LAKEVIEW, OREGON, SEP. 25, 1902.

H. C. Fleming is boring for artesian water on his ranch near New Pine Creek, with excellent chances of success. The clay and gravel taken out at a depth of 60 feet give evidence that a hard clay body will be found eventually, and if such be the case he believes he will strike a flow. He has casing to go down 100 feet, and it is to be hoped he will strike a flow in that distance. One successful experiment in Lake county means many others, and many others will increase the wealth of farms in this county. Mr. Fleming informed The Examiner that he believed he would be successful in striking a flow.

Four Shropshire bucks, very handsome specimens of the sheep family, were brought to Lakeview last Sunday. These bucks were imported from England by John Sparks of Reno, and were bought by S. B. Chandler of Crooked Creek. Mr. Chandler later turned them over to Willis Barnum, and a few days ago the latter sold them to J. M. Thompson, the Modoc sheepman. The four bucks will weigh in the neighborhood of a half ton. Mr. Thompson will keep them in his stud.

The Republicans of Modoc in convention assembled last week nominated the following county ticket: Superior Judge, N. A. Cornish; Sheriff, W. A. Odert; County Clerk, L. S. Smith; Auditor and Recorder, E. G. Scammon; Tax Collector, Fred Bush; District Attorney, E. C. Bonner; Treasurer, M. Pinkney; Assessor, D. E. Mulkey; Superintendent of schools, Miss Eva Spargur; Coroner, Dr. Meredith; Surveyor, A. M. Green.

The championship fight between Young Corbett, featherweight champion of the world, and Terry McGovern, from whom Corbett wrested that honor, to have taken place at Louisville, Ky., last Monday night was declared off owing to the threat of the Governor of the State, who declared that the fight should not take place. The next step that will be taken in Kentucky will be to prohibit the Colonels from drinking anything but water. Then there will be a fight.

Alonso Tucker, a third-rate colored prize fighter, formerly of Redding, Cal., last week committed a criminal assault upon a white woman, Mrs. Ben Dennis, at Marshfield, Coos Co., last week. He was afterward shot and captured and hurriedly strung up by a mob. Tucker was conducting a school of physical culture at Marshfield.

The Examiner neglected to state last week in announcing the change in the time schedule of the Southern stage, that a stop is made on Saturday nights at Alturas. Every other day in the week the stage runs without a night stop over between Lakeview and the railroad. The Saturday night stop in Alturas includes Sunday and Sunday night, travel being resumed Monday morning.

Ben Swingle, who has been in the employ of Dave Edler, and who assisted in driving the Edler sheep into Klamath County, arrived here last week. Mr. Swingle says that he was not molested, neither were any of the employees of Edler, by the "Bad Lands" people who are guarding the range.

John Briles and wife of Davis Creek were here last week. Mr. Briles brought up a big load of the finest tomatoes ever sold in this market. He is one of the men who owns a garden spot in this far northern country, and by his industry is making it a valuable property.

The Alturas Fair has been postponed, in order to give outside horses a chance to be in attendance. The dates of the Lassen and Modoc district fairs coming so close together, it was thought advisable to change the date of the latter. The Modoc Fair will open Oct. 6th.

Justice Horace Gray, for twenty years on the United States supreme court bench, is dead at Nahant, Massachusetts.

THE GREAT FOREST FIRES

A Terrible Holocaust in Which Half a Hundred People Lost Their Lives up North.

Reports from the fire-stricken districts near Kalama, Washington, continue to grow worse. The charred remains of thirty-eight people who perished in the great forest fires have already been found, and many others are missing. At one place the remains of a burned wagon, the roasted remains of a team of horses and the dead bodies of nine people, tell a sickening tale of the unsuccessful attempt of a party of pleasure seekers to escape from the flames. Many people saved their lives by jumping into the Lewis river. About sixty people camping near the base of Mt. St. Helena were saved by taking to the water on a raft of poles and logs.

About 140 sections of the finest timber in Cowlitz county has been burned over. The property loss is a million dollars. Forty families are homeless so far as learned. But two houses are left standing on the upper Lewis river.

In Oregon and Washington it is estimated that a million and a half dollars worth of property has been destroyed by forest fires in the past two weeks. It will not be known how many people are dead until reports from the remote districts are in.

The estimate of property loss does not include the standing timber, but covers sawmills, houses, barns, crops, cord wood and farm implements. Thousands of acres of timber have been burned over, but the destruction of green timber has not been heavy. Relief is being hurried to those who have lost their homes and crops. The districts where the greatest destruction occurred were Lents Springwater and Bridal Veil, Oregon, and Fifth Plain, Lewis River and Elma in Washington. In all these places it is estimated 5000 people are out of shelter.

The Interior Department has telegraphed the Superintendent of the Forest Reserves in Washington to employ additional men to guard the forest reserves in that state against the fires now raging there.

Later reports give the list of dead at 58.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from Pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of Consumption. After taking, she slept all night.
