

LAKE COUNTY BUNCH GRASS

Mr. Bottom Comes to Lake County and Sees Things Different From Other People.

Here is a real pretty story from the Portland Telegram that will make the residents of Lake County smile at its simplicity and wonder at the genius of the Nehalem man for seeing things as others don't see them. However, it is to be taken for granted that Mr. G. C. Bottom, the Nehalem story teller, knows whereof he speaks, and has discovered some secrets that were guarded well from the Lakeview people. An Examiner representative will go out tomorrow to find that "preliminary which runs right through the town of Lakeview", and endeavor to get at the "Bottom" facts. We will also look for the great bunch grass region that the Nehalem man found. Well, here's the story and it's interesting:

G. C. Bottom, a Nehalem farmer, returned this morning from Lakeview, where, with a party of six others from Astoria, he took up a timber claim. Mr. Bottom had lived in the Nehalem Valley, west of Portland for 14 years, while all around him was a forest so dense that he did not appreciate the value of standing timber. In the rush of recent years he even located Eastern people who desired to take up timber claims near his homestead, but he never realized that a quarter section of timber would be a good thing to own himself, until the last timber claim in the Nehalem country was taken up. Then he concluded to do the next best thing, and so he traveled over 500 miles to Lake County, in the southeastern quarter of the state, to get himself a claim on which yellow pine grows.

His party obtained a private conveyance at Hornbrook, Cal., to take them over the 105 miles of stage road to Drews Valley, where each of them secured 160 acres by paying a cruiser $100 apiece to be located.

The woods over there are full of Eastern people, who are searching for timber lands. Mr. Bottom said this morning. These come in from the railroad in squads of from ten to twenty, and evince no hesitation in making their selections. By Christmas, he thinks, all the available timber land in that region will have been taken up. The country is rather elevated, being a Southern spur of the Blue Mountains, and the timber is not so dense as in the wooded portions of Western Oregon. The average amount of timber on a quarter section over there, he thinks, is about 3,000,000 feet, and the trees are far enough apart to permit sheep grazing. Bunchgrass grows all over that section, and there is very little undergrowth, except and edible plant known as "snow bush." The danger of forest fires is very small, as the bark in the yellow pine trees is always green on the outside, and there is little to burn on the ground but bunchgrass. "You can't chip off the bark to start a fire with over there as you can in the Nehalem country" he said, "and although fires rage in the grass quite often, the trees are not injured in the least."

The people of Lakeview expect two railroads in the near future. The Great Central which is to be built from Salt Lake to Coos Bay has run its preliminary lines right through the town, and a branch of the Southern Pacific is building in from Reno, Nev. The timber lands of the region are therefore expected to raise in value. In fact, some claims are being held now as high as $2500 and $3,000 although the cost of obtaining title from the Government does not exceed $600. The cruiser is usually paid $100 for his services in pointing out a desirable quarter; the Government price is $2.50 an acre, or $400 in all, and the incidental expenses of travel and proving up amount to $100 more.

MIRROR, SCALES, ETC.

There was a man. And his mirror said "sallow skin." And the scales said "losing weight." And his friends did wag their heads as he passed by. But being a prudent man he forthwith swallowed daily certain pleasant doses of Scott's Emulsion.

Then his mirror said "ruddy face." And the scales sunk beneath his weight. And his friends looked upon him with amaze.

The country is now a sheep pasture and the sheepowners over there say there will be no difficulty in the owners of the land leasing their quarters for sheep ranges at figures that will more than pay taxes and interest on the cost, so Mr. Bottom does not consider it necessary to sell his quarter should he desire to hold on. Mr. Bottom has a method in his madness, hasn't you Mr. Bottom?

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of cough in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croaky cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.

His Life Saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"B. L. Byer, a well known cooper of this town, says he believes Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life last summer. He had been sick for a month with what the doctors call bilious dysentery, and could get nothing to do him any good until he tried this remedy. It gave him immediate relief," says B. T. Little, merchant, Hancock, Md. For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.

Still Dead.

A preacher used to tell the following: He was in Appanoose county, Iowa, preaching, when he stopped at a farm house to get dinner. While eating, the lady inquired his business, and he replied: "I'm hunting the lost sheep of Israel." She left the room and in a few minutes returned with her husband when she said: "This man is hunting a lost sheep and I'll bet that old long wool ram that's been around here is his'n."

"No sister, you don't understand me. I'm hunting sinners; those for whom Christ died." "And is he dead?" asked the woman. "Yes," replied the man of God, astonished at her ignorance, "Oh, yes, long ago."

"There now, old man, I told you we'd die in ignorance for not taking a newspaper."

Owes His Life to a Neighbor's Kindness.

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhea; was attended by two physicians who gave him little if any relief, when a neighbor learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours. For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.
