

LOCAL PICK-UPS.

Chas. Umbach is agent and attorney for the American Surety Co. of New York. It is for those who are required to give bonds in positions of trust.

The Misses Ettie and Nettie Vinyard of New Pine Creek, who have been engaged to teach the Lake City school this winter, have just returned from a several weeks visit to Southern California.

The meeting for the purpose of organizing a livestock association at Bonanza by the stockmen of Klamath county, has been postponed till some time in October. Louis Gerber is the prime mover in the enterprise.

During the storm Sunday lightning struck very close to town, and the electric light wires became very heavily charged. When the flash came, lights were illuminated for a second, and many people were startled, it came so suddenly.

A car of Oregon Bartlett pears in prime condition sold in New York, September 4th, at an average of $2.65 per box. At the same time 'Fancy, clear New York Bartlett' were quoted at $3.50 and $4 per barrel, equivalent to about $1 per box.

Nearly half a century ago a Shasta county lady lost track of her brother and sister. They completely disappeared. After all these years, during which the lady has never relaxed her efforts, she is rewarded by finding both brother and sister alive and well.

Sheriff Dunlap returned from Ft. Klamath Tuesday evening, where he went to make arrangements to have his cattle fed for the winter. Horace said he saw some 3 and 4 year old steers that sold for $50 per head while there. He says cattle are in good fix over there.

Mrs. Etta Dodson with her daughter Drewsey, and sister Miss Pearl Fry passed through Lakeview on their way home at Burns, Tuesday. Mrs. Dodson and daughter went to Reno to have the young lady's eyes treated, and Miss Fry returned with them from Janesville, Cal.

There are two parties in Jackson county who are making good wages in catching turtles and fattening them for San Francisco markets. John J. Brown has caught from Bear creek 200 during the past few weeks and is still gathering them in at the rate of two dozen a day. They are worth $2 dozen on board the cars.

The O'Malley Sisters gave a creditable show Saturday night to a good house. While the program was nearly identical with that given here a year ago, the girls, like wine, improve with age, and their performance takes with the general show going public, probably better than most of the shows that visit Lakeview.

In consequence of Thursday, Sept. 19, being observed in Yreka, as well as elsewhere, as a memorial holiday for the funeral of our late President, this office will be closed on that day, and as all hands will participate in the ceremonies no Journal will be issued again until next Tuesday, the 24th inst. says the Yreka Journal.

J. E. Bernard sold his residence property, a block northwest of the school house, Saturday, to H. L. Chandler of Crooked Creek for $1,200. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard are preparing to spend the winter in California, and in the spring Mr. Bernard will probably build on the lot north of the Masonic hall. And Mr. Chandler is preparing to move to town and—well, it is understood that the preliminaries have all been settled.

John Chastain came in from Bonanza yesterday, says the Express, and reported the burning of Dan Driecoll's barn, 30 tons of hay and his crop of grain, together with Dick Hamakar's threshing and derrick wagon. The machine was run by horse power and the fire started from one of the tumbling rod knuckles that connect on the machine by getting too hot. Dick was oiling the machine when he discovered the fire but nothing could be done to save the property. All that was saved as near as learned was the horse-power and a few sacks of grain.

Geo. H. Ayres received a telegram Saturday night at 10 p. m., conveying the sad news of his sister's sudden death at Airy, North Carolina. She was the wife of Capt. E. E. Gogle, Chief of Ordnance of Cuba and stationed at Havana. Mr. Gogle had not been home for three years and was preparing to return, while his wife was packing up preparatory to moving to the New England states among relatives, where they expected to reside permanently. Mrs. Gogle died of apoplexy caused presumably from over work, the worry of moving and anxiety to see her husband. She leaves a son and daughter, twins, 19 years of age. She was 42 years of age.

The Lakeview-Silver Lake telephone line has been progressing rapidly toward the north until the storm stopped proceedings. The line was completed Saturday as far as the school house in Crooked Creek valley and it was going along at the rate of about two miles per day. From 12 to 15 men are employed. The kitchen on wheels has proved quite a convenience, and now much time is saved in going to and from meals.

J. L. Carter, cashier of the Cedarville bank while attending the Alturas fair last week lost a purse containing $25 in money and a $2500 check. He evidently came prepared to back the Cedarville ball team and the only taker he found was the party who found it. He would have lost it just the same, however with no chance of recovering it, but now he has a fighting chance of regaining his treasure if an honest man found it.

C. M. Sain passed through Lakeview from Paisley on his way to San Francisco Tuesday. Mr. Sain is president of the Oregon Potash Co., which has recently been incorporated under the laws of Nevada. This company has located 676 claims bordering on Summer and Abert lakes in this county, amounting to 107,000 acres of what is claimed to be a good quality of potash. If the quality is good the quantity is certainly sufficient from the number of acres of it.

Second Ass't. P. M. General Shallenberger, has issued notices inviting proposals for carrying the mails on all star routes in Oregon during the contract term beginning July 1, 1902. It is issued under the regulation limiting the bidding to those persons who will agree, in event of the service being awarded them, to give the service their personal supervision, and to reside on or contiguous to the route. The time for submitting bids will expire on Dec. 3d next.

A ladies gold watch was lost on the streets last Monday. A reward will be paid for its return to Eldon Woodcock.

Ernest Cox, aged 18 years, who was working at Wm. Richards' saw mill on Anderson Creek, seven miles from Ashland, was killed Tuesday, being struck by a falling tree, says Town Talk. The mill hands had been felling timber and cautioned Cox, who was driving a team, to get farther out of the way. He did not heed the warning and was caught by a tree, which struck him on the top of the head and crushed his skull, causing instant death. His parents reside at Woodville and the body was taken there for burial.

School supplies such as tablets, pencils, pens, rulers, sponges and everything needed can be found in endless variety at Beall's drug store. 37-2

D. R. Jones has sold 100 tons of salt this year and could have disposed of as much more if he had had it. Three years ago he gathered nearly 600 tons from his salt marsh in Warner, and since then none has been gathered on account of the dry seasons. All this has been disposed of at a good price. Next year Mr. Jones will put up a windmill out there and make some vats to catch the salt, and thus the salt produced will be clean and free from dirt. The stockmen use this salt and the demand exceeds the supply.

The Ashland Town Talk says the First Southern Oregon Fair at that place was a farce. The entertainment, exhibits and attendance being far from what Ashland alone can produce. The band contest and ball games were eliminated from the program on account of a scarcity of funds. The lack of interest in the fair is ascribed to numerous reasons, the race feature being eliminated, the chief. Then, the people are weary of devoting time and money to what they see every day at home. The sporting element claims a "dry" town responsible in a great degree.

The announcement of a double wedding is made to take place at the residence of H. R. Heryford north of Lakeview, on Wednesday, Oct. 2nd. Our popular proprietors of the Monogram will take unto themselves two popular young ladies of Lakeview. Mr. Elmer C. Ahlstrom will wed Miss May Chandler, daughter of S. B. Chandler, and Mr. Fred O. Ahlstrom will wed Miss Nell Heryford, daughter of H. R. Heryford. The ceremony will take place in the presence of only members of the families of the contracting parties. They will at once take up their abode in the new cottage now being completed, on Bullard Street.

Mrs. Sanford Cannon.

Mrs. Sanford Cannon died at Willow Ranch Wednesday, September 18th, 1901, and was buried the following day. There was very little ceremony at the funeral, on account of the other members of the family being sick. Services will be preached in the near future. Mrs. Cannon was about 60 years old and was sick for some time with that dreaded disease typhoid fever.

New Brands of Cigars.

Sharpe, the cigar maker has received a new supply of tobacco and boxes and is now manufacturing several new brands of cigars. The fancy labels on the boxes indicate the varieties, and the one most prominent has the name "Judge H. L. Benson" beautifully printed on it. The Judge's friends here are looking forward to an evening smoker when the Judge arrives to attend court next month. This brand is doomed to be a very popular cigar. Some of the other brands Mr. Sharpe is making are "The Whorton & Smith," made for the popular proprietors of "The Palace" saloon, and "The Lakeview," made for Lee Beall, the druggist, and also "The Leader" is another new one. Mr. Sharpe's cigars are such good sellers that he cannot supply the demand by half.

Will Visit Oregon.

A dispatch to the Oregonian says: Commissioner Hermann arrived in Washington today and called on President Roosevelt. In the course of his conversation, the President told the Commissioner he intended to visit Oregon and Washington next Spring, in order to become better acquainted with the people of that section. Roosevelt desired to visit the Pacific Northwest during the last campaign, but his services as a speaker were desired elsewhere.

Commissioner Hermann attended the McKinley memorial services at Chicago the day of the funeral.
