Ft. Klamath Cattle Disease.
(Ashland Record.)

Dr. Wm. McLean, state veterinary surgeon, came in Sunday from Ft. Klamath where he inspected the disease among the stock cattle which has been afflicting them since last fall. He reports it to be symptomatic anthrax, a blood poisoning disease similar to blackleg. He has sent pathological specimens for examination to Prof. Perrot at the state agricultural college, Corvallis. He says the disease is not contagious from animal to animal but the bacilli is propagated largely by buzzards, varmints, etc., operating on the corpse carrying the disease into the water drunk by the stock. He thinks the inoculation of the stock with the blackleg preventative serum will immunize them from the disease.

Doing the Disagreeable.

Naturalists say that, when examined minutely with a microscope, it will be found that no creature or object in nature is positively ugly, that there is a certain harmony or symmetry of parts that renders the whole agreeable rather than the reverse. So the most disagreeable tasks in life, when viewed in their proper proportions, reveal a poetic, an attractive side, hitherto undreamed of. Turn on the sunlight of good cheer, the determination to see the bright as well as the dark side, and you will find something pleasant even in the most dreaded task.

Steel Building for Mexico.

A steel frame business house, belonging to a United States corporation, was recently dedicated in the City of Mexico. This is the first building with a steel frame manufactured in the United States to be erected there. The structure is three stories in height and was completely built in a little more than 12 months. About 1,000 tons of structural steel were employed in its construction. The outside finish is white stone from Real del Monte. President Diaz presided at the formal inauguration of the building.

A Powerful Insecticide.

Customer—That was a splendid insect powder you sold me the other day, Mr. Oilman.

Mr. Oilman (with justifiable pride)—Yes; I think it pretty good—the best in the trade.

Customer—I'll take another couple of pounds of it, please.

Mr. Oilman—Two pounds!

Customer—Yes, please. I gave the quarter of a pound that I bought before to a black beetle, and it made him so ill that I think if I keep up the treatment for about a week I may manage to kill him.—Tit-Bits.
