We understand that Elsie Russell has bought the Rice mill machinery at Lawson creek, and will remove the machinery to Lake county, where he will put up another saw mill. It is probable that he will locate on Dry Creek, in the heart of a big body of timber.

A good hen does business every day and lets you know it. So does the business man who advertises. It is not necessary to say "business" man, because only business men advertise, and recognize the paper with by far the largest circulation. The Examiner is "it" in Southeastern Oregon.

On August 24th a double wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Newton, six miles east of Klamath Falls. It was a double tie-up of unusual occurrence, the grooms being twins and the brides twins, also. It was a double wedding in more ways than one, and that is the long and short of it. Miss Maud Newton became the wife of Mr. Thomas Short, and Miss Claude Newton became the wife of Mr. John Short. The Examiner trusts that their happiness may be long and full of bliss.

We understand that Geo. Bayley, of the Corporation, is paying 7 1/2 cents for beef delivered and weighed at the Corporation ranch. This is a good price and if we owned cattle would not look further for a buyer. With beef at 7 1/2 and wheat at 1 1/4 Modockers ought to feel happy and independent.—Plaindealer.

Several copies of the Northwestern Stock Directory, compiled by Stoss & Lightly, printers of Alturas, have been left at this office for distribution. It is a valuable book for stockmen and worth the price. 11

Arthur Price, who has leased A. F. Tonningsen's bunch of sheep, was in town this week, and took Roach out to help him. Price knows as much about the business as any man in the country, and "old Roach ain't slow," for he lost more sheep in the hard winter than a prince could own. The boys ought to make the business pay.

The Democratic Convention of Modoc county claims the right to choose the Assemblyman this year and recommends Peter Peterson. At any rate his many friends are glad to welcome him home.

Mr. Sloan had nineteen teeth taken from his two jaws and feels like "jawing back"—but always passes out a friendly hand to his friends and acquaintances. If they were all as square as honest Sam Sloan there would be no conflict.

While riding after horses last Monday Jim Green met with a bad accident, in which anybody but a Christian would have been killed. His horse fell while going at breakneck speed, and when Jim picked up all the pieces he found his left arm broken in two places just above the wrist, and all his teeth jarred loose. He will be off the horse for thirty days or more. Little things like that don't bother Jim.
