IRRIGATION ASSURED.

(Portland Tele-gram)

Next Spring it is announced from Washington, the Secretary of the Interior, through the Geological Survey, will begin the construction of the first irrigation system under the new law. It is proposed to go slowly at first, so as to get the benefit of experience from first operations. But the immensely important thing is that irrigation of the arid lands of the West, where found practicable, has been adopted as a National policy, and will be carried on.

This will give millions of people, finally homes where now is no human habitation. It will veritably make "the desert to blossom as the rose." It will add, during say even the first half a century, while some of us live, almost incalculably to the wealth of the country—more than many great gold mines.

It is with warm appreciation and sincerity that the people of the arid or semi-arid West congratulate their Senators and Representatives in Congress who have enacted this law and inaugurated this policy. And in doing so they will not forget these capable, active, insistent men had a friend and helper in President Theodore Roosevelt; except for his powerful aid they would have failed.

We of Western Oregon, because we need no irrigation—sometimes, as now, have water to spare—need not suppose that therefore we have no interest in this matter. Portland as a city, all its business people, have a direct and great interest in the irrigation of Western arid lands, especially those of Eastern Oregon.

Three different companies from the east have recently had representatives in the Willamette valley looking for a location for a condensed milk factory. After much investigation and speculation they have discovered that it would be impossible to make a success of the enterprise. They figure that it would cost too much for extra expensive machinery to extract the moss from the milk proper. The people are too slow down there to catch a condensed milk factory. A condensed milk factory might do well.

The London Standard is surprised that "a statesman of his (Roosevelt's) position and with his future should think it wise to deliver a serious warning to powerful trusts," as he did in his Fourth of July speech at Pittsburg. The London Standard evidently does not know Mr. Roosevelt. He does not think about his standing or his future when he has anything to say. He just goes ahead and says it.

"I have a horror of being buried alive," said the easy-going storekeeper. "Well, for gracious sake, why don't you advertise?" replied his friend.

About half a million poor of London were fed one day last week at the King's expense. Probably the best square meal most of them ever had.

When you get so that it takes great big troubles to trouble you and little bits of things to make you happy, then you are on the right road.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time I got life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of McAllen, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again, and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physician prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of Medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by Beall's Drug Store.

LIGHT AND DARK,

Day and night, sunshine and shadow are not more different from each other than a healthful from a sickly woman. The healthful woman carries light and sunshine with her wherever she goes. The woman who suffers from ill-health casts a shadow on her own happiness and the happiness of others. She cannot help it. Those who suffer cannot smile and sing.

Ill-health in woman is generally traceable to disease of the delicate womanly organism. Many women have been restored to happiness by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"I feel it my duty to inform you that I had been a sufferer for many years from nervousness with all its symptoms and complications," writes Mrs. O. N. Fisher of 180 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y. "I was constantly going to see a physician or purchasing medicine for this or that complaint as my troubles became unbearable. In the spring of 1897 my husband induced me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After taking it a short time I felt very good indeed. I was encouraged that I took more bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and then I did not take any more for several weeks as I felt so much better, but still I was not completely well. I commenced taking it again and felt that I was improving faster than at first. I am not now cross and irritable and I have a good color in my face; have also gained about ten pounds in weight and one thousand of comfort, for I am a new woman once more."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on "the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50¢. Sold by Lee Beach Dragster.
