THE SANE ASSASSIN.

Leon Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley who was electrocuted on the morning of October 29, broke the silence which he had maintained so obstinately by making a brief speech as he sat in the electric chair.

"I killed the President because he was an enemy of good people—of the good working people. I am not sorry for my crime."

These were his last words as the guards hurried him into the chair. Within a few moments thereafter a current of seventeen hundred volts of electricity rushed through the living body. When the doctors came to perform an autopsy they could find no visible evidence that anything was the matter with his brain, which was of more than usual size, nor any evidence that there was anything abnormal in the physical condition of the man. There may have been not the slightest touch of insanity upon Czolgosz, and yet he was the victim of a delusion which led him to the commission of an act that causes millions of people to hold him in abhorrence, while very few sympathize with his deed.

His delusion was the assassination of a great and good man who had been elected President would benefit the people who elected him. The man assumed that the 7,000,000 citizens who voted for Wm. McKinley were too ignorant to know the pathway to their own welfare and that it depended upon his arm to strike the blow which must free them from the consequences of their folly or superstitions—truly an egotistical assumption, and yet one which he absorbed through mental contact from some source. The most striking fact about popular delusion is their communicability; they are more catching than Klamath's small-pox or "Manila itch." Mobs go mad together, and men laboring under excitement inflame one another. We have had in this county during the last five years number of persons who have denounced President McKinley as the representative of economic or class influences which were impoverishing the people, and large numbers of people have believed these things when they heard them. Amongst them they have worked up a high degree of excitement, and thousands have had incendiary thoughts; hundreds have indulged in incendiary language. Czolgosz proceeded as far as action. He is the one man who, when he received the influence of the contagious excitement, was so wrought upon that he became desperate enough to translate a suggestion into action. The men who commit such deeds are, generally not insane, but they possess temperaments so febrile that they cannot receive the current of the prevailing excitement without being driven to desperate deeds.

This is Leon Czolgosz, sane assassin of our beloved President.

Commensurate with his crime the judgment of the law was carried out, probably not to the satisfaction of some people who would still believe in the punishment of barbaric days, but this assassin was given death in the easiest possible manner—because his deed was committed in a civilized country.

Let us forget the assassin and remember his crime.

Senator John P. Jones, ultra free silver apostle of Nevada since Mr. Bryan and his craze was conceived, and who left the republican party on the issue of the money question, has returned to the fold, and is glad of it. Senator Jones says: "The silver issue is dead and we are face to face with other issues. The evolution of political issues find me again in alignment with the republican party. The enormous output of gold has accomplished what bimetalism would have accomplished. I have always acted with the republican party upon every question but silver. I have an unbroken record as a protectionist. My vote in the Senate Committee on Finance enabled the Dingley tariff bill to be reported and thus saved the country from the woes of Democratic tariff misrule."

Senator Mitchell of Oregon, when in Washington a few days ago, said: "I am opposed, and so are my constituents, to any tinkering with the Tariff at the coming session of Congress. The country is prosperous with the Tariff as it now exists, and business is adjusted to it, and we do not want any change."

She Had Many Dupes

Miss Etna Dugan, a charmer of Gold Hill, this state, has been arrested and charged with using the United States mails to defraud, and deriving considerable revenue from wife hunters. The woman is 38 years old—but how that fact was discovered is not known—and is well known in Jackson county. For six years she has been in correspondence with a number of men—all of whom wanted a wife—and under promise of marriage has succeeded in securing various sums from her dupes ranging from $5 to $300. Through the suspicions of one of her Idaho correspondents the attention of the Federal grand jury was brought to her methods by the U. S. postal authorities. Her method of working is said to have been to answer advertisements of men who were looking for suitable wives.

After correspondence and exchange of photographs she would say that she was willing to be married to the writer and would suggest that money be sent to defray the expenses to her future husband's home. In most cases the money was forthcoming, as evidenced by the money orders cashed at Gold Hill in her favor. Postmaster W. T. Reames, of Gold Hill who testified before the grand jury said that during the past year Miss Dugan had received $200 in money orders; but that her registered mail far exceeded this and that the amount she obtained from registered letters is not known.

The Children's Friend.

You'll have a cold this winter. Maybe you have one now. Your children will suffer too. For coughs, croup, bronchitis, grip and other winter complaints One Minute Cough Cure never fails. Acts promptly. It is very pleasant to the taste and perfectly harmless. C. B. George, Winchester, Ky., writes, "Our little girl was attacked with croup late one night and was so hoarse she could hardly speak. We gave her a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure. It relieved her immediately and she went to sleep. When she awoke next morning she had no signs of hoarseness or croup." Lakeview Drug Co. 44

Madeline, the N-C-O. Terminus.

The new town of Madeline, the terminus of the N. C. O., will be duly christened when the "wheels go round" that far north, sometime early in November, says the Reno Gazette.

The town bids fair to outgrow Susanville and to become one of the most important towns in the north. It will be the end of the first division and repair shops will be put there.

E. Van Loan is building a modern hotel, stock yards are being put up, a fine sheep-dipping plant will be constructed, the railroad company is building a commodious depot and warehouse, Hart and Johnson are putting up a fine big store building and will be ready for business when the rails are laid.

The demand for town lots is pronounced, so Mr. Van Loan says. The new town is in a section of the country which is bound to make it of great importance for it will be the shipping point of a large section.

Reliable and Gentle.

"April's a pill," says the saw. But there are pills and pills. You want a pill which is certain, thorough and gentle. Mustn't gripe. DeWitt's Little Early Risers fill the bill. Purely vegetable. Small and easy to take. Lakeview Drug Co. 44

Jesse Must Take His Medicine.

The United States Court of Appeals has rendered a decision sustaining Judge Bellinger and denying the relief sought by the plaintiff in the case of the Jesse D. Carr Land & Livestock Company vs. the United States. The matter was on appeal from the order of the District Court of Oregon, directing the United States Marshal to remove certain fences inclosing eighty thousand acres of land bordering on Klamath county. It would seem that Jesse must needs take his medicine, but the old boy has always something else up his sleeve.

Stops the Cough and works off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure no pay. Price 25 cents. 44ly

"Miss Stone was captured," says the Sofia correspondent of the Neues Wiener Journal of Vienna, "not by brigands, but by a detachment of Turkish cavalry, at the instigation of the Sultan". Evidently his Sultanic Majesty has not forgotten that little affair of honor between himself and Uncle Sam a short time ago, and wants to do something nasty for vengeance sake. It is also reported that Mme. Tsilka, the companion of Miss Stone, died recently in captivity after giving birth to a child. There ought to be some red-hot business done with these dastardly Turks, that they may in future respect the people of a civilized and decent country.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c. 44ly

A new three cent piece will soon be coined and put into circulation by the government. The coin will have a hole in the center like the Chinese coin. It has already been nicknamed "the doughnut."

TIMBER LAND NOTICE.

United States Land Office,
Lakeview, Oregon, October 4, 1901.
Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1902, James H. Turpen, of Lakeview, county of Lake, state of Oregon, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 314, for the purchase of the E 1/2, NE 1/4, Sec. 25, and S 1/2, E 1/2, of section No. 36 in Township No. 40 S, Range No. 21 E W. M., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Lakeview, Oregon, on Friday, the 14th day of December, 1901. He names as witnesses George Jammerthal, J. E. McFarrey, Frank Rogers of Lakeview, Oregon, and David U. Cleland of Plush, Oregon. Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 14th day of December, 1901.
