Frightful Electrical Storm Does Great Damage and Nearly Cleans Out a Town.

Fuller reports regarding the severe electric storm which visited Siskiyou county and northeastern Shasta on the 16th inst, show it to have been without a parallel in the storm history of those sections. Sisson did not feel the storm more severely than did Fall River Mills.

At 4 o'clock on the morning of the 16th the storm at Fall River reached its worst. The play of lightning was terrible. Buildings were struck and tree after tree crashed down or was set blazing. At the home of Dr. M. D. Pratt his wife's two sisters, the Misses Snyder, one a teacher in a school there, occupied a room together. They lay frightened in bed, when a bolt of lightning split through the ceiling of the bedroom and shot down the headpost of their iron bed. The bed was shot against a wall a yard away with force almost sufficient to pitch out the occupants. The lightning burned a long streak through the carpet and the floor, and then sank into the ground. The young ladies were uninjured, but prostrated.

An exactly similar accident happened at the home of William Tocher, a blacksmith, some distance away. Lightning came through the roof and knocked the brass knob from the post of his iron bed clear across the room. The floor was burned and Tocher badly scared, but not hurt.

The electrician in charge of Brown's Light Works ran in as the lights were fusing out and shut off the current. As he stood by a dynamo a stroke of lightning flashed into the building over a disconnected wire and stretched him senseless. He finally recovered himself and was not injured.

Lightning ran into McIntosh's saloon on a telephone wire and shattered a large mirror on the back bar. All the phones in town were disabled. Rain in torrents followed the lightning. A. G. Boggs, a mining man, returns from Siskiyou with news that the storm there was more terrible than reported. In the country around Yreka dozens of homes were partly unroofed by lightning and cattle were killed. At Etna a man refused $40 for a cow, and in a short time it was stark dead. The burning of a $3,000 barn and machinery at the Rostell ranch was the heaviest single loss.

The forest presents a strange sight with its burned and fallen trees.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors have pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

WHITE AND RED

Pale blood—pale face—poor health; Scott's Emulsion—red blood—rosy face—good health; that's the order of events.

Our first lines give a condensed history of many cases, chiefly young girls at school. For some reason girls of that age are frequent sufferers from pale blood—a real blood starvation.

Scott's Emulsion, a clean, white medicine, makes rich, red blood and rosy faces. It is blood food.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

Measuring a Man in the Senate.

The venerable Senator Pettus of Alabama is one of the most genial and popular, as well as one of the most influential members of the body to which he belongs. To an acquaintance who was congratulating him upon the completeness with which he had suppressed in debate a bumptious Senator, the Nestor of the Senate explained:

"Well, suh, it's like this. When a new Senatah assuahs the Senate of the United States that he knows more about the pending question than all the rest of them put together, they believe him. When he repeats that assu'ance next day about an entirely different question, their acquiescence is tinged with incredulity. When, on the thudh day, he renews it about a thudh question, their suspicions ah aroused. And when, on the fo'th day, he says the same thing about a fo'th question, unrelated to any of the othahs, they know he is a liah."—New York Times.

Stood Death Off

E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once foiled a grave digger. He says: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills disease germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50c at Lee Beall's drug store.

HOUSEWORK

Too much housework wrecks women's nerves. And the constant care of children, day and night, is often too trying for even a strong woman. A haggard face tells the story of the overworked housewife and mother. Deranged menses, leucorrhœa and falling of the womb result from overwork. Every housewife needs a remedy to regulate her menses and to keep her sensitive female organs in perfect condition.

WINE OF CARDUI

is doing this for thousands of American women to-day. It cured Mrs. Jones and that is why she writes this frank letter:

Glendeane, Ky., Feb. 18, 1901.

I am so glad that your Wine of Cardui is helping me. I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I am doing my own work without any help, and I washed last week and was not one bit tired. That shows that the Wine is doing me good. I am getting fleshier than I ever was before, and sleep good and eat hearty. Before I began taking Wine of Cardui, I used to have to lay down five or six times every day, but now I do not think of lying down through the day. MRS. RICHARD JONES.

All Married and Have Families

A Salem man tells a story on an Eastern Oregon hotel keeper, but the fact is patent that the same does not apply to any hostlery in Lakeview. It is probably in Harney county. The story teller says several gentlemen were sitting around the hotel fire one evening discussing the improvements being made in the town. "Have you heard of the improvement our landlord is going to make?" inquired one of the guests. The hearers said they had not, when the guest averred that he was going to put in an elevator. Asking how he was going to run it, the guest said that was easy—he was going to put pedals on the bed bugs and let them run it. This enraged the landlord, who declared in a loud and excited tone of voice that there was not a "single bed bug" in the house. "I am willing to admit there is not a single bed bug," said the guest, "for they are all married and have large families."

Owes His Life to a Neighbor's Kindness.

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throught Mercer and Summer counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhœa; was attended by two physicians who gave him little if any relief, when a neighbor learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours. Headache kills, not necessarily suddenly, but SURELY. It preys upon the intellectual powers more than we realize. It consumes the vitality faster than nature can replenish it, and we cannot tell just what moment a temporary or complete aberration of the mind will result. Headache and pain should be promptly removed—but properly. Many pain cures are more harmful than the pain. Beware. If you would be safe, take

Dr. Miles' Pain Pills.

"As a result of neuralgia I lost the sight of one eye, and the pain I have endured is incomprehensible, being unable to take opiates on account of nausea." A friend gave me one of Dr. Miles' Pain Pills and it promptly relieved me. I then purchased a box and now my trouble is gone. They have also cured my daughter of nervous headache, and I heartily recommend them to others."—W. J. CORLEY, Bremond, Texas.
