The wide-awake auxiliary of the A. O. U. Congressman Tongue writes The Examiner that no bill for leasing the public lands is likely to be reported at this session, and that no bill can possibly be framed into a law that does not look to the interest of the small stockman and home builder. Mr. Tongue assures The Examiner that he is on the side of the small holder in this matter.

TOM THUMB GETS IN FROM SILVER LAKE

Tells of the Doings of the North End and Promises to Keep Examiner Readers Posted

Silver Lake, Oregon, March 8—(To the Editor):—Tom Thumb desires to see some notice of this section in the columns of The Examiner, so here's for a few "incidents."

Wind! Wind!! Oh Boreas has been wreaking vengeance or paying off some old score on this community for the past week. If Santos Dumont and his flying machine were in Silver Lake valley they couldn't keep from flying. And if anybody needs a little more grit to help him along in this world he needs but to visit this place when the wind blows at the speed of a mile a minute.

Lost, strayed, or stolen—One tall, handsome young man, from the residence of F. M. Chrisman, of Silver Lake, on or about March 3d. Anybody who can give information as to his present residence may communicate with Mr. Chrisman, or the nurse, Mr. West, and receive suitable reward.

Position wanted, by trained nurse. References given if desired. Address "Cope," Silver Lake, Oregon.

The green grass is growing ("all 'round, all 'round"; and Spring is surely near at hand—even if old hoary Winter does persist in reclining in her lap.

Our stockmen are still feeding. The herds fared quite well this winter.

T. J. Jackson has returned from a business trip to the Klamath Agency. He reports finding some deep snow on his trip through the mountains.

J. S. Martin has rented Mr. Horning's Buck Creek ranch, and the former gentleman will move his family and household goods to the new home before long.

Miss Odie Horning, who spent the winter with her parents here, will return to Corvallis the latter part of this month.

G. H. Small, who spent the winter with his family in the Willamette valley was seen on our streets the other day.

Mrs. T. C. Hamilton is still confined to her bed with a serious illness, but was improving at last reports.

Loren Streeter has been suffering from neuralgia for some time, but is improving under the skillful treatment of Dr. Smith.

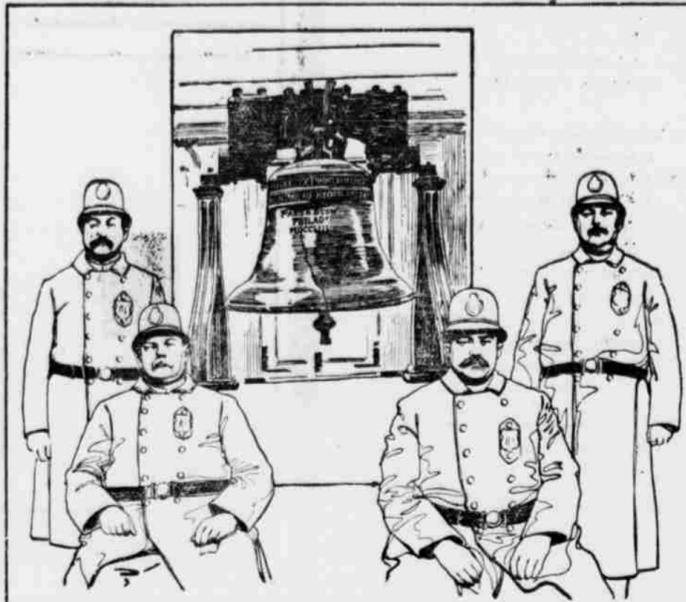

I know you have lots of patience, Mr. Editor, but I will not try it too far the first time. TOM THUMB.

CATTLE GROWERS CONVENTION.

The American Cattle Growers convention at Denver on March 6th adopted resolutions advocating the enactment, with some amendments, of the bill now before Congress which provides for the leasing of public lands for grazing purposes. F. C. Lusk of Chico was elected president of the association. The members of the executive committee for Oregon are John Gilchrist and William Heryford.

Resolutions were adopted asking President Roosevelt to suspend the work of removing fences from the public range until action on the leasing bill is taken. The convention declined to adopt resolutions regarding the oleomargarine and the Grosvenor anti-shoddy bill. The convention then adjourned sine die.

It is stated that Secretary Hitchcock of the Interior Department, is soon to retire from the President's Cabinet.

THE LIBERTY BELL AT THE CHARLESTON EXPOSITION. The old Liberty bell, by which American liberty was proclaimed to the world from Independence hall, Philadelphia, on July 4, 1776, is now at the Charleston exposition. It was taken to New Orleans in 1885, to the World's fair, Chicago, in 1893, and to the Atlanta exposition in 1895. The four Philadelphia policemen who accompany the bell as a guard of honor are John J. Robinson, Gilbert L. Forsythe, William A. Farrell and William P. Bruce.

SAD DEATH AT SALEM, OF A GOOD WOMAN

Mrs. John Hammond of Paisley Dies in a Salem Hospital—Interment Held at Eugene.

The sad news of the death of Mrs. John Hammond of Paisley was received in Lakeview by wire last Monday morning. It was only three weeks ago since Mrs. Hammond accompanied her husband to Lakeview to consult with physicians Smith and Steiner, and was advised to go to an hospital at Salem and submit to a delicate operation. Soon after returning home to Paisley Mr. and Mrs. Hammond started for Salem, and the next word received from them was the sad news of her death. Dr. Smith received the message by wire and was told to advise the relatives and friends at Paisley of the death. Mrs. Hammond died at 7 a m on the 10th inst., presumably from the shock incident to a surgical operation, though the telegram gave no information regarding the cause of her death.

Deceased was the daughter of Mrs. Farrow of Paisley and had numerous relatives and warm personal friends in that section. She was also greatly admired by many people in Lakeview who knew her well. She was a highly respected, amiable and kind-hearted woman—one whose nature was full of sunshine and happiness, and whose heart beat in charity and good will for all mankind. Her death is a severe blow to the loving husband and other relatives and her place will be difficult to fill in the hearts and the memory of a host of loving friends. Many tears will be shed in sorrow over her intemely death.

The funeral was held at Eugene yesterday, and the remains were placed by the side of her father and brother in the cemetery at that place. Mrs. Hammond was a charter member of Paisley Circle, Woman of Woodcraft, and hers is the first death to occur in the Woodcraft circle of Lake county.

More Electric Power.

The County Court has given J. A. Anthony permission to construct and maintain a line for the transmission of electricity from the State Line at New Pine Creek along the thoroughfare to Lakeview. It is understood that Mr. Anthony has secured the power in Pine Creek and it is understood that he will generate electric power for electric lights and milling purposes both at New Pine Creek and Lakeview.

REV. SMYTHE TAKES CHARGE OF M. E. CHURCH

Comes With His Family From Minnesota to Occupy a Local Pulpit and Save Souls.

Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Smythe and little child arrived in Lakeview on the delayed Western stage last Saturday night direct from Staples, Minnesota. Rev. Smythe has accepted the call to the Lakeview Methodist Church, and The Examiner sincerely hopes that the charge will prove a pleasant one. He has the appearance of a cultured gentleman, and in our brief acquaintance with him we are led to believe that he is just the right stamp of man to make a success and create enthusiasm in religious circles in Lakeview, without going to extremes. He appears to be an all-round man, and a jolly good fellow—a preacher who will command the admiration of all with whom he comes in contact, and we sincerely hope that the church people, as well as outsiders, will contribute liberally toward his maintenance. Lakeview now has two first-class men of the cloth, in the persons of the new minister and Rev. C. W. Holloman of the Baptist church. Leaders of church circles should see to it that they are both encouraged to remain here. There is plenty of work for both in Lake county. Rev. Smythe has a charming wife and little daughter, and upon their arrival here were escorted to the Methodist parsonage where everything was comfortably arranged beforehand for their reception by the ladies of the church. The day following his arrival Rev. Smythe occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church, and again in the evening. Those who heard him were well pleased. He will be in the pulpit at New Pine Creek next Sunday morning.

School Benefit Dance.

On the Friday evening following the Woodman ball, (March 28th) a second dance will be given at the McCulley place, three miles north of Lakeview. It will be a dance and basket supper, and those who do not bring a basket will be charged with the small sum of $1. It is to be a benefit for the new school district, and all who can should patronize it. There will be no discount on the elegant supper, for the ladies out there know how to please. Remember the date—Friday evening, March 28th.

SOUNDS GOOD AND LOOKS GOOD FOR THIS SECTION

Lord Thurlow's Road Will Make Lakeview a Hummer, Thinks the Redding Searchlight.

Lord Thurlow has arrived in Redding from New York, and confirms the report that the Eureka and Eastern Railroad will be built, and that work will soon begin. The contract has been let to Drake & Stratton of New York and the finances have been supplied. The road will be built from Eureka, on the coast, to Weiser, Idaho. The Redding Searchlight, a newspaper that is never behind on the news, says of this big enterprise:

The Humboldt Times, published at Eureka, does not appear to enthuse to any inspiring extent over the prospect for the coming of Lord Thurlow's railroad, which is to make the port of Eureka "the rival of San Francisco and Seattle." But the Times had not then heard the latest news.

Red Bluff apparently is more interested in the news than was Eureka. The Red Bluff News a short time ago was making sport of the English promoter and of the enterprise he was promoting. The Sentinel, however, prints in full the Chicago interview with Thurlow, showing that it affects to be no wiser than the metropolitan journals which first give the interview currency.

It is unfortunate, of course, that the road is not headed from Eastern connections to the head of river navigation at Red Bluff. As the California terminal of the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Oregon Short Line, Red Bluff might become the greatest inland entrepot of the West. It was once headquarters for a crew of dining-car servitors and can now boast of one of the largest oil tanks on the Shasta Route, so if the promoters of the Eureka and Eastern are looking for a city with experience as railroad headquarters, Red Bluff may yet carry off the prize.

The Lakeview Examiner, published in Southeastern Oregon, is alive to the meaning of the news, for the Eureka and Eastern will certainly touch Lakeview before it disappears in the bunch grass of Malheur and Harney counties and on into Idaho. The road will make Lakeview the metropolis of one of the richest grazing regions of the West.

Republican Committee Meeting.

At a meeting of the Republican County Central Committee held in Lakeview last Saturday it was decided to hold the primaries in the various precincts on Tuesday, March 18th, the polls to be open at 1 p. m. It was also decided to hold the County Convention on Saturday, March 22d. A resolution was passed to the effect that the voters of the two-Lakeview precincts be privileged to vote at the same polling places they voted at the election two years ago. The Republican call appears in another column in this issue.

Error Corrected.

The Examiner unintentionally stated last week that Judge Benson's opinion in the Hough vs. Porter water suit was in favor of Hough. It should have stated the McCall vs. Porter case. The Hough vs. Porter case has not been decided by the court. The case will come up for further hearing at the next term of Circuit Court. The only action taken in this case by the court was extending time for the plaintiff, Annie C. Hough, to file her amended complaint, to the 19th day of May.
