

LOCAL PICK-UPS.

F. O. Bunting, proprietor of the Drews Valley Hereford Stock Farm, has sold to James Barry the east half of the block north of the school grounds. The price was $1000. Mr. Barry's residence already occupies a portion of the block.

The New Year's edition of The Oregonian is replete with statistics and the resources of the state. It is probably the best paper ever turned out by the Northwest Monarch of journals. It is a modern history of Oregon that every citizen should read, and then send away to a friend.

Post & King, the popular caterers, had an elegant spread at their resort on New Year's night, to which all their friends were invited. A large crowd partook of the feast of many delicacies. Roast turkey, salads, ham and many good things too numerous to mention were spread in great profusion.

The prettiest calendar for 1902 which has come to our notice was sent out by that enterprising citizen and merchant of Klamath Falls, George T. Baldwin. Mr. Baldwin forwarded one to his old friend William Nail of Lakeview, as a New Year's gift. The center in a beautiful engraving of the town of Klamath Falls, over which is raised gilt letters is the greeting "A Happy New Year—1902."

Will R. Heryford has received from the County Court the appointment of County Roadmaster, a position created by the last legislature and incorporated into the new law for the counties of Oregon. The Roadmaster will have charge of all roads and bridges within the county, and his duties are many. The appointment gives general satisfaction, as Mr. Heryford is well qualified for the position. His salary is $500 per year.

The lowest state tax levy since 1890 in the state of Oregon, was in 1897 when the levy was 3 1/2 mills. The last levy was 5 7/10 mills. The levy for 1901 taxes has not yet been announced, but the figures in total are given at $9,576.50, Lake county's portion of taxes to be paid to the state treasury. The state revenue to be raised this year under the new law is $250,000 greater than it was last year.

Yreka had an epidemic of marriages during Christmas week. Lucius S. Wilson, Jr. and Ida M. Egli; Dr. Hubert of Etna and Lillie W. Denny of Etna; John S. Moore and Allah E. Stevenson; James Dickey of Dunsuir and Grace E. Freeman of Klamath; Chas. O. Loar and Ella M. Everill of Hamburg Bar; Harry B. Dollarhide and Sarah M. Noel of Klamath; George B. Peck of Yreka and Lucy E. Mount of Chico; and David Law of Quartz valley and May Scott of Oro Fino—all joined hands and hearts and "jumped the broomstick." May happiness attend them all.

The quarantine which has been in force between Lake and Klamath counties was declared off last Saturday, and the station at Drews Gap was abandoned and the apparatus moved to Lakeview. John B. Blair, quarantine officer, was in service fifty-three days and was glad to return home. The quarantine no doubt saved Lake county from an epidemic of this loathsome disease, and too much credit cannot be given the County Court for its prompt action in the matter. The small amount of money used in enforcing the quarantine was well expended.

Yreka Journal:—Pete Mugler and wife of Sisson, have been sued for $30,000 damages in the Superior Court of San Francisco by their daughter-in-law, who alleges they alienated the affections of her husband and their son, Nick Mugler. The complaint states they were married at Berkeley last January, and that her lot was one of peace and happiness until the parents of her husband discovered that they did not like her. "Then," says the broken-hearted wife, "they commenced a systematic attack upon his feelings and love for me, and destroyed the love and affection he bore me."

Homer B. Warren, a pioneer lawyer of Yreka, is dead.

Davis Creek people enjoyed a masquerade ball on New Year's night.

We want some of that venison, and if we don't get it there will be "something doin'."

Cornelius Haight, a pioneer farmer of Little Shasta, Siskiyou county, died on January 2, 1902, aged 70 years.

Misses Maude and Celia Newport, who formerly lived in Alturas, are there from Republic, Washington, on a visit with old friends.

Born—at the Chandler ranch, Crooked Creek valley, Lake County, Ore., January 1, 1902, to the wife of Monse Curry, Jr., a daughter.

A seat on the New York stock exchange was sold last week for $75,000. There is some expense attached to the privilege of gambling on the exchange in America's Gotham. Five more seats are for sale and for one of these $80,000 was offered. That seat is probably in the first row.

In our last issue we unintentionally omitted the name of Mrs. E. V. Lewis in connection with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sherlock, in a brief mention of the manner in which the graves of "Walter and Fred" were beautified. Mrs. Lewis took an active part in the work and also assisted in every way possible, as she always does, at the mourning homes.

Schminck has marked down his clothing to cost. Go there and get a suit or overcoat cheap. 1-2

Miss Violet Keser came in on the Terro stage from San Francisco, last Sunday. Miss Violet has been attending school in the city during the winter, and came up to spend the holiday season with relatives and friends in Alturas. She will probably be accompanied back to the city by her sister, Mrs. Gladys Rachford, who will spend a few weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. J. M. Thompson.—New Era.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Spencer of the West Side, returned on New Year's day from an extended visit with Mr. Spencer's relatives in Fairbury, Ill. They left here on Sept. 15th last and were present at a great family re-union, the particulars of which were published in these columns several weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer visited Chicago and other places, and on their return stopped a few weeks with relatives and friends at Grants Pass. They had an enjoyable trip throughout.

C. U. Snider has had planted in the yard surrounding his residence some large fir trees taken from the forest near Lakeview. These trees will be taken up in winter and replaced in the spring—until they take root and grow, if such a thing is possible. It is merely an experiment with Mr. Snider, and if it proves successful many residence grounds in Lakeview will be beautified with those stately evergreens. The Examiner sincerely hopes that Mr. Snider's experiment will be a success.

Death of Osa Bolton.

After a hard struggle for life against the ravages of typhoid, lasting for months, death has at last invaded the home of Mr. S. B. Bolton on the West Side and taken from her Osa, the eldest daughter, aged 16 years. For seventy days and nights did the life of this sweet girl linger in the balance, and during the past week the remaining moments of her earthly career were counted off like beads from a silken cord. She breathed her last on Monday night. Yesterday at 1 p. m. the funeral took place from the Union school house, and the remains were followed to the cemetery near by by a large number of friends of the family. Rev. C. W. Holloman officiated, and services were held at the school building and at the grave. Deceased was an amiable, greatly admired and beloved girl, and she will be sadly missed from the family circle. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved mother and sorrowing relatives.

Lost—Three Mules.

Three mules, branded with circle on right stifle, supposed to be now between Lakeview and Summer Lake. A liberal reward will be given for any information leading to recovery of the animals. W Z Moss.

Death of Noble Sisters.

News has reached Alturas, according to the New Era, to the effect that two young ladies, former residents of Alturas, had died in Anderson, Cal. Miss Bessie Noble died at 10 o'clock on New Year's day and Miss Vivian her sister, died on the day previous. The girls had been ill for two weeks. The announcement by letter also states that Clair Noble, the brother, was very ill with pneumonia and the girls are supposed to have died from that disease. These two girls were the daughters of the late Emory Noble, who was kicked to death by a mule. Mrs. Noble the mother who survived had her share of affliction. The girls were reared in Alturas.
