

SNOBBISHNESS IN WOMEN.

The Folly of Trying to Put on Style with But One Servant to Answer for Two.

The weak desire to make one servant appear as two or more makes no end of trouble in the relations between employer and employe. Convention has quite definitely prescribed the duties and dress for the special offices of a household, but the general servant (and the households having one outnumber those having more by thousands) should not be expected to wear either "uniform" or cap, says Ella Morris Kretschmar, in Woman's Home Companion. Is there not a comical incongruity in a properly uniformed parlor-maid running forth with the garbage, scrubbing the back steps, or building the kitchen fire?

So in the serving at table. Where there is but one servant to both cook and serve a dinner it is absurd to have everything served from a side-table. I have dined at tables where such an order of things was in force, and have waited until the salad course for a piece of bread, not wishing to embarrass my hostess by asking for it, and the single maid not having time before that point to pass it. In such a household the soup should be served and the water poured before dinner is announced, and the bread should be on the table from first to last—until dessert. At the family table there is even a propriety in the vegetables being placed before the mistress of the household for serving; and if coffee is to be made, or a pudding sauce to be prepared (which is too delicate to stand after making), there is no reason why the single maid should not be excused from passing the plates for meat and vegetables, and such an occasion is one which might wisely be improved to teach children courteous helpfulness and grace of manner.

Unjustifiable "style" is the worst "form" in the world. To expect one servant to give the impression of two or three, or two to fill the duties of a corps, is unadulterated snobbishness. If convention or good form does not coincide with good sense, fairness and honest dignity in our housekeeping habits and manners it should be made to do so.

Cheese and Egg Sandwiches.

Grate rich soft cheese and to each cupful add the yolks of three hard-boiled eggs; rub to a powder; season with cayenne and salt and mix to a paste that will spread nicely with cream or melted butter. Cut thin and trim slices of whole wheat bread and spread with the mixture.—Washington Star.

COUGHS AND COLDS IN CHILDREN

Recommendation of a Well Known Chicago Physician.

I use and prescribe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for almost all obstinate, constricted coughs, with direct results. I prescribe it to children of all ages. Am glad to recommend it to all in need and seeking relief from colds and coughs and bronchial affections. It is non-narcotic and safe in the hands of the most unprofessional. A universal panacea for all mankind.—Mrs. Mary R. Mearns, M. D., Ph. D., Chicago, Ill. This remedy is for sale by Lee Beall, druggist.

The Examiner is under obligations to Mike Barry, formerly of Lake county, but now of Ireland, for copies of some English periodicals. They are Pearson's Weekly, Answers, and Tit-Bits. These papers are all issued in magazine form, not quite so large as the Ladies Home Journal, and printed on cheap newspaper. The matter contained in them is very good, but typographically they are quite inferior to American newspapers.

Says he Was Tortured.

"I suffered such pain from corns I could hardly walk," writes H. Robinson, Hillsborough, Ill., "but Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured them." Acts like magic on sprains, bruises, cuts, sores, scalds, burns, ulcers, Perfect healer of skin diseases and piles. Cure guaranteed by Lee Beall. Price 25 cents.

The editor of the Chewaucan Post interviewed Mr. High, land agent for several districts in California and Oregon. He expects to go in Paisley next May to investigate the timber and mineral resources of that section. He formed a pleasant acquaintance with the gentleman and he thinks the prospects for Northern Lake county are encouraging, as we have a large amount of fine timber land and a vast area of undeveloped mineral land.

Mr. Bolin who is working for the ZX firm was in town Sunday, says the Post. Mr. Bolin is seeding a portion of the marsh where hay is cut with Australian rye. Should this make a good stand it will be extensively sown. It is claimed as being fine feed. The firm intends making experiments with tame grasses and generally improving the quality of the hay.

A Woman's Awful Peril.

There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50 cts. Guaranteed. For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.

"McGinnity, would you be after tellin' me wot all this means? I'm after readin' in the papers 'bout tellin' a man's character by the bumps on his head," said Mr. Morrissey. "It's a new ting ter me."

"Don't spake of bumps on ther head ter me," answered Mr. McGinnity. "I didn't I go home last pay night an' begin ter talk 'bout ther same ting ter Mrs. McGinnity, thinkin' fool like that she'd be impressed wid me learnin' an' ferget all about me not handlin' over me wages wot I'd lost a shakin' dice down ther street. An' didn't Mrs. McGinnity pick up a rollin' pin an' raise more bumps on me head in four minutes dan seven of thim perfessors could till about in a week. Don't talk ter me 'bout bumps, Morrissey, 'cause me temper is short an' thim bumps on me own head are still as sore as a boll."—Milwaukee Sentinel.
