LAKEVIEW, OREGON, O. T. 31, 1901.

Some bright person has suggested the changing of the name of the Philippine Islands to the McKinley Islands. We note that one Oregon paper states that the press of the country is unanimous in favor of the change. Allow The Examiner to enter a protest here. After the battle of Manila, these same people who are clamoring for a change in name, or some others like them, desired to call them the Dewey Islands. It may not have occurred to the advocates of the latest proposed change that the people down there who call themselves Filipinos may dislike to have that name taken away from them, and that there would be a strong reason of policy, if none other, for declining to make such a change as this. The desire to honor President McKinley in connection with the Islands, however, is entirely praiseworthy, but some better means than that suggested should be chosen. Let us honor the great President not by taking away from the people of the Islands something they already have, but by giving them something that would be to their advantage. For example, suppose there should be established a great university in Manila, to be known as the McKinley University, in which all of the brightest young men and women of the Islands could secure an education free of cost. Could the dead President rise up in his tomb we believe he would say, "that is what I would like to see." If the McKinley University should be endowed with $10,000,000 by vote of congress, the people of this country would say, "well done," but not so if an attempt should be made to filch from the Islanders the name that they have borne for some hundreds of years.

Senator Morgan has had a talk with President Roosevelt about the prospects of the Nicaragua canal bill, at the coming session of Congress. The President told Morgan that he would submit the Senate a new treaty on the subject which more nearly met his views than the first Hay-Pauncoff treaty, but did not go into particulars. Speaking of the President's policy in regard to Southern appointments, Senator Morgan said: "It is a policy of reconciliation, a policy of the best man in the office."

General W. H. Odell of Salem, representing the state of Oregon, and C. J. Taylor of Elkhart, Ill., representing the United States, have been in Klamath county to examine and certify on certain swamp lands. They have the same duties to perform in Lake county. -Klamath Republican.

Walter N. Dimonick, the San Francisco mint looter, has been sentenced to two years in San Quentin prison on the first count. There are two other charges against him which are to be tried before he dons the stripes. This is the ending of a bright young man who went the pace.

From the way the Demo-pop press of the country is republishing "wise sayings" from the Commoner, it is evident that Mr. Bryan is being "boomed" for the Presidency in '04. The irrepressible colonel doubtless believes that the "third time is the charm."

Jack Radley of unsavory reputation shot and killed George Matthews at De Lamar near Redding, Cal., during the progress of a masquerade ball. Matthews had warned his wife not to dance with Radley, and the latter became offended.

Herr Maurer, editor of the Neuesta Leben, an anarchist sheet published in Berlin, has been sentenced to four months imprisonment owing to the publication of an article approving of the assassination of President McKinley.

Governor Geer of Oregon has gone to Ohio to stump that state for the Republican party. The campaign was opened in the Buckeye state on the 19th inst. by Nash, Foraker and Hanna.

Honors are being heaped upon us. Oregon is again a gold medal winner at the Buffalo fair for the best canned butter in the world.

The Ohio democrats are not even putting up a respectable bluff in the way of a campaign this year.

The telegraph brings news that Czolgosz takes his meals regularly. He will not do so long.

FAIR WIDOW NEEDS HUBBY

Refined, Aged 32, Fair of Face With Rosy Cheeks and Sweet Red Lips, She Yearns.

The following letter has been received by the Postmaster at Baker City, this state, and made public by him in the hope that the energetic young widow may find a good husband:

"To all it may concern: A refined widow, aged 32 years, with three boys, 9, 7, and 5 years, wishes to form the acquaintance of some kind-hearted and honorable gentleman who is desirous of obtaining a genial companion and who can sing and play and do general house work. Fair complexion with dark brown hair, eyes and eye-brows, with rosy cheeks and lips, considered nice looking. Before marriage, was leading soprano in the Baptist church at Port Arthur, Ontario. My reason for advertising is that I am desirous of making my home in the west. I am not wealthy and am not expecting riches. My husband was a dentist, but was addicted to drink and left us in poor circumstances, so that our financial condition does not count very high. Now I think I have given you a fairly good description of myself and for further particulars, address Mrs. Jennie Ashbury, Carlisle, Wentworth county, Ontario, Canada."

We do not believe there is anything in Baker City that will suit Mrs. Ashbury, after looking the field over. If she will just send her photo to The Examiner we believe she will be able to find her ideal of a husband, if she has an ideal, here in Lakeview. We have several good fellows here whom ought to be married.

A Typical South African Store.

O. R. Larson, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied with Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by Lee Beall, Daugstist.

To Solve a Mystery, if Possible.

Ever since the days of early settlement in this section travelers in the vicinity of Abert lake have seen not far from the shore portions of a wagon projecting from the waters of that lake. Various opinions have ever been rife as to how that wagon got in the lake, one of them being that at some time in the distant past a venturesome traveler attempted to drive across the lake on the ice and broke through. The most probable theory is, perhaps, the story that before the early settlement of Lake county a band of immigrants with their train of wagons passed through this country and were killed by the Indians. The train was probably on the top of the rim overlooking the lake, when the murders were committed, and the wagon was rolled down into the water by the savages.

At any rate, George Hankins, one among many, has long been curious about the matter, and announces his intention of satisfying his curiosity by going to the lake and attempting to pull the wagon to the shore with a span of horses. Mr. Hankins may make a gruesome find if he succeeds in the undertaking. The wagon bed may be filled with grinning skeletons.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Colner of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, or sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at Beall's Drug Store.

Veteran Stage Driver Dead.

Dan M. Cawley, the veteran driver who in early days drove stage for the old California and Oregon Stage Company, and who was one of the most widely known pioneers of Northern California, died in Yreka, Oct. 15th. For years deceased has made his home with the Bloomingcamp family at Bogus, eight miles from Ager. He was a native of New Hampshire and 76 years of age. The funeral was held in Yreka on the twentieth inst. under the auspices of the Imp'd O. R. M. of which order he was a prominent member. Deceased had a host of friends in California and Oregon.
