

LOCAL PICK-UPS.

Hum Overton is seriously ill of pneumonia at his Plush home.

Mrs. Daisy Morris, wife of Johnny Morris of Plush is said to be seriously ill.

Born—In Klamath Falls, Oregon, last week, to the wife of Cary Ramsby, a son.

Jim Redden, the Summer Lake stockman, came down on a visit to his wife this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hammond came down from Paisley last Tuesday on a business visit, returning home yesterday.

Andrew Hammersley has been quite ill for several days with lagrippe, and threatened with pneumonia, but is able to be out again.

Mrs. Rene Paxton is ill, and is seriously threatened with an attack of pneumonia. Her husband, Frank Paxton is recovering, after a dangerous attack of pneumonia.

Malcom Coffman, accompanied by his sister Miss Ethel Coffman, and Miss Mable Prior, sister of Mrs. Fent Smith of Lakeview, arrived here Tuesday from Cedarville, on a visit.

Born—In Lakeview, Oregon, February 16, 1902, to the wife of Dr. E. H. Smith, a ten-pound son. The Dr. now walks with a more elastic step, and seems to be very proud of his boy.

S. B. Chandler returned from San Francisco and other California points last Tuesday evening. Mr. Chandler went to the city to consult a specialist and we understand returns much encouraged regarding his health.

The wood-sawing contest at the Quaker Doctors' show Saturday night created plenty of amusement. Mrs. Zadie Linebarger proved to be the champion sawyer and won the $5 cash prize. Young Phil Barry won the gold watch.

Mrs. Lulu Gunther has been advised to go to an hospital at Portland to be operated upon. She is suffering from a double affliction, appendicitis and an abscess of the side. She left via Paisley, Silver Lake and Shaniko, for Portland, yesterday morning. Mrs. Gunther's friends hope for a successful operation and a speedy return.

Beautiful and useful prizes to be given away at the Monogram. You get a ticket to the April 1st drawing with every 50 cent purchase. On a $5 purchase you get ten tickets, on $50 purchase one hundred tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Heryford returned home last Thursday night after an absence of two months, during which time they visited in San Francisco, San Jose, Stockton, Lodi and Millville, Cal. They had an enjoyable trip. Mr. Heryford says he liked the country around Stockton and Lodi better than any he saw in his travels.

Southern Pacific Conductor George Engwicht, one of the best known and most popular railroad men on the coast, has been promoted to the position of Southern Pacific trainmaster, with headquarters at Dunsmuir, Cal. Many people in Lake county will remember Conductor Engwicht whose run for a long time has been past Ager, and will be glad to learn of his promotion.

Alturas need not go into hysterics over the few mild cases of smallpox in Lakeview. Alturas has had a much more deadly and contagious disease than smallpox in its worst form—and it needs fumigation, too—much fumigation! Smallpox has been stamped out in Lakeview—there are no cases of that disease here now. Let the press agent correct his error in the Reno Gazette, and be sure to not get gay.

W. R. Hammersley arrived from the Drews Valley country Tuesday with a big load of spoils captured on mountain height and by rushing stream. In other words, with gun and trap, Billy has made a good haul among the fur animals of Lake county this winter. One trophy on exhibition at Bailey & Massingill's, is the antlered head of a giant of the forest—a many pronged buck—that in his life must have been a beautiful specimen of the muletail deer.

RALPH ALLEN MOORE.

The funeral of Ralph Allen Moore was held from the Methodist Church in Lakeview last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The church was filled with friends of the grief-stricken family, and many personal friends of the dead boy, schoolmates who knew him well and loved him in life. Rev. C. W. Holloman preached a touching sermon, and while referring to the last moments of the dying youth—the message of love to his almost heart-broken mother, his farewell to teacher and schoolmates, and the holy light of Heaven that is said to have emblazoned his wan face just before the summons—all eyes were bathed with tears. His death was peaceful and with a smile like that of a dying hero he told in whispers the fond father who bent over him to catch his last word that he was not afraid to die, because he was going to Heaven, and hoped to meet him and mother there. Here was an evidence of purity of character and bravery. Death had no terrors for Ralph Moore! Would that all could say as much when the time comes to face eternity.

The casket was covered with beautiful flowers and evergreen wreaths.

When the preacher finished his sermon and while the choir was singing the last anthem friends marched past the coffin to take a last look at the face of the dead. Six of his schoolmates tenderly carried him to the hearse, and when the cemetery was reached, lowered the beautiful white casket containing the cold clay down to its last earthly resting place.

Bright, and noble youth, you have gone from those who loved and admired you, but you will not be forgotten.

The City Meat Market.

Last week Frank P. Lane bought the interest of J. W. Schweinfurth, of the firm of Fitzgerald & Schweinfurth, in the City Meat Market in Hotel Lakeview building. The new firm starts off with a good, fat purse to buy all the fat cattle, grain-fed hogs, and choice mutton to be found necessary to the wants of their patrons. Will R. Steele has accepted the position of manager for the new firm, and the services of a first-class cutter and all-round butcher, in the person of Mr. M. S. Burns of Grants Pass, has been secured. Already the new management has given evidence of a thorough understanding of the business, and have arranged the interior of the market in an inviting manner. Everything is as clean and neat as a parlor, and the counters and blocks have been rearranged giving the shop a tidy appearance. Choice pieces of beef, mutton and pork are hung on the blockstand and strings of fine bologna hang from the hooks. On the counter can be seen choice cuts of beef, mutton and pork ready for the pan. It is the intention of the new firm to have on hand at all times the best ranges and ranches of Lake county can produce, and the patronage of the public is respectfully solicited. Manager Steele invites everyone to call and see the newly arranged market. Take a chance at the drawing for a fine Sunday roast.

Successful Applicants.

Three applicants for teachers' certificates appeared before the Board of Education of Lake County, last week, and they were each successful. Miss Lulu Gilbert was granted a second grade certificate, Miss Inez Wheeler a third grade, and Miss Grace Driver a third grade. Miss Wheeler will continue her studies and has passed from the Eighth to the Ninth grade in the public school.

The strict quarantine placed at the residences in Lakeview where smallpox was reported to exist, has been the means of confining the disease thus far to the places infected. But two places are under restriction, the residence of John McElhinney and that of Dr. Steiner. Last Friday Dr. Steiner reported a case at his home in the person of Miss Stella Engle, and at once quarantined the premises and went to the hotel to live. The disease is in very mild form and it is probable, with the precaution already taken, that it will soon be stamped out. The cases on the West Side are reported getting on nicely and no new cases have appeared.

EXAMINER AND BULLETIN $6.50.

Through the misunderstanding of a message over the telephone to the Chewaucan Post from the publishers of The Examiner, the Post advertises the Lake County Examiner and Daily Bulletin at a combination price of $5.50 to hold good until March 17, 1902. This is an error. The announcement of the change in combination price of Examiner and Bulletin was made in these columns last week, and no subscriptions can be accepted at the old rate of $5.50 from February 13, 1902. Those who desire to accept the combination from that date will be charged $6.50, in advance as usual. Even at this rate the combination price is very low, as the regular subscription price of The San Francisco Bulletin alone is $6. The new rate does not effect subscriptions paid up before February 13, 1902.

Mr. Wheeler Got Rid of His Rheumatism.

"During the winter of 1898 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked steadily all the year.—R. WHEELER, Northwood, N. Y. For sale by Lee Beall.

Worse Than Smallpox.

Alturas Plaindealer:—Health officer Blondin received a telegram from Lakeview Tuesday evening that there were five cases of smallpox at that place. Steps were at once taken to establish a quarantine station at the State line and hopes are entertained that the contagion may be kept out of Modoc. However we cannot too earnestly urge upon our citizens to guard every suspicious case closely. Providence has already afflicted us with a worse malady than the smallpox—the lynching cases. But the two combined might be a little more than Christian fortitude and patience could endure.

Something That Will Do You Good.

We know of no way in which we can be of more service to our readers than to tell them of something that will be of real good to them. For this reason we want to acquaint them with what we consider one of the very best remedies on the market for coughs, colds, and that alarming complaint, croup. We refer to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it with such good results in our family so long that it has become a household necessity. By its prompt use we haven't any doubt but that it has time and again prevented croup. The testimony is given upon our own experience, and we suggest that our readers, especially those who have small children, always keep it in their homes as a safeguard against croup.—Camden (S. C.) Messenger. For sale by Lee Beall.

The Oder of Flowers

That is what a perfume should be—true to Nature, delicate, lasting. We have just received a fresh lot from the place where the flowers grow. These are among the most delicate extracts made; they convey an air of refinement. If you have never used any of our perfumes, come in and sample them. A large variety to select from.
