Warner Tuesday, to remain a few days on business. Mr. Houston has rented a ranch adjoining his own in South Warner, and will begin ranching on an extensive plan.

Mrs. Sally Linebarger, relict of the late S. Linebarger, has been granted a pension of $8 per month from the government. Mr. Linebarger who died here three and a half years ago, was a veteran of the Civil war.

Fred Jackson, who lost a leg in a duel with Evans and Sontag the California train robbers some years ago is now at Lookout looking up evidence that may lead to the arrest of the Modoc lynchers, and eventually to the reward.

J. D. Guerraz, who holds property interests in Lakeview, and who has been here visiting for a month, left for Klamath Falls Tuesday to remain a week, after which he will go to Marysville for a few months, thence to his home in San Jose. Mr. Guerraz will return here in the spring to improve his property. Mrs. Guerraz and daughter accompanied Mr. Guerraz.

The Crater Lake outing party started early Monday morning and expect to be absent three or four weeks. The party went prepared for an extended and comfortable campaign. Ike Davies, who was to have accompanied the crowd, got left at the last moment, owing to a rush of business, and brushed away a tear of regret just as the cavalcade crossed the slash. Ike generously furnished a rig and a camp outfit to the party.

Fred Moore and his wife Pearl Ether Moore, assisted by local talent, presented the pretty drama "The Black Flag" at Klamath Falls last Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Moore had the leading roles in the late Rudewin company, and have many admirers in Lakeview. The Examiner joins with many others in the wish that these talented people would return to Lakeview to open a school of elocution and present some plays during the winter months.

E. V. Cofer arrived from Alturas last Tuesday. Mr. Cofer is the agent for the Reno Marble Works and is filling some orders for monuments in Lakeview. On his way here he stopped at New Pine Creek and placed a monument over the grave of Ben Warner, which is said to be the finest piece of work in the county. Mr. Cofer is at work today placing monuments at the burial plats of A. L. Howell, Mrs. Will Morley and H. R. Heryford in the Lakeview cemetery.

Mrs. Newbill, mother of T. J. Newbill the bright young educator who taught in Lakeview last winter, died at Ballston, Oregon, on Aug. 5th. Mr. Newbill was called to his mother's bedside by telegraph on the 5th of July, and remained there constantly until the final summons came. Mr. Newbill's numerous friends in Lake county will extend their sympathy in his great loss. He will return to Lake county to accept the principalship of the Paisley school this winter.

According to scripture, the rain is supposed to descend alike on the just and unjust, but the storm last Sunday seemed to furnish more rain outside of Yreka than inside. Probably Jupiter Pluvius distributed it in his judgment where it was most needed.—Yreka Journal. And it is more probable that Pluvius was aware that the "inside of Yreka" was full of steam beer, and knew just what he was doing when he overlooked you like a white check. Jupiter did the same trick over here.

N. A. King, accompanied by his three sons, Edward, Ivan and Roy, his brother Ed's son and his brother-in-law Mr. Jeffrey's son, came down from Mr. King's Chewaucan ranch last Thursday, where they have been on a visit, from Portland, for two weeks. Mr. King and his boys are very much attached to Lake county, and may come back here to live if satisfactory arrangements can be made. Mr. King is one of those kind of people that thinks a railroad would be a great benefit to the county, and is under the impression that it will not be many years before the whistle of the locomotive will be heard in Lake county.

Want More Men.

The Chewaucan Land & Cattle Company (ZX ranch) near Paisley want all the men and teams to be had to work on the big ditch and in the hay fields. There is no necessity for a man to remain idle in Lake county.

Check For $5,000.

Chas. Umbach received for Silas J. Studley, last Saturday, a check for $5,000 from the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York. The money was the premium paid by the insurance company on the life of the late Harry Studley.

Fire in South Warner.

On August 5th, about the noon hour, a large hay stack measuring numerous tons, belonging to the Warner Valley Stock Company, caught fire in South Warner and burned to the ground. A wagon belonging to S. Dixon, standing near the stack, was also destroyed. It is believed that matches had been accidentally dropped near the hay by some workmen during the progress of stacking, and the rays of the sun set them off.

The New Era's Brand Book.

The Brand Directory compiled and printed by Noss & Lighty of the New Era is now ready for delivery. A copy of the directory was received at this office last week, and The Examiner desires to compliment the New Era for its splendid work. The directory is not quite complete, but nevertheless it is a reference book that all stockmen should have.

Teachers' Examination.

The Examination of applicants for state and county certificates begin in Lakeview Wednesday morning, and will close next Saturday. The following applicants are before the board for certificates to teach school:

For State certificate, Miss Kittridge, Silver Lake.

For County certificates, Miss Winnie Fleming, New Pine Creek; Miss Delmas, Cedarville; Miss Stewart, Drews Valley; Miss Flack, Lakeview.

Colonel Sargent.

Colonel Sargent, who was a few years ago stationed at Ft. Bidwell, under the title of Lieutenant Sargent, with his wife, formerly Miss Applegate, are visiting relatives and friends in Medford. Colonel Sargent was a very popular officer, and a brilliant man. He has climbed up the ladder of fame quite rapidly. Many people of Lake and Modoc will remember Col. Sargent. Recently he has acted as Judge-Advocate of Manila. As Lieutenant-Colonel of the Twenty-Ninth Volunteer Infantry, he was in command of the attacking forces at San Mateo when the lamented General Lawton was killed. Sargent was commended for his skillful management of the troops by General Lawton, just before the General's death. He is the author, also, of two popular books on the campaigns of Napoleon Bonaparte. The Colonel and Mrs. Sargent are now en route to Cuba where he will resume his old place as captain of cavalry in the regular army.
